

Forum:Hack Forums

Thread: What makes a good niche or how do you find a good niche? jacktheturtle - July 9, 2015, 8:31 am

New to CPA and PPD, I am looking for some guidance on what you guys use?

Gold - July 9, 2015, 12:21 pm

It's doesn't matter what you pick as long as you're the top 3 best at it. Think about it, as long as you can rank on google/youtube it will garner results.

Chris CPA - July 9, 2015, 12:22 pm

I'd say a good niche is a niche where you can earn a good amount of profit for the amount of time, and money invested into the niche. Anything can be a good niche if you know how to market it. You can even do a "how to train your duck to quack" niche, and believe me there will be people to pay to learn how to train their duck to quack.

jacktheturtle - July 14, 2015, 7:44 pm

(Jul 9, 2015 12:22 PM)Chris CPA Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) I'd say a good niche is a niche where you can earn a good amount of profit for the amount of time, and money invested into the niche. Anything can be a good niche if you know how to market it. You can even do a "how to train your duck to quack" niche, and believe me there will be people to pay to learn how to train their duck to quack.

I hear what you are saying but what makes you find that niche?

Evil Corp - July 14, 2015, 8:54 pm

The truth is that if somebody discovers an amazing method that is making them tons of money, they aren't going to share it with you! Stop reading and searching, and start DOING. The old methods work best, that's why they're still around! People think they can upload 5 videos to youtube and start making four-figure incomes every month and get sad when it doesn't work.. No!

The first two or three weeks that I started out I had only four popular videos on youtube making me $3-$7 every day from downloads. I kept thinking well this sucks, and I was reading this guide section ALL the time and searching google for methods on promoting these download links..

Well that is WRONG. This is a numbers game, it's all about how much work you put into it. You can read all the guides in the world but if you don't put them into action you won't make ANYTHING.

My advice to you is to pick one simple method (youtube, blogs+seo, facebook, ect.) and stick with it until you see results. They ALL give results if you do the work.

Imagine that each video I put onto youtube gets me only $0.30/day. So I put like, 5 videos on there and am making $1.50/day approximately. Fine.. But people think that since 5 videos was a lot of work and $1.50 is not much money at all, that they should be trying new methods.. Or maybe people are just scared of working. I don't know.

But imagine putting up 5 videos EVERY DAY and doing work like you're supposed to!! You will increase your earnings by $1.50/day EVERY DAY! So if you put 5 good videos up every day for only a month, you will be making those four figure incomes every month :).

It's all about numbers.. The more you DO instead of READ, the higher your income. Stop looking for better methods. The best methods are the old ones. There is no such thing as 'saturated' because the internet is growing so much every day and new opportunities are popping up everywhere. Fake beta access, key generators etc start small and learn the basics...Think outside the box.

jacktheturtle - July 14, 2015, 9:27 pm

(Jul 14, 2015 08:54 PM)Evil Corp Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) The truth is that if somebody discovers an amazing method that is making them tons of money, they aren't going to share it with you! Stop reading and searching, and start DOING. The old methods work best, that's why they're still around! People think they can upload 5 videos to youtube and start making four-figure incomes every month and get sad when it doesn't work.. No!

The first two or three weeks that I started out I had only four popular videos on youtube making me $3-$7 every day from downloads. I kept thinking well this sucks, and I was reading this guide section ALL the time and searching google for methods on promoting these download links..

Well that is WRONG. This is a numbers game, it's all about how much work you put into it. You can read all the guides in the world but if you don't put them into action you won't make ANYTHING.

My advice to you is to pick one simple method (youtube, blogs+seo, facebook, ect.) and stick with it until you see results. They ALL give results if you do the work.

Imagine that each video I put onto youtube gets me only $0.30/day. So I put like, 5 videos on there and am making $1.50/day approximately. Fine.. But people think that since 5 videos was a lot of work and $1.50 is not much money at all, that they should be trying new methods.. Or maybe people are just scared of working. I don't know.

But imagine putting up 5 videos EVERY DAY and doing work like you're supposed to!! You will increase your earnings by $1.50/day EVERY DAY! So if you put 5 good videos up every day for only a month, you will be making those four figure incomes every month :).

It's all about numbers.. The more you DO instead of READ, the higher your income. Stop looking for better methods. The best methods are the old ones. There is no such thing as 'saturated' because the internet is growing so much every day and new opportunities are popping up everywhere. Fake beta access, key generators etc start small and learn the basics...Think outside the box.

I hear what you are saying but there is only so far you can go without guidance. Why do you think education exists, so people can get those basic skills and apply them. I am searching for those basic niche and cpa tools, then I can apply them myself.

?clipse™ - July 14, 2015, 9:27 pm

You guys are making this complex for this poor fellow. Op, to find a niche, Think of something, like a game for example or a software that you can implement a Keygen for etc, requiring download and or content locking. Use

Google and search for games, newer games means hotter niches of course! Since less competitors.

After that, head over to: Adwords Keyword Planner @:

<https://adwords.google.com/KeywordPlanner>

To search the phrases and form keywords. Make sure the monthly searches for 1 keyword are atleast 5k+ for a stable niche. Then head over to Youtube, if You'll advertise on Youtube, and write the keyword, and see the amount of video results. If its 10-15k, that's a HOT Niche, If it's 20-40k, that's a medium niche, and 50K+

Is a saturated niche.

Saturated niches are great if you are able to beat your competitors, as there are usually a great volume of searches

for sat niches. It's just that there is a massive volume of competitors, which ofcourse, if you can SEO, and out rank them, it's not a problem!

Good luck on your earnings!

jacktheturtle - July 14, 2015, 9:30 pm

(Jul 14, 2015 09:27 PM)?clipse™ Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) You guys are making this complex for this poor fellow. Op, to find a niche, Think of something, like a game for example or a software that you can implement a Keygen for etc, requiring download and or content locking. Use

Google and search for games, newer games means hotter niches of course! Since less competitors.

After that, head over to: Adwords Keyword Planner @:

<https://adwords.google.com/KeywordPlanner>

To search the phrases and form keywords. Make sure the monthly searches for 1 keyword are atleast 5k+ for a stable niche. Then head over to Youtube, if You'll advertise on Youtube, and write the keyword, and see the amount of video results. If its 10-15k, that's a HOT Niche, If it's 20-40k, that's a medium niche, and 50K+

Is a saturated niche.

Saturated niches are great if you are able to beat your competitors, as there are usually a great volume of searches

for sat niches. It's just that there is a massive volume of competitors, which ofcourse, if you can SEO, and out rank them, it's not a problem!

Good luck on your earnings!Thank you so much, this is actually guiding! I am going to try and implement this!