Thread: Crypto | Official Cryptocurrency Group | Creation Team Recruitment

Business - July 22, 2015, 3:36 pm

[img]http://i.ipixls.net/VM9z3Kh.png[/img]

Crypto is back with another recruitment! This time, we are looking for highly skilled programmers and marketers to join the group as part of our "Crypto Creations" team. The selected programmers and marketers will be paired up to work on creating products to sell here on Hack Forums. Not only will you get a chance to work with other skilled individuals and make money, you will also have the opportunity to learn about cryptocurrency from our knowledgeable members.

[img]http://i.ipixls.net/YtgkEcs.png[/img]

A few things to consider when writing your application:

- Grammar/Spelling/Punctuation
- Design (is your application visually pleasing?)
- Length (does your application look like you worked hard on it?)
- If you have an open scam report you will not be invited

Here are a few suggested questions to answer (These are just suggestions, we recommend adding more questions to your application):

Skill (Programming or Marketing):

Tell us about yourself:

What experience do you have?:

Why should you be accepted? (What do you have to offer?):

From 1-10, how knowledgeable are you in regards to cryptocurrency?:

[img]http://i.ipixls.net/YtgkEcs.png[/img]

If you have any questions regarding recruitment or the group itself please feel free to contact me directly.

Skill (Programming or Marketing):Marketing

Tell us about yourself:I am a member on Hackforums who has donated a lot to support this forum. I have dealt with many significant exchangers here on HF. In real life I run a business of my own. I do music as a hobby and I love money. Money is what society runs on and I plan to use my love for money to make Hackforums a better place.

What experience do you have?:I have experiences of many transactions here on HF. I have done many currency exchanges over 1000 dollars. Before 2014, I used to handle sales for UnknownLogger. UnknownLogger was a well known key logger back in 2012-2014. I used to handle sales and make sure everyone got their money's worth. After Unknown, the owner of UnknownLogger left, I did not have much to do here on HF. I left HF. After I came back I got approved for UB3R. Now I realized being UB3R will help establish myself in the marketplace. Now I am sitting here with multiple exchanges and awards to prove I am good with money.

Why should you be accepted? (What do you have to offer?): I plan to offer my services in exchanges here on HF. I also plan to offer my vouches if I deem a user trustworthy to make sales here on HF. I plan to keep an eye on scammers and alert the community if I spot one.

From 1-10, how knowledgeable are you in regards to cryptocurrency?: My Knowledge on cryptocurrency is 8. I know how the system works and how the values are unstable, but valuable. I understand that cryptocurrency could be a risky investment since the market can go downhill within seconds.

Why should you accept me: Well actually I need this group. I want to be an established cryptocurrency user here on HF. This group will help me do that.

Why am I interested?: Many of the people in Crypto are HQ exchangers here on HF. I want to be part of that experience as well.

Thank you for your time.

Good Luck to all the applicants for this amazing group!

?Cyber - July 22, 2015, 3:47 pm

Good luck to all the applicants, great group to be in.

Hope to see some new people.

Skill (Programming or Marketing): Programming{Java, VB.NET, Python (new to the language)}

Tell us about yourself: I'm a 17 year old dude who likes to develop fun and clever applications and also I love to play League of Legends and am very interested in creating projects for the game such as account crackers/checkers/ect.

What experience do you have?: I've been coding in Java for about 4 years, started with minecraft plugin development but now develop more serious projects such as customer database tools, instant messaging programs, and android app development. I took a class over VB.NET last year and got an A in the class, also am taking another course in AP comp sci. at my school this year.

Why should you be accepted? (What do you have to offer?): I can offer great programming skills and loads of other knowledge such as network development and security which goes hand in hand with application development.

From 1-10, how knowledgeable are you in regards to cryptocurrency?: 6

Zen - July 22, 2015, 3:58 pm

Skill (Programming or Marketing): Marketing

Tell us about yourself: I'm just a kid who likes making money

What experience do you have?: Sold multiple products on HF, have taken numerous IM courses. Have sold products in the $10,000+ range.

Why should you be accepted? (What do you have to offer?): My marketing skills speak for themselves. I get results and don't just talk the talk.

From 1-10, how knowledgeable are you in regards to cryptocurrency?: 9

- Grammar/Spelling/Punctuation : Okey

- Design (is your application visually pleasing?) : I don't think that this should matter enough. Clean should be enough
- Length (does your application look like you worked hard on it?) : Length doesn't prove this. Only contained information.
- If you have an open scam report you will not be invited : Okey.

