Thread: Pirates Official Recruitment #2

eCoLoGy - July 17, 2015, 8:49 am

Note: This recruitment is opened for the next 7 days only. After that, I'll close it and keep it like that for some days/weeks, in order to get things organized with the new members.

Pirates, is a group of adventurers who sail the Seven Seas in pursuit of great knowledge of any type and friends from any kind.

Description: This is the Official Recruitment Thread of the Pirates Group.

If you want to be part of it, you can make your application here and wait to see if you get accepted or not.

Alternative: If you want to join Pirates just to wear the userbar, if you're lazy to make the application or even if you made the application but you were not accepted then you can buy a lifetime membership position.

Buy-ins will be limited and members that decide to go with a buy-in will still need to be approved by the Owner and Leaders.

You can find all the buy in information here: IN A FEW MONTHS

Application Requirements: No legitimate open or unresolved scam reports.

No LQP or Harassment Warnings.

No trolling or flaming other members.

Rules to know before apply: We don't ask you to be active every single day or week but at least from time to time we hope you make yourself useful as a Pirate.

Every 3 months we will randomly look into our members table and choose a few to check their activity.

As we said, we don't request you to be active every day or week but we do think that 3 months is plenty of time for you to make at least 1 post right?

If you for example get sick and need to go out for a long time like 1 year or so or if you go work to another country and you can't access HF for quite some time we won't kick you out.

We just request that you contact one of the Leaders to inform of your situation.

Note: If you get accepted you'll receive a PM from us. If we don't accept your application we won't say anything so if after a few days you don't get a PM then you'll know you were not accepted.

Also please don't PM us about your application. We know what we have to do.

What have you done for the community? (try to elaborate on this question): Well, I'm probably notorious for being the infamous "News Guy" on HF for posting in NaH daily. I've helped a lot of members get started on their journey on HF, answered questions they had regarding policy, accounts, etc.

What are you willing to do for the community within our group?: Get to know the people and hopefully be accepted and just generally get to be a true Pirate :)

Why should we select you to be part of our group?: I'm currently group less, and being a part of a group would be really nice and keep me busy.

Why do you want to join Pirates in particular?: I like that it has had no drama so far unlike other groups that I won't mention and I've heard good talk overall.

Thanks.

What have you done for the community? (try to elaborate on this question): I've done 3 giveaways, 1 with L33T and 2 with GiftAward/UB3R. I've also done some giveaways with some PayPal for people in need where I gave away like $30. I am trying to help people as good as I can in the iOS section. I don't have any special skills with hacking and so on but I know almost everything about iOS and Windows so I am helping with those topics as good as I can

What are you willing to do for the community within our group?: Everything that I have the skills to do. I would also be able to help people in need of a little money :p

Why should we select you to be part of our group?: I should be accepted into this group as I am a friendly guy. I am calm and cute. I would love to be a part of a smaller community on here so I could spent more time helping special people.

Why do you want to join Pirates in particular?: To be a part of a smaller community. I have been waiting for an oppurtunity to join such group as this as it has some of the most HQ and friendly members.

Thanks

What have you done for the community? (try to elaborate on this question): I'm trying to help people in PM with Whitehat stuff and also with setting up things like rats for free. Also done some giveaways and I leaked an api that people could use to check if a google/youtube account works that people can use in their cracker. Also created various free software.

What are you willing to do for the community within our group?: Create some software and help people with what they want and fullfill the needs of people in the group as much as I can help.

Why should we select you to be part of our group?: I'm active on HF and groupless so I'm going to be focusing on this group

Why do you want to join Pirates in particular?: Some friends are in here and it looks an awesome and friendly community

What have you done for the community?: Well I help around as much as I can when it comes to Ratting, E-whoring, rat/malware removal and alot of other stuff that is being asked on here.

I'm very knowlegable when it comes to computer hardware also as I have been working with computer since I was nine years old.

What are you willing to do for the community within our group?: Well I am willing to dedicate my time to help out anybody that is asking for assistance. And if i were to join this group.... well let's just say good bye to my social life, and hello 24/7 HF.

Why should we select you to be part of our group?: Well first of all, my name. It would be great to be in a group that has the same name as your account. And honestly, it would look really cool. I have also heard a lot of positive stuff about this group and how it has a growing community. I would love to be a part of that.

Why do you want to join Pirates in particular?: Honestly..... The group's name and my name. I mean, come on that's pretty funny and awesome.

What have you done for the community? (try to elaborate on this question): I helped Lokii develop a Spotify method which we gave out for free (doesn't work anymore). And I gave away some Netflix accounts to those who needed it.

What are you willing to do for the community within our group?: I will give pirates a discount on a new product I'm planning to release (if I get accepted). Also I would help people if they need some help.

Why should we select you to be part of our group?: I will be very active and I also believe that I will be useful to the group. And a good friend of mine is part of your group and I may not fall short compared to him.

Why do you want to join Pirates in particular?: As I said a friend of mine is a member and from what he said it's a great group with an awesome community.

What have you done for the community? (try to elaborate on this question): I like to help out mainly in the Investment Strategies and Markets section as I day trade in the Forex market so I hang around that section, but I also hang around in the The Lounge for more general threads that I can help out on, e.g. life, ideas, etc.

What are you willing to do for the community within our group?: I always like to help other HF members so I can always represent Pirates in a positive way from helping other members to just general good pirate behaviour.

Why should we select you to be part of our group?: I have a lot of time on my hands and have always wanted to contribute to a group. I can always help represent a positive, professional, but still fun group with ideas and helping other members out with projects or group projects.

Why do you want to join Pirates in particular?: I don't think I have seen any bad flaws with Pirates and would like to join a group that has an overall positive distinction. I could sit and type endless amounts of stuff, but the simple fact is I have a lot of spare time at the moment and would like to contribute to Pirates and help with the overall success of this group.

What have you done for the community? (try to elaborate on this question): To be frank i have not done much at all rather than answering some basic questions of some people and just reply to people's posts and trying my best to help them and even i am trying to be more high quality everyday. I always try to be as helpful as i can, i do not mind going out of the way to help someone in need. I will always try to be the best and bring the best out of me.

What are you willing to do for the community within our group?: I am willing to be more attentive towards helping people, i am learning something new everyday and i am even willing to teach something new every day.

Why should we select you to be part of our group?: I feel you must select me because i am a really good and active member, i feel i am high quality and i feel i must bring pride to the name of Pirates.

Why do you want to join Pirates in particular?: Well, i do not have an answer for this, everything i stated above says why i would like to join.

What have you done for the community? (try to elaborate on this question): What have I done for the community? Well, I try to help out as much as I can inside the Beginner Hacking section, and I also like to help out and answer question inside the RANF section if I can to help clear some things up for newer members. I always like to help put a smile on peoples faces no matter the circumstance.

What are you willing to do for the community within our group?: I am a very active member within subforums. Like take Instinct for example, with my one year with them, I have almost 3.5k posts within the subforum. I love meeting new members in the group and talking with them and laughing along side of them. The people who are active within the subforum are like family tbh. I know it can sound cliché but if there's a couple people that you talk to all of the time within the subforum for a year, you grow a sort of friendship.

Why should we select you to be part of our group?: I am a very kind person who loves to chat and socialize. I see a lot of chatty people that are a member of Pirates as well and I feel like I would fit in perfectly. This group is full of talented individuals from what I can see. I love making new friends and I feel like Pirates would be a good place to do so!

