Thread: Stub gets corrupted once crypted.

xHaazeEditz - July 12, 2015, 9:34 am

Hello HackForum users! I have problem where when I crypt my RAT the file will not run.

I am crypting njRAT with Morpheus crypter, I had previously been able to crypt my files successfully but now when I run the crypted file windows gives me the error that it has stopped working. I have tried crypting other RATs but still the same issue. I have also many different combinations of settings (making sure that injection is setup correctly) but still no success. I have contacted the seller but he is currently offline so I figured I might aswell post here to see if this has happened to anyone else.

Thanks in advance ?

Something is definitely up with Morpheus Crypter. Two days ago I could crypt my RAT and it would work but yesterday I tried and I began getting the program is not working error. The stub works fine straight out of NanoCore, but after crypting it, it breaks. The Morpheus Crypter thread was supposed to be locked until July 7th due to a pause from Mora Perito, but it has been much longer than that, the thread is still locked and stickied. I wonder when they will get back and fix this issue, hopefully soon.

"This is paused till 7 July. Because of this delay till 7 July I will add extra days to all three month licenses.

-Mora."

Yeah I agree, something is definitely up. I have downloaded the new update and still my crypted file does not work. I no longer get the error but file just does not run, it seems.

It must be the crypter as the non crypted file works perfectly, like I said.

Glad to see I'm not the only one with the issue though.

Are you still get the issue with the new update? The file seems to open but the crypted stub seems to be broken.

Yeah, the coder updated it last night. However the crypter still seems to be broken.

It could be a stub update mistake. You should contact the owner instead of making a thread

As I said, I have contacted the owner and he replied a couple of hours ago telling me that there is a new update out and it should be working now, which it isn't. The only also tends to be online when I am offline so communication is difficult.

I have PM'ed the owner but I thought I should post a thread here to see if anyone else was having the same problem as me.

Are you activating melt or boot on both stub and crypter, because that could cause a problem, other than that, may be a software problem.

Best of luck with sorting it out.
