

Forum:Hack Forums

Thread: Any Good Deals on Stand Microphone \(Yeti, Yeti Pro, etc...\)

Apple User - July 18, 2015, 5:22 pm

I'm tired of using headsets now... I'm looking for a decent microphone. I found interest in the Yeti, and knew there was a flash sale going on for $70 which made me want to wait it out..

Does anyone have good deals out there or microphone recommendations?

Thanks.

GL1TCH3D - July 18, 2015, 6:42 pm

The Yeti at $70 isn't bad. I've said some shitty things about it in the past because it's generally in the same price range as the AT2020usb which is superior, but that cheap it's a fair price.

Otherwise why not get a modmic?

Apple User - September 11, 2015, 12:26 pm

@GL1tch3d

I'm tired of having that 'headset' hair, and my head completely hurts on top of where the headset band was after 3-4 hours.

I'm planning on using headphones and a external stand microphone to avoid further issues. :c

root.localhost - September 12, 2015, 9:44 pm

I went with the Rode Podcaster and the PSA1 boom stand no regrets if I ever plan to upgrade in the future i'd go with a Shure SM7B

Apple User - September 15, 2015, 1:16 pm

^ That one is a little too pricey in my book.

I'm looking around $100-200.

Pury - September 15, 2015, 1:18 pm

(Sep 15, 2015 01:16 PM)Apple User Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) ^ That one is a little too pricey in my book.

I'm looking around $100-200.

I have a blue yeti i bought about a year ago i would be willing to part with. I havent used it since i got my new headset about 5 months ago.