Why do you want to join Pirates in particular?: I see a new blossoming group with a lot of potential and a lot of people who love to have friendly conversations and I would love to be a part of it and make a lot of new friends. From the start I always thought this group was very interesting. Well, I came back from a 3 month vacation ban because of some non-HF issues and saw this new group. It looked fantastic and loaded with high quality members. Not to mention, the leaders are very kind too! I love the leniency in the activity part, however that will never be a problem for me as I am generally always active.

I would like to take this time to thank you for looking at my application. Even if I don't get accepted I appreciate you holding this recruitment and giving me a chance at becoming a member of such a wonderful group. ?

What have you done for the community? (try to elaborate on this question):

Well I try my best to contribute in the fields I know something about, If I run a service like the cracking mentoring I currently have up, I of course throw some vouch copies out there every once in a while, of course to make users more certain that they can trust that I give them a good service, but certainly also because I love to teach people what I know.

I try to be active in the hacking sections since this is a "Hackforums" and I try to be helpful where I can, I helped a user out by showing him he could use a tool in kali linux called pixiewps and that with this tool he would easily be able to obtain WPA-PSK passwords using the WPS PIN bruteforce function.

I also try if I have enough funds and I see someone in need to donate it to them, like I just did earlier 2.9$, I know it isn't much, but I dont have much.

What are you willing to do for the community within our group?:

Try to help wherever I can and I would definately teach whatever I know to users within the group who really wants to know something I can teach them, for free of course (:

I would also try to help the group by staying active in the subforum and by contributing to monthly giveaways if you have such a thing!

Why should we select you to be part of our group?:

I am who I am, I dont try to be someone I am not, I help where ever I can and whenever I can.

I always try to push the limit and I try to stay sharp and ready for anything!

I obtain and use pirate material and I have no shame about it, I live free and I spread love if I can!

Why do you want to join Pirates in particular?:

Viva la revolution, Pirate 4 life xD

Nah jokes aside, I have looked on every single group on HF and I must say Pirates to me seems like a very cool little "Pirate" community!

Thank you for reading my application.

Good luck with the group!

What have you done for the community? (try to elaborate on this question):

I primarily help out with graphic designs. I've done a few giveaways in the Graphic Resources forum, and I've helped out members with signatures/YouTube banners/etc. Beyond that, I help out members in constructing well-setup Minecraft servers. I've invested in a few servers to help kick-start their success, as well as providing paid plugins to members who need them. I haven't been doing so much lately, but I also helped people in need of a guide when cracking accounts. I've been providing them programs, configs, etc.

What are you willing to do for the community within our group?:

I'd be willing to help out the community like I'm doing now, but while representing Pirates. I would (hopefully) represent the high-quality reputation that Pirates currently has by doing both BTC and graphic design giveaways. And if any members were in need of services I can provide, I would happily do it free of charge (obviously).

Why should we select you to be part of our group?:

I feel like I should be selected to join this group because I hold myself to a high standard, and I feel like I can efficiently support the group by representing the high-quality reputation that it has. I also take pride in helping out members, whether they need advice/investments for a business, or they need help with personal issues. I'm always there.

Why do you want to join Pirates in particular?:

I know a few members in Pirates. but for the most part, the majority I haven't really talked to. I'd like to open myself up to another great, small community. I feel like I could learn a lot, but at the same time help others. It would be a mutual benefit; therefore, I'm eager to join this group. I'd also like to represent Pirates in a high-quality manner.

Thank you for reading my application, and thank you for your time.

What have you done for the community? (try to elaborate on this question): Well, over the years I have been on HF, I have shared my knowledge about crypto currency, minecraft server management, mobile gaming apps, and many other thing. Just recently I have been getting back into ewhoring and I have been helping out new and active members that post in the sub forum. Last year, I had a good crypto currency exchange service and provided many members with a reliable source to trade bitcoin, paypal, and omnicoin. I have also hosted many giveaways in the free services section. I also signed up for this lesson of HF about white hat things like malware analysis and hope to share my knowledge by helping other members and contributing even more to the community.

What are you willing to do for the community within our group?: Within the group, I will help the community with anything that needs to be done. This sounds vary vague, if if someone needs help, and I know about the topic, I will do my best to assist them. I can especially provide information about ewhoring and hopefully if I get accepted into the whitehat student sessions, share my knowledge about that and assist more members.

Why should we select you to be part of our group?: You should select me to be apart of Pirates because I am a very active, respectful, contributing member of the HF community. I'm always looking for new ways to give back because so many people have helped me on here and I have learned so much thanks to other members. I will continue to expand my knowledge and share with other people.

Why do you want to join Pirates in particular?: I like that it seems like a chill place compared to other user groups. I hope to make new friends with the group members and become apart of the pirate family.

Emilovic's Pirate Application

Username: Emilovic.

Age: 16 years old.

Gender: I'm a Male.

Country of Residence: I do live in Denmark.

What have you done for the community? (try to elaborate on this question): I help out wherever I can, whenever I can, hoping that someone would actually help me when I have troubles one day. We're all skilled at different subjects, so we can help each other in order to have a community. I have also created a few tutorials, but that is under the subject: Helping.

What are you willing to do for the community within our group?:

I am willing to put effort into bringing out the group name, doing giveaways in the name of the Pirates. Creating new products in the name of the Pirates. Donate to the Pirates. Talk with those who have a bad period in their life. Be active in the subforum, and so on.

Why should we select you to be part of our group?:

You should select me over others, since I am the perfect member to have in a group. I have been through so many things in life, and I do love to talk to people. I am not one of those greedy humans, I hate receiving. I love gifting, so having a lot of giveaways would actually make ME feel happy. While the rest is also enjoying their freebies. I would be a active member to have in the sub-forum. I am always ready to participate in a discussion.

Why do you want to join Pirates in particular?:

I am a former member of Fortune, the first group I got into. It crashed very quick, sadly. That means I am new to the whole thing about groups on HackForums, but I do really want to try. I want to join the Pirates since its very interesting, and I would like to participate in such a great community! I have personally seen a lot of people wearing the userbar. So you've probably got a TON of members. And one extra wouldnt hurt, right? :)

Thanks for reading my application, good luck to everyone who wrote a application!

What have you done for the community? :

My start on Hackforums was a little rough. I was just a regular member. I upgraded to L33t. I started my days here trying to learn Keylogging and RATing. I eventually started to work for UnknownLogger. It was a good paid experience for me. From their I learned how to do support for a product, handle money and have multiple interactions with members here on HF. I also did multiple contests as well. I am putting links to thread I spoke about above.

What are you willing to do for the community within our group?:

I am willing to give all the knowledge I have to this community. I would help out all the members however I can. I will also look out for everyone. I want to do more giveaways and contests under the Pirate name.

Why should we select you to be part of our group?:

You should select me as a member because...That statement actually sounds rude on my part. I feel like I am a good member is a better of saying it. I feel like I should be selected because I am a very down to earth kind of guy and I try to help everyone out. I believe I am a very loyal member to HF. Therefore I will dedicate my time to contribute to this group.

Why do you want to join Pirates in particular?:

I want to join Pirates because I think this a very good group on HF. Many of the groups are excellent, but Pirates really stands out among the many groups here on HF.

Good luck to all those who are also applying!

