Thread: Having some spare PayPal, giving away for good reasons

Larsenpower - July 1, 2015, 6:42 am

As I have some spare PayPal, I will be giving some away for a good reason.

By this I mean, if you are a few dollars or cents off of buying something, I might be able to help you.

Not just giving away money to someone who doesn't need it. You must have a good reason.

Post on the thread why you need a little, and how much you need. I will shoot you a PM if I can help.

Total given out: $13.

Datageni - July 1, 2015, 6:56 am

I'm in need of approximately two dollars (1,83$ to be exact), because I need to renew my domain which expires in four days. I usually make money on Fiverr but I'm not able to check-out anytime soon, so I need to come up with some other way to earn two dollars.

That's why I'd really be glad if you could give me a hand. I totally understand if I'm asking for too much.

I'm sorry. This is made for the UB3R members because they have contributed with donations to the forums, but also with some HQ content

Am 3$ short on renewing my hosting. Very nice giveaway you are doing here!

ciocan - July 1, 2015, 8:09 am

I dont have any good reason for a small amount. A good reason probably will require more then a few dollars...

Maybe you can help me with something else that will not require money, if you have the knowledge how to create a mail server.

edit:

i didn't realize that is only for ub3r

This is a cool way to give out money. Props OP.

I'm actually just saving up for Ub3r. I'd accept any donation you're willing to contribute, it's going straight to my Ub3r fund. I'm about $20 short right now.

Either way, thanks for contributing to the community.
