SpotDown V2

Hey guys, so I posted this in the C# section, so I thought I should post it here since some of you may find this quite useful.

If you havent seen previous thread about SpotDown, please take a look at that first:

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=4506105>

So yeah! Blah Blah Blah, Watch the video XD

[Video: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=j7DNG2O2xsk>]

ScreenShots

Features:

Now Gets Spotify: Album name, Album artwork and Artist name (No more messy looking music albums)

Actually gets the highest bitrate song this time

Gets all songs (last version wasn't able to download some songs if they went found)

Drag and Drop songs

Easy to use

Open Source

Since this is open source, i would love it if you would help contribute to it on GitHub if you have any ideas or features we could add.

If you have any ideas or features but don't know how to implement them, just comment them down below and I will try my best to implement them.

If you find any bugs please report them on the GitHub page here

To compile this yourself you will need a YouTube API key, you can get that from here

<https://developers.google.com/youtube/v3/getting-started>

A little bit of info

This works the same way SpotyDL worked, in very basic terms it gets song names and then finds the highest quality song and downloads it from external search engine websites. This does NOT get the song from spotify itself.

You can, but you need to be premium and it only saves in the program or app, so you dont get a MP3 file to take with you

With this, you can have a free account and download all your playlists and songs for free :)

Yeah thats fine :) but if you have any improvements you can just contribute them to the current project :)

Duyere - July 15, 2015, 3:56 am

Excellent work! I'll be definitely using this.

Klink - July 15, 2015, 9:13 pm

Exactly what I needed. Do you need premium or can you do it from a free account?

Update - You don't need a premium account, but sometimes it only downloads about 4 seconds of a song...

DarkN3ss61 - July 15, 2015, 11:50 pm

Updated to fix issues with users on 32-bit computers :D

Freerunning - July 15, 2015, 11:56 pm

Thanks for this man I'll study it.

Not bad but I just rather listen to music from Spotify.

I have a prem account.

H0lydd0s - January 6, 2016, 2:33 am

does this still work im in dire need of a playlist downloader

kairax - January 6, 2016, 11:50 am

Nice share, will probably need to use it soon

mamapapa - March 24, 2016, 12:42 pm

Lol, incredible, thanks, i will used this.

Interesting. Not sure if Spotify is one of my favorite things but, eh; I'll give it a shot.

mamapapa - March 24, 2016, 9:27 pm

Meh, it's download songs from YouTube, not directly from Spotify...

Sad..