What have you done for the community? (try to elaborate on this question): I'll be honest with answering this question. I haven't done any huge giveaways or made people any graphics or anything like that, but I have been kind and shared my knowledge with as many users in need as I could. If someone has a question or needs help, I've always been there to assist them to the very best of my ability. By just viewing my post count you wouldn't expect that I'm much of a help, but if you look at my PMs I'm constantly PMing and talking to HF members on Skype about a viraioty of topics, most of which I'm sharing methods and helping users getting setup in many avenues of business.

What are you willing to do for the community within our group?: I'm more than happy to continue to help the community in the way that I've been. I'm slowly starting to settle into my method of money making and once it becomes more stable I'd be more than happy to host giveaways or community events.

Why should we select you to be part of our group?: I'm a big team player. I like leading from people more knowledgeable than myself and I like teaching anyone that wants to listen. I'm very active on forums and have been here for quite some time. I also plan on getting to be more active posting wise and I could adequately represent the group through HQ post. Overall I'm a nice guy that just wants to be around other people that are involved in this form to learn and teach anything I can.

Why do you want to join Pirates in particular?: I'd love to join this particular group because I've been searching for a good group to join for sometime now, but have always asked myself what group to join. I noticed a certain user trend on forums. Members from this group are always so helpful and kind through out this community and it really caught my eye. I want to be a part of such an HQ and prominate group such as this one!

What have you done for the community? (try to elaborate on this question): Contributed heavily to this community in terms of graphics. I have helped set a tone of critique in the RMG section, have owned and led groups dedicated to graphics, and have provided assistance to others. I have designed graphic suites for many groups in the past, and have designed things for Omni.

What are you willing to do for the community within our group?: I want to help the members within the group by teaching them how to get better at design, and be a positive influence on others.

Why should we select you to be part of our group?: I think I should be selected since I have lots of prior experience in groups, considering that I've owned and led them in the past. I'm also an older member with lots of experience on this forum.

Why do you want to join Pirates in particular?: I want to join so I can give back to others within the group and develop a sense of family and community in order to build up the reputations of others.

What have you done for the community? (try to elaborate on this question):

Rid the community of the stupid (Use common knowledge/sense to set people im the right direction). I enjoy helping others, and I love coding and gaming. Its what I do.

What are you willing to do for the community within our group?:

I am starting to learn programing, primarily python. I would be glad to be helping users in the coding section once I have established great knowledge of coding in generally and helping others with coding.

Why should we select you to be part of our group?:

I do not troll others, I am on this forums to learn, and then teach others wether it is on coding or helping others in general any way I can. I am not here to make money (Eventually) but am here to expand my knowledge and become a great coder not just coding in python but most popular languages as well. Python is the language I chose to be the first stepping stone that will lead me to learning complex languages like CPP and others, which In the future will lead to the start of my career. For now I am just learning and helping along the way.

Why do you want to join Pirates in particular?: It seems like a cool group so far, you guys dont really mention what the group primarily focuses on but nevertheless I would be glad to help others any way I can on behalf of Pirates or not.

(and a bunch of other threads)

What are you willing to do for the community within our group?:

I am willing to do whatever is needed for the community within our group.

If someone wants to get boosted in league (if they're like bronze and want to get into silver), I can help them out. If someone wants money (I'm the wrong person to ask lol). I can do anything ranging from giving people advice on their lives/love lives to middle manning a trade that someone has because they're skeptical about someone.

Why should we select you to be part of our group?:

Well, why shouldn't you select me to be apart of the group? I'm awesome. (kidding). As for why you should select me to be apart of pirates, I believe that I am a very friendly person who is willing to help out anyone in times of need. I also like to keep people entertained. If a conversation is getting boring/dull and nobody seems to be enjoying it, expect a couple of dank memes to be thrown into the conversation. I'm the type of person who is overly confident as well as entertaining (oh, and amazing. Don't forget about that).

Why do you want to join Pirates in particular?:

What have you done for the community? (try to elaborate on this question):

I'm mainly active within the counter strike section. I have provided some of my entire source codes for cheats. I also think I'm fairly friendly, I always try and attempt to help users with questions from game mechanics to cheat coding. I also did elo boosting for counter strike a while ago for free. I also do the odd giveaway or so.

What are you willing to do for the community within our group?:

I'm looking for a group of decent people, to be able to share and learn with as well as just to converse with people.

Why should we select you to be part of our group?:

To be perfectly honest, I'm not sure. I guess that is entirely subjective, so it's for you to decide. However, if I was in your position I would accept myself because I'm reasonably knowledgeable within my field and always try - and I feel successfully - not to be a cunt.

What have you done for the community? (try to elaborate on this question):

- Helped people in Health Wise, GTA, Sony Gaming, Runescape, and tons of other subforums.
- Helped out during Titans Carnival (Big HF event ?)
- Few tiny giveaways (Total about $100-200 I don't know tbh)
- Privately upgraded a few members

There's a lot more but I honestly don't know what to put in here

What are you willing to do for the community within our group?:

I'll keep a friendly attitude towards everyone that keeps a friendly attitude towards me.

I'll also try to keep my activity level high, from what I've heard the activity dropped a bit since after the last recruitment and I'll help change that :D

Why should we select you to be part of our group?:

What are you willing to do for the community within our group?:

Like in the list above, sharing my knowledge. I have many skills but unfortunately a master to none. =/ I don't have a high post count but I do spend a lot of time helping others via PM's, because like me, they like to be discrete. If you have a hacking/exploits section, that's where you will find most of my threads. It would be nice to share some private exploits within a group then to post it in public for all to see.

Why should we select you to be part of our group?:

I helped lead a group in the early 90's called "I.H.R" (Internet Hackers Revolution)

[I'm Celebrating 15 Years in Hacking:]_www.the-hacking-community.iscool.net_]

Quote:<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=2802135> I left the group in 2000 but during that 6 years I learned how to get members to contribute more by setting up a military style ranking system. The only way to move up in rank is by how much you help/contribute to the group, the higher the rank earns you respect from group members. Non contributors/Lamers will be removed.

By all means I'm not telling you what to do, This is just an working idea that worked for me to get the most out of each member because it gives them something to work towards.

Why do you want to join Pirates in particular?:

*passion towards their own field of expertise.

*group of dedicated people.

*help and make a difference on hack forums.

*what you have done for hack forums.

*active and helpful members.

What have you done for the community? (try to elaborate on this question): At the moment, I try to release as much as possible and plan on a bit of tutoring in c# and possibly vb.net once I get to a bit higher skill level. I know they were daunting when I first started, and I believe a tutor would've made things easier. But yeah, I've been trying to release more code-related stuff. I also try to be helpful in most posts that I make. HF has enough trolls.

What are you willing to do for the community within our group?: I'd love to try to start a few who're nervous to start get into coding. It's great fun and a final push can really get you into it.

Why should we select you to be part of our group?: I try to be one of the more helpful members around here.

Why do you want to join Pirates in particular?: It seems like a lively group with a great community. I can also use a One Piece avatar because I'd be in AnimeFAN! and Pirates. I know it's not a coding group, but it seems like a friendly and active community. I do other things, I swear!

What have you done for the community? (try to elaborate on this question): Last year I rented a small dedi from OVH and gave out free web hosting to over 100 users, though there's no proof of this ever happened since I junked most of my old threads. Now I usually go about helping new users and getting them accustomed to HF's culture.

What are you willing to do for the community within our group?: Participate in any group projects that are going on, and giveaways in the name of the group.

