free games forum refugees is looking for mature, active members. moderation positions may be available for the right person.

recently the site has been pretty inactive, i'm looking for ways to increase my traffic and grow in registered users. all feedback is appreciated.

maybe a better design and a more clear domain

I feel like your trying to create a satirical forum layout/theme scheme like the SA forum has on their Comedy Gold Mine/ Comedy Gas Chamber sections. You shouldn't really do this though since it will probably drive most of your traffic away.

Invest in a clean, professional theme and save the whole Web 2.0 layout for when you have a strong userbase.

Also that domain name cannot be good for SEO so maybe invest in another name? On first glance no one may know what FGFugees means. Your domain really reflects your website.

Terrible name.

Terrible domain.

Terrible design.

Terrible layout.