Skill (Programming or Marketing): Well, I won't lie about anything. I'm like a 0 on programming but my marketing skills are pretty much perfect. Only a few members all over HF are better than me in this kind of section (Like sonex and isidar). Rest marketers around are just fake.

[img]http://i.ipixls.net/YtgkEcs.png[/img]

Tell us about yourself: 19 years old marketer. Maining online marketing but can do well on social and mobile marketing aswell. I'm a workaholic.

[img]http://i.ipixls.net/YtgkEcs.png[/img]

What experience do you have?: Studying marketing since I was 15. After I finished highschool started my actual marketing studies in a university now.
Can also present parts of my work in a pm.

[img]http://i.ipixls.net/YtgkEcs.png[/img]

Why should you be accepted? (What do you have to offer?): I won't bullshit. Your call if I get accepted. I can actually provide me services for free in any kind of group project/product

[img]http://i.ipixls.net/YtgkEcs.png[/img]

From 1-10, how knowledgeable are you in regards to cryptocurrency?: 8 (Not familiar with currency sources)

Skill (Programming or Marketing): Programming = {Java (highly skilled) , php, vb.net (new)} ||
Marketing = I used to sell rsgp to gold selling sites and plan on opening a shop on HF

Tell us about yourself: I'm 18 years old currently going to RIT in the fall to study computer engineering. I also dive into online marketing and money making

What experience do you have?: As stated above; I have been selling runescape gold to gold selling websites for over 3 months and have made a pretty hefty profit in doing so. I have sold gold here on HF also. I know my way around the marketplace and I'm always ready to make a new deal. I also sell csgo skins/knives.

Why should you be accepted? (What do you have to offer?): I will provide services here on HF free or paid. No bullshit. No questions asked.

From 1-10, how knowledgeable are you in regards to cryptocurrency?: 7. I'm not familiar with mining or any sort of thing in regards to it.

Skill (Programming or Marketing):

Marketing; I have been learning about online monetizing for 2 years now using nothing but my brain. I have managed to earn a lot by challenging myself to do things I have never thought were possible. There is a lot more to be learned, I never said that I know everything about marketing, but I'm on the good path to learning it. I have dedicated myself to learn things and do things most people would never do because they think it's impossible. I never stopped monetizing from the day one and until this day, I'm still looking for methods that will expand my knowledge about marketing.

Tell us about yourself:

Name is Brian, age 18. I am trustworthy, diligent and friendly person and if I had to describe myself in three words, those would be the ones I'd pick. Life has never treated me nicely, so I had to find my own ways to make it better, even through small things. Throughout my life, I have learned that I'm definitely a materialistic person and my close ones already know that because I'm not hiding it. Money is the only thing that motivates me and only thing that makes me happy when I wake up in the morning. That fact forced me to push my limits and start earning online and even in real life. I have found a lot of sources, methods and loopholes and I'm making a decent amount of money nowadays just because I have never stopped doing thing that kept me motivated - marketing.

What experience do you have?:

I'm currently attending a school of Economics and I'm planning to go to the college of economics as well. My online marketing experience is advanced, I have been learning for quite some time now and I'm always trying to find more ways to make money online. I have a lot of experience with sites like Ebay and Amazon; I have been selling various items and I found so many profitable methods that I managed to get more than $20k in sales only from Ebay. I have tried everything from dropshipping to selling physical items. I also have experience with CPA/PPD marketing and advertising. I still have so much to learn and I'm looking forward to any obstacle that may cross my path because I will surely find a way to dodge it.

[img]http://i.ipixls.net/YtgkEcs.png[/img]

Why should you be accepted? (What do you have to offer?):

I can offer various things like mentoring, helping, opening contests and even posting threads on behalf of the group. I will always stay active within subforum and discuss on various subject it has to offer. I have also done a lot of exchanges on here (mostly high transactions) using cryptocurrencies. I think my skill would be a great addition to your group and I would be more than honored to be a part of it.

[img]http://i.ipixls.net/YtgkEcs.png[/img]

From 1-10, how knowledgeable are you in regards to cryptocurrency?:

I would say a solid 9 because I'm always aware of cryptocurrency market. I'm using various cryptocurrencies as payment method for my ebook as well. Even though I mostly prefer Bitcoin as my main cryptocurrency, I wouldn't be afraid to invest in ones like Litecoin or something similar. I have also tried investing in Bitcoin, but cashed out when profit was above $30 because it was too risky for me.

[img]http://i.ipixls.net/YtgkEcs.png[/img]

Thanks for reading my application, great group with HQ members, I would love to be a part of it. Good luck to all participants as well.