Why should we select you to be part of our group?: I'm friendly, I like meeting new people and I don't do drama.

Why do you want to join Pirates in particular?: I've never seen any drama involving Pirates, and like that.

What have you done for the community? (try to elaborate on this question): I've helped several users in the Innuendo section with relationship/girl problems, I've had Spotify giveaways that were unfortunately junked due to being against the rules I assume. I have always tried to help fellow HF members in anyway possible.

What are you willing to do for the community within our group?: I'm honestly willing to do whatever it takes. Whether it be finding something to giveaway, or posting tutorials on knowledge I have. I definitely plan on continuing to help users however possible.

Why should we select you to be part of our group?: Obviously I'm not the best user on HackForums, but I consider myself to be a pretty friendly person who can easily befriend the lucky members in Pirates. I'm good at adapting to new situations fast, whatever it may be. It'd be nice to meet some friends in Pirates and share my knowledge while learning at the same time

Why do you want to join Pirates in particular?: I would love to learn more knowledge that the users in Pirates have while teaching what I know to the other members at the same time.

What are you willing to do for the community within our group?: I am willing to get improved in any subject possible and this will be positive for the community too I always dreamt of paying back the knowledge this forum offered, offers and will continue offering to me by helping others for example making free and open source projects offer some of my knowledge to others etc.

Why should we select you to be part of our group?: As I usually mention I really don't like talking about myself because I want to let others criticize me and build their thoughts about me if I must say something I consider myself a respectful and kind person who will be able to absorb knowledge as an input and offer results as an output.

Why do you want to join Pirates in particular?: In order to earn as much knowledge as possible and I believe this can be achieved through communication and discussion with the pirates. In order to build something with your knowledge you have to build a strong and stable base and that's what I think that pirates can help me in What have you done for the community? (try to elaborate on this question): I'm often in innuendo giving advice to people who need it. Myself and another member made a relationship help desk in innuendo which is often used, mostly in pm and I've helped quite a few members with whatever struggles they may have in that regard. In the past I've done a free graphics thread and over time I'm wanting to learn new skills to do more for the community.

What are you willing to do for the community within our group?: I'm willing to be a laid back member, who's chilled and friendly. I'll give advice to anything I can and contribute to discussion. I'm willing to help out others and learn new skills so that I can give back to the community.

Why should we select you to be part of our group?: I believe I should be given a chance to be a part of this group as I'm a laid back member as said above. I'll participate in discussion and help out wherever I can with whatever the group needs to get done. I get along with pretty much anyone I talk to and it'd be nice to make a few friends along the way.

Why do you want to join Pirates in particular?: Pirates appears to be an organised, HQ group who has it's set intentions and it'd be nice to be able to be a part of the group to grow with it as its in its early stages.

Thanks for the chance.

What have you done for the community? (try to elaborate on this question):

To be honest. Not a lot. But only a very small percentage of users here have actually done something for the community as a whole, e.g. the blokes that made Omnicoin. I have hosted my fair share of giveaways but other than that I have just posted around the place and talked to mates in private messages. I had a couple of large tutorial threads but I deleted them after I thought I left the site for good.

Most people saying they have done a lot in the community, really have not. They are just trying to look good. Doing a few giveaways does not all of a sudden make you a saint.

What are you willing to do for the community within our group?:

I would be willing to post actively in the sub forum and chill with you guys. From what I gather that is what the group is about.

Why should we select you to be part of our group?:

I am active and easy to talk to. I know some shit about some stuff and have some weird opinions on some other stuff. I am not afraid to speak my mind so that can draw some interesting conversations and/or debates. And that is about it.

Why do you want to join Pirates in particular?:

Quote:Pirates, is a group of adventurers who sail the Seven Seas in pursuit of great knowledge of any type and friends from any kind. I think this sounds good. That is the reason I would like to join. I want a smaller community to join and talk with mates and I believe this will be like that.

Username: Febreze

Age: 18

Gender: Male

Country of Residence: United States of America

What have you done for the community? (try to elaborate on this question): To be completely honest with you, I haven't done "much" for the HF community. I always try to offer my assistance in helping the members in need(the ones that are down). It's not that I gain pleasure from helping certain members in that way, but it's always a good feeling to make someone feel better about themselves. We all know the feeling of doubt and pain, and I want to be the kind of guy that can help whomever get through those difficult times. Very early this morning, I posted a thread, here shouting out whoever is trying to get over a loved one or to anyone that just needs advice. People need to understand that lives moves forward at all times. I'm the kind of person that'll be there for you during your worst and make an attempt to flip your mood into happiness. People deserve to be happy, and that's why I'm here. I'm Febreze and I'll make you smell super good, and feel great about yourself. I'm a helper.

What are you willing to do for the community within our group?: If I were to be accepted in Pirates, I would probably be doing the same that I am, helping the members in need. I will probably do basic giveaway that nearly everyone does($$ giveaways), just because people have given me quite a bit and I should return the favor. There's no certainty that I'll help the Pirates, but it's a fact I'll help the community with their problems REGARDLESS.

Why should we select you to be part of our group?: There's no right or wrong answer here to be completely honest. There's no way to know for sure what I should say here. I took a one second to look at this question, and I'm just typing the next word that's forming in my head. I'm giving no thought whatsoever to what I'm typing, so it's probably gibberish by now. I am in no way saying you should select me, but I'm a very caring member, who can be VERY positive for those in need and I can make you smell way better when you feel like shit. Check the username, I'm fucking Febreze.

Why do you want to join Pirates in particular?: I've seen many members from the Pirates community around Hack Forums and most of them are very generous. I'd like to be apart of a group that shows generosity, kindness and friendship. That's what a community is all about. Respecting each other and being kind to one another.

Other: I don't expect this looking very HQ to most of you members, but the qualities and traits I listed above are pretty much all I have. Good luck to all participants. Deuces!

(try to elaborate on this question): I didn't write any tutorials yet, but I have helped community a lot with personal questions like how to make money, where to begin and questions like that. I also sold one of the better ebooks recently and I helped quite amount of people to make money online as well so I would consider it helping as well. :)

What are you willing to do for the community within our group?: Post all my sales thread on behalf of Pirates, stay active within the friendly community and help other people with their problems as much as I can.

Why should we select you to be part of our group?: Because I'm friendly, nice and understanding person. I don't flame nor insult people just because internet is letting me do that. I wouldn't be that much of contribution, but I could bring a positive spirit into the group :)

Why do you want to join Pirates in particular?: Because it's not like other groups, it's not accepting only famous members because of their rep/awards. It accepts people because of their true intentions and potential, no matter if they are new or old members. I want to see how it is to be a

I haven't done a whole lot in terms of giving back but I help in small ways here and there. Privately give free graphics to random users sometimes. I mostly focus on the sale of Social Media accounts when using this site so it's hard for me to say I've done anything majorly significant.

What are you willing to do for the community within our group?: Provide some bitchin' discussions and make friends with anyone I can. Also I'm not terrible with graphics so there's that.

Why should we select you to be part of our group?: I like to think I'm a fairly nice guy and I'm as honest as they come.

Actually I did not something BIG for the community but I try to help as much as I can being friendly and polite. I 'm a lot on the marketplace section, I want to help everyone I can with the small knowledges I know. I owned a Steam Acc Shop for a while when I was L33T, I will open a CSGO Skins shop very soon with a partner.

