We are all born ignorant,
but one must work hard to remain stupid.

Basic information

The black lodge is a new project under L'appel Du vide's name and the main purpose it serves is recruiting talented and open minded members into our precious group.

We will be holding a recruitment / contest each week giving 1 spot / 1 prize to each winner.

All of our recruitments will require a different type of work in a way for us to be sure for selected individuals.

This project is lead by me. You should contact me with any quetions.

Contest / Recruitment idea : Creativity test.

How will it be done : Members should think of two to three things that existed in the HF marketplace, which if combined, could be gamechanger if ever made possible, and then state three reasons why it's pretty much impossible right now.

Funds needed : Patience and dedication.

Further explanation : Great things come from conflicting perspectives.

People needed for it : Anyone.

Aprox time needed : Couple hours, or if worse, attention span of a goldfish.

Contest / Recruitment idea : Reverse Doxing

How will it be done : On a thread, users will be given personal details of a specific person. The goal is to reverse the process and force the contenders to find a workaround if it's ever to possible to identify the people involved in doxxing, and dox them in return,

Funds needed : Patience and dedication

Further explanation : Reversal is the intolerable companion of repetition in learning.

People needed for it : Anyone.

Aprox time needed : No, but, frustation tolerance needed.

Contest / Recruitment idea : Nymph_3301, a remake of https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Cicada_3301

How will it be done : winning user will be contacted.

Funds needed : Not much. Just time to design the architecture.

Further explanation : Read the wiki.

People needed for it : Anyone.

Aprox time needed : A week to a month, spare some spots for this.

B3A - August 6, 2015, 9:26 am

New contest will be up in a few minutes.
