Thread: [\[VN\] What to play next?](#)

severos - June 25, 2015, 4:26 pm

I've just finished my second VN(Nekopara) and I'm getting really into those, first VN was (Hoshizora no memoria).

Nekopara had really nice art while the story wasn't really up to my expectations, was wishing for more Cinnamon and Maple but got disappointed ??

Hoshizora no memoria had really nice story, specially liked all the stories about stars, also I really liked the sound tracks.

Based on those 2 VNs, what VN you suggest me to play next??

Thanks in advance.

Oh god Nekopara wasn't very well written at all. I stopped after a little bit. Was too cliché and predictable.

I also don't get the point of a visual novel. Why not watch an anime or read the manga? Just wondering lol.

Nekopara story is really predictable, but the art was nice.

I am watching anime, actually watch list is enough to spend a month or two watching, but I like to change what I do from time to time, that's why it took me couple weeks to finish nekopara while I could have finished it in less than a week.

wanko to kurasou is a really nice VN. i and many here would recommend it that or you could start on the great Monmusu quest parts 1,2 & 3

The Fruit of Grisaia.

It's on Steam. I got it, and I love the Grisaia series :3

Clannad, Katawa Shoujo, Grisaia, and some more I forgot the names of.

Find anything that fits your fancy on <https://vndb.org/>

I'd go with Nonon and Supa's recommendations.

Found some more I have saved. These are good and I've played through almost all of them at least once.

This, Grisaia no Kajitsu, but umm the steam version is censored. So you're missing out on some glorious hentai scenes and a few scenes where they put clothes on the women where they aren't supposed to have it which makes those a little bit funny. As a whole it's not much though.

Anyway probs the best VN out there imo so enjoy that. It's long too.

Sure, illegally. Getting them legally is definitely going to cost money and some probably don't have an english translation either. So torrent i guess

I actually download the stuff I want from torrents mostly, and if I liked it I buy it for later play, sometimes just donate without buying, depends on price mostly.