What are you willing to do for the community within our group?:

I'd like to share my knowledges in Coding, im an IT apprentice and I can share what I learn and learn what you share to the rest of the group. Show to the other members that this group is awesome and they can trust use.

Why should we select you to be part of our group?:

I'd like to learn with you, find good friends and help everyone I can.
I really want to be helpful to everyone and be in the lounge to laugh with you.

Why do you want to join Pirates in particular?:

I could learn a lot with you since you know more than me and you seem to be very friendly with all of us. Pirates members are awesome and I know that we can trust in them.

What have you done for the community? (try to elaborate on this question):

I have been trying to help improve the botnet section, and inform the members. Too many members in that section have misinformed knowledge and I have been striving to improve that. I also have, and still do provide and teach members hacking and penetration testing knowledge. I am quite knowledgeable in this field, and enjoy showing newer members to online security the way properly learn, and experiment with the subject.

What are you willing to do for the community within our group?:

I am willing to teach newer members various hacking techniques, show members how to do things and share my knowledge! Also, I can provide various members in the group with friendship, as I have been dormant on HF for a while and have decided to come back.

Why should we select you to be part of our group?:

You should select me to be part of your group because I am a very talented individual in the technical side, and I only post and share my idea's when they are high quality. I am a very large asset to the group, and I think I could help the group as much as it could help me.

Why do you want to join Pirates in particular?:

I want to join the Pirates because I am looking for friendly people to socialize with, and this group looks like the right place!

What have you done for the community? (try to elaborate on this question): Now I am in no means trying to use this as an excuse, but still being a fairly new member to this community, I feel I haven't yet been able to do a whole lot for this site as of now. That being said I have helped various people through either PMs or skype by giving pointers and tips about ewhoring or graphics. I have also given out various things such as xbox trials, netflix accounts, etc. to those that I felt actually needed them.

What are you willing to do for the community within our group?: Once I get back from my trip towards the end of august and have more time on my hands, I plan on doing multiple giveaways such as upgrading a few members or graphics giveaways. If I am accepted into the group, then those giveaways would also be under the Pirates name.

Why should we select you to be part of our group?: I definitely don't think I am the most high-quality or qualified member for this group, but I think I should be accepted because I am a trustworthy and laid-back guy who enjoys conversing with all types of people about all kinds of topics. Basically, I feel I would be a great addition to the Pirate family.

Why do you want to join Pirates in particular?: Now I am not trying to compare Pirates to any other group in particular, but in my opinion after having browsed the forums quite a lot, I feel that the members of Pirates are among the more high-quality members as well as being a laid back group of people. I feel like it completely suits my personality... Arrggggggg. Also I've had a thing for pirates since ages. AND I bet there isn't more than 2 girls in PIRATES. Possibly zero. So I would like to volunteer as tribute!!!

What have you done for the community? (try to elaborate on this question):Well, I have had several ideas in which I could contribute to the community, such as tutorials and giveaways, but never really had an aspiration, joining a group like Pirates would give me the boost needed to do this.

What are you willing to do for the community within our group?:Represent the group in a good fashion, act maturely, and contribute to the community.

Why should we select you to be part of our group?:Being in a group like Pirates seems like a great place for me.

Why do you want to join Pirates in particular?:Seems like a very cool group which can give me the boost I need to really contribute to this community.

What have you done for the community? (try to elaborate on this question):

Over my time of being on HF I've helped many people with computer builds and such in the Computer Overclocking, Customizing, & Hardware section and in PM. Along with that, I've given assistance to those who wish to begin trading, or continue trading in CS:GO via Skype, PM, and an E-Book. I've also helped people with a few SEO things here and there.

What are you willing to do for the community within our group?:

Mainly just to help out with anything I can and have my skills be as beneficial as possible. It's not everyday that you're a part of a group like this and I certainly would be willing to help out every single bit I can.

Why should we select you to be part of our group?:

Yes, I may have a somewhat low post count, low rep, etc. but I do my best to stand out as much as possible. The one thing that I believe might put me through and into Pirates is possibly just my uniqueness. I try to take part in a very wide variety of discussions. Basically, if I'm fond of the subject I'll most likely discuss it with the group. For me, there's not a section/subject that I just post about. Yes, the Counter-Strike section is my main one, but I post in The Lounge, the Tech section, Marketplace, Gamer's Lounge, and many more.

In a nutshell, I'll assist people to the best of my ability and represent Pirates in the most mature and orderly manner as possible.

Why do you want to join Pirates in particular?:

I've heard great things about Pirates. A friend of mine has said that it's a great group to be in so I came to the conclusion to try and apply at the next recruitment phase.

What have you done for the community?:

I've assisted with port forwarding, along with the setup of Darkcomet for a few newer members.

What are you willing to do for the community within our group?:

Assist in any way that I can, and hope that I can teach other members anything I know that they wish to learn.

Why should we select you to be part of our group?:

I believe that I have some potential, but I lack the resources to learn. Anything that I know, or anything that I learn as a member, I think that it's only fair for me to spread the knowledge.

Why do you want to join Pirates in particular?:

I've always enjoyed learning, but I've never truly been in a group of people dedicated to teaching and helping others. Of course, the ability to meet and befriend new people would also be a great benefit.

Thank you for considering me.

What have you done for the community? (try to elaborate on this question): In terms of threads, helpful threads, unfortunately I haven't really created many.

I did create a few in the Xbox section, these were took down though, I think because getting cheaper games in a legal way isn't allowed on this forum?

But, I do spend a lot of my time saving HF members money. I used to spend about 90% of my time, as well as posts going into the deals section. I would go out of my way to find deals, gaming deals, cool items, things like that, that are on offer or a really cheap price and post them. I won't lie I've been lacking in that section lately, didn't seem as active as before but I'm gonna see what it's like now. Who knows, I could post Pirates only deals..

Moving on from threads and onto the actual topic at hand, "What have I done.." well I've got an example that just happened an hour or so ago.

When we see a non-L33t, non-UB3R member, scammers on HF see 'vulnerable, easy targets' I see them as potential HQ members. Sometimes I like to just browse the deal disputes section, see what new members have been exposed. I like to go out of my way to help the 'victim' (Sometimes the 'victim' is bullshitting, unfortunately) to help provided the proof they deserve.

Like previously mentioned, new members are easy targets for the scammers on this website. Let me just link you to my post:

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=4913334&pid=47078439#pid47078439> (Yes Maryjaneeee, you're just a LQ member)

I guess you could say I'm a money guy, aha. (Cringe)

Edit: Created a deal hunting thread - <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=4918844> but nobody has used it as of yet :c Maybe a Pirates only thread? ;)

What are you willing to do for the community within our group?: Apart from the previously mentioned, 'Pirates Only Deals (I know, it does sound crappy, but hey, could say you a few buck!)

Interaction. That's what most groups want. Interacting with the members. They need assistance and I can help with it? Drop me a PM and I'll be glad to help! Want a few easy favours done for free? I'm your guy. It's not a community if it's just a group full of members who got about their day doing their own business and disregarding the group they've become a part of. You want people to help, chat, do things together, gaming is fun, I'm sure a lot of members of the group game, I'm up for a few hours of FIFA, COD, Destiny. 'Interaction' ?