Dr.Seuss' Application

[img]http://i.ipixls.net/YtgkEcs.png[/img]

About Myself

I'm Dr.Seuss and ~22 y/o.

Currently I study for my Bachelor of Science in Business Informatics and work on a few webbased projects.

I enjoy playing games or join a good TS³ convo./ Skype Call.

I joined this forum a few years ago when I started beeing interest in hacking alot more.

I had some rather Blackhat time but right now I just want to code on my Forum and study.

Qualifications

Currently I'm still a Certified Assistant for Commercial Information Technology and got taught some Assembly, C++ and Java in my education.

I taught myself PHP, SQL, CSS a few years ago and can handle them well.

Javascript I started but still have to learn alot more.

I also taught myself C# since I wanted to feel the difference to C++.

In C# for example I released my Data Crawler.
Python is a language I want to learn soon too.

If it should be important in any way, I currently own ~1.7 BTC.

Cryptocurrency Knowledge

I'm mainly working with Bitcoins.

I've earned them in many different ways and also tried alot with them.

I know how people moneytize Bitcoins, how the whole system is build up and what's important when you're working with them.

I own a Bitcoin clone which I want to integrate into my Forum once it's finished, I have alot of plans with crypto currencies in the future.

Why Me?

I'd be happy to work with others on a project and see what we can achieve.

I'm an active & friendly member who shares his knowledge and helps whenever he can.

I hope to become a solid part of the group and have some great sessions with you guys!

Introduction:

I'm a 16 year old guy interested in pretty much everything that relates to a computer. I'm very active here on Hack Forums and social overall, I have a sense of humor and I enjoy helping people, and especially making them happy. I'm pretty smart and cooperative as long as you have a good attitude.

Programming skills:

I know C#, C++, HTML/CSS and PHP. I feel that I cannot really elaborate on this, but I code pretty much every day and atm I have several projects going on that'll be released soon enough.

I like working for myself, but I can communicate and work together with a team too, although I do prefer solo. This is because I'm pretty much a perfectionist when it comes to coding, it cannot be messy or done in a sloppy way or I am bound to change it, which will only waste time. But as I said, I can work in teams as long as they cooperate.

Experiences:

I have sold several products online and I've had a coding service, and exchanged BTC for PayPal. In total, I have dealt with around $400 worth of bitcoins here on Hack Forums, and about $1800 on other sites. I know how to manage a financial software as well as dealing with cryptocurrency without any problems.

What I have to offer:

I can offer programming skills, tutorials, mentoring, free services and a good mood, hehe. Teaching how to code has actually always been something that I would love to do.

However, I cannot bullshit and say that I'm better than everyone else on this thread, but I do know that both I and Crypto can learn something and/or benefit from me joining the group.

Why I am interested:

Joining an active group would be great in many different ways. I can learn, help, and get to know new people. This group would fit me perfectly.

Knowledge in regards to cryptocurrency:

From a scale of 1-10, I'd say 8 or 9. I'm not familiar with the art of mining, simply because it has not come to interest. I do not have enough money to start mining, but I will, when I can.

[img]http://i.ipixls.net/YtgkEcs.png[/img]

Skill (Programming or Marketing):

Programming (C#) - I also know HTML, PHP, CSS, Javascript, and a tiny bit of Java.

I'm looking to expand my knowledge. I have Visual Studio 2013 and I'm always up for programming.

[img]http://i.ipixls.net/YtgkEcs.png[/img]

Tell us about yourself:

I'm 16 years old (almost 17). I play American football and I'm extremely knowledgeable in computers.

I've been using computers ever since I was 10 years old and always have been fascinated with the idea of programming your own applications. I created my first fully functional website about myself around age 12. Ever since then I fell in love with programming.

I started working in the Cryptocurrency field in my late 15th year. I started out investing my money into Bitcoin using Coinbase.com and transferring it to CEX.IO. From there, I was making decent money because mining was semi-profitable back then.

I also invested my money into two 333 MH/s ASIC miners to help out the Bitcoin mining network. 333 MH/s is nothing now.

I've fell in love with cryptocurrencies ever since. I have a lot of knowledge on the blockchain and how cryptocurrencies operate.

I love to present my knowledge of cryptocurrencies so one time I explained Bitcoin to my history teacher in the middle of class.

I also have exchanging BTC<->PP experience.

[img]http://i.ipixls.net/YtgkEcs.png[/img]

What experience do you have?:

I recently programmed an application for Quadax \(Healthcare Revenue Cycle Solutions\) which brute forced 3 letter combinations into a form - scraped certain data after the page was returned - filled it into an Excel document - and returned it to the company. I'm unsure if I'm allowed to release the webpage or the source code.

