Which one do you like the best and why?

My fav. is a tie between windows 7 and 8 but ive seen really promising things coming from windows 10.

SiNdicate - July 19, 2015, 10:14 pm

I'm really curious to see how Win10 turns out. I'm also looking forward to Spartan, and I can't wait. So far though, I'd have to say Win7. I like Win7 because it's pretty straight forward and non confusing imo. Windows 8 also halts me from using some of my favorite software and that was a major setback.

SIM-1676753 - July 19, 2015, 10:18 pm

My personal favorite is Windows 7 because it's not as bloated with features as Windows 8 and it feels like it's actually made for a desktop unlike Windows 8. I'm not too sure how Windows 10 is like, but I'm sure I'll switch over to it once it gets released.

TechStoriesmd - July 20, 2015, 12:54 am

It could just be nostalgia, but XP is my favorite by far.

I mean, of course i use 7 at this point and it's great, mainly because the interface is kind of similar to XP, but XP set the standards for all OSs to come.

Also tried Windows 8 and hated every minute of it. as for 10, haven't seen enough yet to decide.

F?? T?? L?? - July 20, 2015, 1:27 am

I really like Windows 8.1 at the moment. Interested in Windows 10 but I think I'm going to wait to see how the release is for a few weeks before jumping aboard.

^This.

I didn't like the new and "progressive" look on Win8 at all.

You can use the shells to make it look like Win7, but it's just not the same.

ZuGgY - July 20, 2015, 8:22 pm

Since I haven't tested Win 10 myself yet, I'm saying Win 7 FOR NOW.

Blazin - July 20, 2015, 8:24 pm

I prefer Windows 7 So far, but when the 10 official release is out I will try it out.

TheGrayAviator - July 21, 2015, 12:36 am

From experience Windows 7 was the best OS. I didn't like Windows 8 much, I hated the way it looked, it was very hard to operate it.

Windows 8 should've been Windows 10 instead.

Right now, if I was to choose an OS, I would go with Windows 10, as I've been playing around with the Technical Preview and I like how it handles and feels.

MechWarrior67 - July 21, 2015, 12:44 am

Windows 7 hands down. Honestly I shouldn't even have to list why it's better...

HalcyonTimes - July 21, 2015, 1:52 am

Windows 7 was a really solid, good OS. Windows 8 with its schizophrenic UI experience between the Metro (sorry Modern UI) and desktop interfaces was a usability nightmare - although in most other respects there were technical improvements over Windows 7. Windows 10 (if the technical preview is any indication) appears to be Windows 8 done right, both interfaces have been fused quite nicely with the UI adapting to match the hardware far more effectively. I'd choose Windows 10 now.

BITW - July 21, 2015, 6:19 am

Windows 7 is best until now. I just feel comfortable when uses Windows 7. It has the best looks comparing with other win 8 or win 10 os.

Mconyx - July 21, 2015, 6:24 am

Windows 7 definitely, loved XP also.

aesad - July 21, 2015, 6:28 am

Windows 7 is my favourite.

Levatc - July 21, 2015, 10:20 am

Definitely Win 7 perfect made for desktop. Very comfortable and looks 100% better than win 8.

chazman17 - July 22, 2015, 12:46 am

Used Win 10 Insider Preview and Win Server 2012 for a little bit. I like Win 10 a lot and I look forward to moving over.

Fusi - July 22, 2015, 11:40 am

I prefer windows 7 over anything. Windows 8 is ok but I like the start menu and I want to see how windows 10 is going to turn out

SsmithS - July 23, 2015, 4:01 pm

Extra points if yiu can name it! System settings saved with a check mark, lol!

focuss - July 23, 2015, 6:32 pm

I've been using Windows 10 for about a month and it's been awesome!

I'm usually a Windows 7 fan and hate Windows 8 but Windows 10 has been great so far.

webdev77 - July 23, 2015, 6:34 pm

In order of preference: 8.1 > 7 > XP.

I have not used Windows 10. I will be getting it asap though.

L4NC3 temp - July 23, 2015, 8:19 pm

windows 10 is gonna be the best windows. in my opinion

Exodus. - July 24, 2015, 12:42 am

I fucking hate win 10, I tried to downgrade and I get errors every time. Win 10 has also lots of useless apps running in task mgr, frequent blue screens. Win 10 probably doesn't have supported drivers for certain games also.

Bluffer - July 24, 2015, 6:51 pm

Windows 7 is definitely the best, but I don't mind Windows 8. I've yet to test Windows 10.

RevolvingDoor - July 26, 2015, 9:59 pm

Windows 8 wasn't necessarily meant for PC's. The whole OS was tablet oriented. My theory as to why they put them on PC's may have been a data collection experiment to determine what people likes and dislikes were to improve Win 10. Or they were just simply lazy and didn't feel like changing their format.

sidvirus - October 3, 2018, 6:13 am window 7 is best for me ever

SA777OSHI - October 20, 2018, 3:27 pm

Windows 7 was the best for me because it was pretty easy to use and had a lot of functions

Windows 8 is the worse in my opinion, it felt like a OS designed for tablets

And I'm liking windows 10, glad they got rid of the win8 style

EliteTM - October 21, 2018, 4:16 pm

I was not a big fan of Windows 10, but once I accepted the fact that Windows 7 is eventually going to lose security updates, it is not that bad of an operating system. Just not that big of a fan of Cortana or the Xbox features integration.

Windows 10 is a mix of Apple Mac OSX and lots of other improvements Microsoft put together after all these years. It is no doubt one of the finest product of Microsoft as I can tell, successor to Windows XP and Windows 7 in best.

Edge of Nowhere - October 21, 2018, 4:48 pm

I'd have to go with Windows 7, simply because it's got less bloat.

Sadly, with the recent exploits, XP-W10 pre anniversary edition are exploitable.