Why should we select you to be part of our group?: Elaborating on what I previously said, I'm not here to join a group just to have a little picture next to my username. I'm here to have a userbar next to my name. So people know that I'm part of Pirates, that I am a Pirate. And no, this isn't me re-wording "I just want to be part of any group on HF because it gives me power" TBH there's some groups on here so easy to buy into, I don't even consider them a community. Just people with a little bit of spare change. But me explaining that I would gladly have the title 'Pirate' and you could say 'I'd wear it proud' I wouldn't be one to go round giving Pirates a bad name. My goal is to help give it an even better name that it does now. A small good deed can change someone's entire perception of you and hey, and while have the Pirates userbar next to my name, I'm pretty sure would also have a slight influence on their opinion of the group too..

Moving on, in terms of attitude and discipline, I've never had a warning, always been at 100%, I just don't see the point in breaking rules, intentionally at-least. (I guess they had a problem with my Xbox threads but if saving 50% on Xbox games is wrong, then hey, I didn't know that)

If you check my feedback on my rep (I know rep doesn't mean everything) but at the moment I've had 4 neutrals, 3 neg and rest positive. Now I'm not saying "Hey look, I'm over 200 green" not at all, the majority of the non-positive rep are people either 1; Taking their anger out at me. 2; Pissing about. 3; Mad because my opinion doesn't please them. What I'm trying to say is I consider myself a punctual guy. Nothing wrong with having a bit of fun or banter, but I know the limits as-well as being fun but formal.

Why do you want to join Pirates in particular?: Oops, I think I kinda merged this into "Why should we select you to be part of our group?" but I'll just kinda repeat what I said. I wanna known as a pirate. I would say on average the group doesn't have that bad of a reputation throughout the forum, it'd be nice to finally be able to join a group where my efforts would be much more appreciated, especially because it's a smaller community in a community (A group within HF, ha.) But I'd love to help people who (Whoever approves me and them into the group) feels we are both good enough to wear the userbar. Like I said, I don't mind helping people outside of groups, I do it now I guess, but I don't always know who they are exactly. Could be the next Jimmy Saville of the scamming world for all I know..

I'm really wanting to make friends on HF too. Since I've been here, May '12, I've only really started socialising with one person, and that was only within the last 2 week. I'm more of a lurker/helper and don't really get to know anyone that much in-particular so it would be nice to finally start getting to know people.

But umm.. Thanks for reading haha!

What have you done for the community? (try to elaborate on this question):

Well, I have helped in the Free Graphic Requests section as much as possible, and try and help out in any other way I can to furthest extent of my abilities.

What are you willing to do for the community within our group?:

I can help the group with graphics, (Making people signatures/avatars, etc.) Do web design, or other coding related things. (I know a few languages.)

Why should we select you to be part of our group?:

You should select me, because I am loyal, true to my word, really mellow, a fun guy to hang with, play games with, or just chat with. I can bring some of my skill to further better the group in any way that I can, And I would like to actually be apart of something on the forum.

Why do you want to join Pirates in particular?:

I would like to join Pirates in particular, cause they seem like a really friendly and close. Along with the opportunity to become friends with a group of HQ people. I have been waiting for the right group to apply for and this one just seems right.

What have you done for the community? (try to elaborate on this question):

What have I done for the community? I've been helping users in sections and been nice to the community. I did a free drawing service which is now paid. In the future I'm looking to do graphics in the name of the group. I've seen some people do things in the name of pirates and that seems like a lot of fun. I'm just one of many. I'm trying to be nice to everyone and help everyone with everything.

What are you willing to do for the community within our group?:

I can do things in the name for pirate and be nice and share the love. I can offer free services of any kind. I'm a very nice person and if someone is sad or have something they want to talk about I could be there for them. Always looking for new friends.

Why should we select you to be part of our group?:

No cool reason like every else got. I want to get to know some new users and make some friends while having fun and enjoying the sub forum. Noticed that a lot of people are applying for the reason to make new friends and if we do not get accepted can't you arrange something for us? Would be nice. I know that my application doesn't stand out that much, thanks for reading though. I could write a lot of things here that you would not have any use for just to make it "spacey" like I am doing now. As I said I'm a nice guy with a lot of thoughts that I would like to share. I'm the one that prefers to be quiet and listen over talking loud. Even though I'm not a hacker or anything like that I found a quote that fits me perfectly in the pen testing operative system Kali-Linux "the quieter you become, the more you are able to hear". With that being said I might not answer to every thread but I will be there. If I get into pirates I will try to express myself and not hold it to myself anymore. I will share my thoughts and ideas. I really hope this is a mature group and I'm looking forward to if/when I get in to it. Thanks.

Why do you want to join Pirates in particular?:

I really would like to join so I can get to know new users and learn and share my knowledge. I always want to open new doors to new things in life and I see this application as a door I'm trying to open. Looking for people to have a mature conversation with and I hope I can find that in pirates.

Why should we select you to be part of our group?: I can't say that. You need to choose why i should be selected or why not.

Why do you want to join Pirates in particular?:

First of all, i want to join because of the nice community. I once had a problem with a member of your group but that was 99% my fault. The second reason would be to show off and feel proud to be accepted in such a HQ group.

I hope that i fit the requirements and will be glad to answer any question's you got for me :)

Wardrive- explanation and tutorial

[\[TUT\] Passive sniffing with real-time package decryption](#)

[\[TUT/Project\] Rotating directional antenna grid build - update 06.06.15](#)

cachEraser- client side HSTS bypass attack - update 0.22

What are you willing to do for the community within our group?:

I would be able to provide help with most of wireless communication protocols work/exploitation, from software to hardware.

Of course, you can expect from me a tutorial from time to time, in name of a group, for better name and recognition.

Also, I own cracking rig running 8 Cypress cores at 830 Mhz - and another rig in making- so i can provide services of such nature, free of charge for group members (for jobs shorter than 1 day).

Why should we select you to be part of our group?:

I live on "big island"~ like a pirate

My house is on top of "big island"~ important for a pirate

My spotting point is almost finished (LINK)~ also handy for a pirate

There is big cave under my house~ sadly empty, awaiting treasure

If you manage to decrypt my location from map above, then there is a good chance that we will understand each other pretty well as a pirate ;)

Besides occasional need for fun, I am in general quite serious when it comes to projects and nice guy to talk with (I think)

Why do you want to join Pirates in particular?:

What have you done for the community? (try to elaborate on this question): Aside from posting various tutorials, being apart of numerous help desks, and some giveaways, just generally being a nice guy to most people who join HF to be apart of the community and not become some of the various trolls we have come to know and hate. Here are some examples of the threads posted to help out the community in various sections.

Help Desk | iOS 8.1 JailBreak w/ Instructions | Post your favorite Repos & Tweaks! - HSx9

Vince's Sony Help Desk - HSx9

Giving away a partnered youtube channel - HSx9 (Granted, some of these are old, but I try to be helpful and spam like within threads or on the site itself. It's better to give quality help then a huge quantity of useless help)

What are you willing to do for the community within our group?: The same things I have been doing. Helping out those in sections that I have knowledge on and posting content that is in my area of expertise. Also be apart of group giveaways if that is asked of and various other things.

Why should we select you to be part of our group?: Aside from looking for a new home (group) that I feel like I get along with, it seems most of the members of Pirates are quite relaxed and not so uptight like some other groups members because of whatever reason, be it strict guidelines or forced help. I'd rather be apart of like minded individuals then force myself to be "helpful" over a userbar.

Why do you want to join Pirates in particular?: I feel like this is the same question as above in terms of answers needed. I watch each groups members and try to join a group that has my interests. After Instinct disbanded, the only true gaming group left, I found myself unsure of what group actually fits what I am into. Pirates seems to be the one ?

