Alright, my review coming through.

Recommend buying:

If you are completely new to this world, have too much money (read: $25), and don't want to read up yourselves then this might be the Ebook for you. This would be a very good guide if released it for free, but you don't, you charge people for public and mostly outdated knowledge.

Content:

I have read it all and it does cover a lot, but nothing new that doesn't fall under the "common sense" category. All information is already available widely and it doesn't give me a feeling you have more knowledge and inside information than what has been already written and published for free - something I kind of expect from a $25 Ebook. While you do cover the most vital topics, it does not go in depth at all. The gold farming methods you suggest are methods that have been around for years and are massively botted. I giggled a little bit when you suggested to bot green dragons, and the other methods were all the same. All outdated and already massively botted methods of which most are known for high banrates. You show no sources whatsoever; there is no bibliography or anything. While it is mostly your own experience, especially the many things that I believe are just speculation could use a source to prove me wrong.

Grammar:

It is written in proper grammar.

Layout:

The layout and overall structure of this Ebook is great.

Overall:

4/10. I would give this a 7/10 if it were free.

idk why you made it your mission to discredit me
i gave you a free vouch copy because you were "staff" of your "botting site" upon giving you the copy you ban me and then claim its a horrible book sorry mate but all the other reviews dont even come close to this, so it's pretty obviously you're talking rubbish.

4/10. I would give this a 7/10 if it were free. You obviously have some sort of bias with the author. From your post you sound like you can gather all the information in this ebook in a matter of minutes, and that is obviously not the case. In my perspective this ebook is very legitimate. If anyone wants to start goldfarming then this is the go to ebook. The author also put tips and advice into the method. He gave information about how to go along with your farming adventurers and made it clear to the readers. He also put in calculations of earnings and spending's. I personally think you were to critical on this ebook, he obviously put a lot of time in it and made it for beginners.

As I said, this Ebook is a good 7/10 if released for free, and that's not generous at all. It just bothers me he charges people $25 for what is mostly common sense and a bunch of outdated methods.

Anyone who googles will find out how to make your characters last. Make them not look like a bot, do some quests, hide your IP and use a decent bot. And now comes the funny part. FIRST he mentions that you should, at any time, avoid botting hotspots. Scroll down a little bit and he mentions picking flax, green dragons, and red chin hunting to name a few. A little bit further he starts straight up lying; he explains that it's safer to bot outside Jagex's work hours. He implies it as the truth but uses no sources whatsoever, and doesn't mention it being his personal experience either. The facts are however that Jagex has bot detecting software, and that player reports will keep rolling in at a faster pace especially in the weekend because there are more players online during those times. Mod Weath, the "OSRS anti-cheating specialist", handles all player reports and detected bots on monday morning and trust me, if you have been caught, your ban will be there too. Dig through his Twitter (@JagexWeath) if you want to know what's really going on.

I could go on forever, but I doubt I'd be allowed to and I don't really feel like it either. I don't want to prevent people from buying this guide, I just believe that people should know what they buy.

fine with me ?

I assure you there are some things that you can't find on the internet in the actual guide the review by evil cabbage was unaccurate, he reviewed it in under 10 minutes, and i don't think it's even possible to read 14,000 words in 10 mins

I understand where you're coming from Evil, and I would take you with full seriousness, but I can't because of your actions on the botting forum you are staff of you banned me and reviewed it with clear bias, and now have intent to sales trash me if you said it nicely without having bad intents behind you, i will take you fully seriously and ask where I can improve specifically unfortunately because of your action all I see is a biased review and a tactic to sales trash me because of a grudge between me and your friend

:?A grudge between you and what friend? The sole reason I try to "sale trash" you is because I believe potential buyers should know what you wrote isn't what you claim it is, or worth your steep price in any way.

What I'm not happy about and what I banned you for is when I put "DO NOT BUY" in big red letters on the top of your thread and locked it, you edited the thread and removed the "DO NOT BUY". Your ban is a 1 day ban btw, so it should be over in a few hours.

don't try to deny it bud, we both know that ZulrahEazy is your friend he attacked me, i told him to stop, and then you trash me too?
so much for a good staff member, i would stay away from RuneMate >_>

thanks for the admin abuse ban btw ?
