Thread: Destiny Players: When did you start to do high level raids/quests?

I'm currently level 25 and I've had the game for 5 days or so, so I'm really new. I'm also out of things that are below my level by a lot, so I was trying the Fist of Crota and other similar beginner quests, but I've been finding them really fucking hard.

What should I do to prepare myself? I noticed in videos they have better guns, maybe go back and do more strikes/crucible?

Hard? Are you doing it solo? If so try doing it with friends.

Edit: At your level I would say do strikes to get to about a 28 and then have some friends backpack you through Crota for better gear. Then start doing some quest from the reef. Rinse and repeat and you can be 32 in no time.

Yeah, I've just been doing everything solo. I don't even know how to invite people to the game