Apologies if I lack true detail that you are looking for, but there is only so much you can truly post before you are just forcing words for a long application. Something I have always said, quality over quantity.

What are you willing to do for the community within our group?: I would continue posting HQ friendly posts as I do now, but also in your sub-forum. My smile and kindness would be my greatest contribution.

Why should we select you to be part of our group?: I do think that Albert Einstein once said that a person who never made a mistake never tried anything new. Either I'm that mistake, or that new. You choose.

Why do you want to join Pirates in particular?: I do mostly just wish to meet new interesting people.

What have you done for the community? (try to elaborate on this question):

The only thing I can remember was running a free graphics request service back in the day where many people were pleased with what I made.

I have been an instinct member since Legacy's inception circa 2013 participating in countless counter-strike and battlefield matches with members.

I also ran nightfall's official steam group until I stepped down recently.

What are you willing to do for the community within our group?:

Participate in discussions and threads within the sub-forum and play games with the members, boost the morale and humor within the subforum.

I am currently studying computer programming and computer science as an A-Level and looking to go on to an apprenticeship with a major technology firm, skills I learn could be put to use within the sub-forum.

Why should we select you to be part of our group?: I'm a long lasting member of the community who likes to have fun, I am also an active member (see long lasting instinct membership & lost well over 2.5k posts in instinct sf) who participates in topics and the occasional political or social discussion.

Why do you want to join Pirates in particular?:

I heard that the pirates were accepting knowledgeable members and wanted to join as I have heard nothing but good things about the group.

What have you done for the community? (try to elaborate on this question):
Consider I'm a new enough member I have not done near enough as some others have done. But in saying that I have done a bit, I offer free RAT support to anyone who needs it, i have a Skype Resolver & Bot list thread which I update often and I often get many thanks from people that were looking for skype resolvers or skype Bots.
I try to do free services, such as some little stress testing and ofc the RAT help.

What are you willing to do for the community within our group?: I am willing to carry on doing what I was doing and help people with whatever they need and to try my best to give positive responses and feedback to people wherever it may be needed.

Why should we select you to be part of our group?:I feel I should be accepted because I am an all round nice person who gets on very well with people. I'm always doing something to better the community or help people out, and a group can never have enough of people with my generosity. I'm a mature person, but I'm not afraid to voice my opinion.

Why do you want to join Pirates in particular?:Who doesn't love pirates? I would love to be apart of this group to get to know people and make some new friends. I've seen users that are in this group around the forum and they are very kind people and I would love to be apart of a group like this.

What have you done for the community? (try to elaborate on this question): Sadly, Not much. But I really want to get more involved with helping out the community and I believe this group will help me with that. I want to get involved with projects and just help out the community in general!

What are you willing to do for the community within our group?: I was thinking I could start making tutorials for the community and join in on group projects with the community!

Why should we select you to be part of our group?: I think I could be a valuable asset, I am very intuitive and love group work and I would like to help out more with the community, I think I can provide some valuable resources to the group and hopefully you feel the same about me!

Why do you want to join Pirates in particular?: I have been around the community since 2011 and this is the first group I have been very interested in, I feel like I would get along well with some of the members here and just have a good time helping out the community!

What have you done for the community? (try to elaborate on this question): When I first arrived at HF I was more of a mooch then anything, Asked for help for anything I could of possibly needed with absolutely no award from it. Now I've offered several services on the subject of business, paid out more than $500+ easy to freelance graphic designers, web developers, web designers. I'm offering advice on several investment or partner search related threads.

What are you willing to do for the community within our group?: I'm a very business minded individual and with that being said I've been around the block on several different levels to have the common sense and knowledge to become a business man. I'm not the smartest guy but I've had my hands dipped in several different areas and subjects so I'm very versatile for anybody needing assistance or just wanting to talk.

Why should we select you to be part of our group?: I've actually never been in a HF group before, However I have several friends in this group and each has said nothing but great things about it.

Why do you want to join Pirates in particular?: I'm looking to network with High quality people and from what I've heard and seen Pirates is a great place to start.

What are you willing to do for the community within our group?: I'm willing to help out any member in the group that needs help, psychically or mentally. I'm very fluent in C#, and PHP so if anyone in the group needs help in that type of field, I'll be sure to help them with that as well.

Why should we select you to be part of our group?: I'm an out-going person, and I love to meet new friends. I've recently taken a break from HF because I wanted to do new things in my life. I'm very mature, and can get along with others just fine. I try and log into HF at least once a day to see what is going on in the community; I usually browse The Lounge, Premium Sellers, and the Innuendo section.

Why do you want to join Pirates in particular?: It seems like a good and out-going group in general and I see the user bar in many threads. It would also be a great opportunity for me to meet new friends within the Pirates Group and the website HF in general.

What have you done for the community? (try to elaborate on this question):. I will admit, when i first joined HF i was a pretty LQ member, i have learned a lot from HF and continue to learn more. I have tried to improve myself on HF by releasing a few tutorials in the RAT and ewhoring section of HF, i have also released a pack of over 600mb worth of botnets to HF.

What are you willing to do for the community within our group?: Just about anything i am capable of doing. I also have experience working with Linux and i will gladly help anyone who needs help. If you need any second opinion then you can ask Invictus who is already a member of Pirates, I have helped Invictus with Linux (Debian 8.1 to be specific) on a few occasions.

Why should we select you to be part of our group?: I am a loyal person, I am active on HF, i do not scam, and i will not backstab people. i am also always willing to learn new things or to help others learn things.

Why do you want to join Pirates in particular?: i would like a chance to meet new people and become part of new community. As i said above i will gladly help anyone with anything i am capable of doing, even if i can not help you then i will at least try to point you in the right direction.

What have you done for the community? (try to elaborate on this question): I am a very active poster in the Python section and help people there every single day. I have helped tens of different people on hundreds of occasions. I will continue helping people (mainly in the Python section; but others too maybe) for the time I spend on this forum. I would give examples but there's honestly too many. Just have a look at my posts and you will see me helping regularly.

What are you willing to do for the community within our group?: I will actively try to help all people that need help with coding, computing, etc. I will hopefully leave a good impression of the group.

Why should we select you to be part of our group?: I like to think I am friendly and not a dick. I also know quite a bit about programming, networking, pentesting, and general computing. I am also helpful to people that ask for help.

Why do you want to join Pirates in particular?: Pirates seems like a cool group to be in and has many HQ members, and I would love to be one of them.

What have you done for the community? (try to elaborate on this question): It's kind of a difficult question for me to answer, honestly. In terms of conventional "HQ contributions", I don't have many. For a long time I came to this site to screw around with friends, but as I spent more time here I realized I wanted to help contribute to the community to help it maintain some semblance of a communal feeling. I'm trying to find ways to do that now. At the moment my biggest contribution is helping out with the HF Live project.

What are you willing to do for the community within our group?: I'm open to doing anything really. Anything ranging from participating in a group effort to just helping out struggling users.

Why should we select you to be part of our group?: I'm relatively easy to work with and take responsibility seriously when I'm given it. On top of that, I have a lot of free time even while in university, so I'll be available more often than not.

Why do you want to join Pirates in particular?: I like the tight-knit atmosphere that groups in general offer. I also like the idea that, while the actual purpose for this group is vague, it seems to be centered around contributing to the community.

What have you done for the community? (try to elaborate on this question): When I first got here, I made a HF rap that a lot of people liked, I like to share all the fortunes I find on the internet with my fellow HF mates.

What are you willing to do for the community within our group?: I'm willing to bend over backwards and take it in the ass for this community, no not really. That was a joke, but I'm willing to bust my ass working on a method if I know it can help people make money.

Why should we select you to be part of our group?: I have a lot of knowledge on certain subjects and I think I can be of assistance to everyone in the group.

Why do you want to join Pirates in particular?: My grandpa was a pirate, and I want to carry on the legacy. (Not joking.)

What have you done for the community? (try to elaborate on this question): I've put in hundreds of posts in both Hosting sections, and have helped hundreds of different users with hosting, server, or networking related problems. I've also ran a successful hosting company for several years solely on HackForums.

What are you willing to do for the community within our group?: I'll be able to provide web hosting to members who need it, and can also help them set up servers, software, code, etc.

Why should we select you to be part of our group?: I have advanced knowledge of hosting, servers, networking, Linux, web development, and much much more. I have a lot to offer to the group. You don't ask us to be active every day, but I am.

Why do you want to join Pirates in particular?: It looks like a fun and friendly group that I'd love to be a part of.

What have you done for the community? (try to elaborate on this question): Well it really depends on the way you would look at it. I have gave tips to brand new people in the Gaming Community as in League of Legends and CSGO tips, i have also boosted few accounts for free in the league of legends section, that's for my gaming community aside from that i have also tried helping a few members in the infected section trying to help them out with rats or just simple virus that slows their computer.

What are you willing to do for the community within our group?:

Well I could help out anyone in need for white hat support or maybe helping them with League of Legends or just try to contribute the best way i can to help them :D

Why should we select you to be part of our group?:

Well their isn't any reason why you guys would accept me, but If i do get accepted i will do my best to contribute in the sub forums an help anyone that is in dire help of something or just wants to talk i will be their for them. :D

Why do you want to join Pirates in particular?:

I just want a place where i could help people in need or just a place to make friends, i have seen a few people in the group that are really nice people an are also kind towards other people an willing to help them when they are in need.

What have you done for the community? (try to elaborate on this question): During my stay on Hackforums, I've always tried to help the community in any I can. For example; I have given money to members with negative paypal balance to even it out. I have offered my phone verification on multiple occasions. I have given tips with ewhoring and given away a few methods in pms. I have also doxed people who have wronged HF members in some way, but never another HF member. I am currently hosting a giveaway. Even though it may only be $5 its something.

What are you willing to do for the community within our group?: I am willing to continue doing everything I have been doing but to a greater extent. I plan on furthering my skills to be able to do these things more efficiently. I am also working on relearning Java and plan on releasing a few programs in the near future.

Why should we select you to be part of our group?: I believe that I would be a fresh, new personality to the group. I also believe that I can help further the group by hosting giveaways and other things if allowed by the leaders. I am also constantly striving to learn new things.

Why do you want to join Pirates in particular?: As states above I am trying to learn new things all the time and I believe that Pirates can help me achieve that goal. The senior members of the group seem like very knowledgeable people and might be willing to share some of the things that they're learned during their stay on Hackforums.

What have you done for the community? (try to elaborate on this question):

Currently, because of the fact that I am more new to Hackforums, not much. However I will start expanding my services, helping others with questions that I can of course answer. I will soon offer my Graphic Designing services here at Hackforums, as well as provide some Private Cheats for several different video games. I will soon also help others in the Services / Recruitment section as well with any small favors / amounts of money they may need. Several different giveaways will also be hosted by me, including one of an upcoming Private Cheat that I will be releasing in the market for H1Z1. I have helped several people start up their businesses, and I will be making many tutorials as well as guides in the Graphic Designing section.

What are you willing to do for the community within our group?:

I'd be willing to have several small giveaways weekly, or one semi-large one every month. I'd also be willing to help out the group members with Graphic Designs free of charge, or a discount if anyone in the group needs any. And sometimes if I am feeling generous, I will offer my Video Game hacks to members or host giveaways for them. P.S. Some of my designs: <https://imgur.com/a/qXaYi>

Why should we select you to be part of our group?:

I believe you should select me because of the fact that I currently have some time on my hands, and am just interested in having a good time with my fellow Hackforum members. I will be very active around Hackforums having others look up to our group. I am interested in helping others, however at the same time have others help me out. Something more like a family, and with the new Pirate group going around, I want to join.

Why do you want to join Pirates in particular?:

I am interested in joining Pirates in particular because I've noticed many nice people around Hackforums that have joined it, and to be honest it seems like a very High Quality group, with High Quality Members. The logo is unique, the name is great, and the people seem quite nice. For example I had seen DaUB3R offering $5.00 to anyone in need at the Services and Recruitment section. He is currently one of the people that I look up to, especially because of his generosity. The rules look like I can maintain them, and to be honest just like anyone else, I'd rather not be a Lone Wolf, I'd want to join the pack.

Offered completely free graphics to the community to build a portfolio

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=4902692>

Found a 179$ font for free on the web and posted a thread.

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=4911684&pid=47111354#pid47111354>

I am trying to better the RMG section altogether. I believe that the graphics section itself. If we have enough users the rate things and give constructive criticism, I think the graphics section will eventually become respectable enough to get somewhere.

What are you willing to do for the community within our group?:

I am willing to give graphics at a very high discount. This includes thread designs like the one shown here, I did this one for free. Not only can I assist with graphics but I also work in information systems and this allows me to have a broad knowledge on resume creation, applying yourself in the business world. I have a vast knowledge in computing, and I also pride myself in the ability to be a motivational speaker. I attend university right now and have a vast knowledge of how college life works, the process that goes into transferring, classes, grades, etc. I think that overall I can offer a lot of knowledge in these topics that the group currently does not have to offer.

Why should we select you to be part of our group?:

I am willing to put the time and effort to be a positive member of this group. I feel as though with my graphical skills, but also my knowledge in college, and business, I will strive in this group. I also, as stated above, will offer graphics at a discount for all of the "Pirate" group. This will allow for some people to save money, but also help me; creating a win-win situation.

Why do you want to join Pirates in particular?:

The group fascinates me as it is revolved around bettering yourself and others. I wish to be in a group in which knowledge is shared and perceived in different ways. I am also looking for a mature audience to have great discussions on life, success, and the pursuit of happiness. I am also interested in helping develop a graphics aspect to the group and wish to collaborate with other designers.

I can do anything that is available to me. Now of course this doesn't mean I can code the best program but I could try. Mostly I can do GFX, Video Editing, Gaming, Coding.

Why should we select you to be part of our group?:

I believe that you should select me because even though I am not the best member of all I can definitely bring a new set of ideas and money making tools to the group.

Why do you want to join Pirates in particular?:

I believe that the group has a fair community inside of it and can handle what I do and what is needed of me. Even though I may not need to be in this group it will definitely boost my work and posting on here.

As soon as I close the recruitment, I'll immediatly start reading the applications so in a matter of 2 or 3 days I think I'll have all of them done.

Edit: Recruitment is now closed.

I'll start reading all the applications.

Thank you all. ?

Ok guys,

I've just finished reading all the applications and accepting the ones I liked.
If you didn't get approved don't worry.

In a few months I'll do another recruitment and there's always chances to get in.
For those who got in, welcome! ?