Their developers were unsure of how to complete the task - I did it in a hour on a work day.

This is not impressive work. Using this example, I wanted to show I have some experience working for others in the programming field.

I also have at least a year and a half in C# experience and I'm always up for programming new applications.

[img]http://i.ipixls.net/YtgkEcs.png[/img]

Why should you be accepted? (What do you have to offer?):

I believe I should be accepted because I'm a dedicated hard worker. Present me with a task and I will work on it to my fullest extent. I'm always in the mood for programming and I believe this group will allow me to expand my knowledge, work with others, and have a great time doing so.

[img]http://i.ipixls.net/YtgkEcs.png[/img]

From 1-10, how knowledgeable are you in regards to cryptocurrency?:

9. I could explain how Bitcoin works, how mining works, and love doing so.

I believe cryptocurrencies will be the future of currencies.

Skill (Programming or Marketing): Business & Marketing

Tell us about yourself: I'm a 16 year old looking to thrive in the current world of business & marketing and I am in love with anything related to the arts. I'd like to think of myself as a self-made entrepreneur. I have been selling, trading, and buying valuable products for well over 2 years as well.

What experience do you have?: I currently have over 2 years knowledge of business & marketing. I have been selling multiple products across several sites & forums which range from gaming accounts, lockers, and eBooks. I have worked with several reputable businessmen here on this forums by partnering up with them to sell numerous products. I also have been around VPNs to stressers and I personally know the current niche for it is extremely profitable if marketed correctly. I can safely say that I have earned over $10k selling a product that not only works but has been for over a year. This only works if you advertise and market the product correctly, which I have experience in doing so.

Why should you be accepted? (What do you have to offer?): I am an Innovator. I have been for over 2 years, why not have more knowledge of a successful businessman? A product is like a design, each section is a critical piece to a successful product. I like to carefully examine each individual piece in order for the end result to be beneficial. I will personally share my ideas and thoughts if accepted. Also, I would be willing to share my earnings and what not if accepted.

From 1-10, how knowledgeable are you in regards to cryptocurrency?: 7; I have been in the game for over 1½ years. I know when to invest & to back out. I carefully examine, study, and make a decision based on hard knowledge. Cryptocurrency is a very successful currency strictly based off reselling as well.

My name is Marc, iam 15 years old and live in Denmark, currently in 9th grade. I have owned several websites with 5000+ active daily users, one of which was a huge success have got 10k+ active users in only 3 days from pure advertisement and marketing. Currently i am also running a "Steam Games hourboosting" service, where i have made a automated web-interface and 100+ users in a very short time.

What experience do you have?:

I have a lot of experience in Virtual Private servers and marketing. I have in a very short time, gotten a lot of money because of marketing.

Here is my build which i bought after some good sales:

\(Click to View\)

^Click on the image to see my specs ^

Why should you be accepted?:

I will offer the users of Crypto, a lot of dedication and hard work. I am still in 9th grade so i have a lot of time on my hands. I will always try my best to stay positive and help of course!

I will also bring a lot of feedback and discounts to my services. One of my quality's is positivity, you will never find me sad or angry.

From 1-10, how knowledgeable are you in regards to cryptocurrency?:

I have always loved Cryptocurrency's, i use them all the times. I like the concept of bitcoin (which is my main cryptocurrency), i've have been using bitcoin in a year now.

Skill (Programming or Marketing): Marketing; allow me to elaborate

Marketing has always been something that I genuinely enjoyed. It's always come easy to me. When I was still in high school I took a few colleges courses. One of them was Entrepreneurship. Throughout the duration of this course, I learned many things. Not only how to properly develop a business plan, and manage that business, but the delicate marketing steps that were required to make your business successful. First, you need to find your target demographic. Once you've found this out, you need to decide how to go about marketing to this target demographic. I come from a family of marketers. My father is Vice President of a national ad agency (I will let his company remain nameless). He has taught me well and has given me the marketing tools and knowledge to be successful in this line of work. I am not your average HF user who will consider CPA to be "marketing". No. I have the capability to develop an organic audience to a service or product.

As far as programming goes, it has never been my forte. I know HTML/CSS, but other than that, I am useless. Just being honest. This doesn't mean I don't understand what needs to be done. Let me clarify. If I am working to develop a product, I may not know how to program or code the software myself, but I understand and can comprehend what the software needs to do. All I need is someone to do it.

Tell us about yourself.

You can call me šhooky. I am a high school graduate, and entering my junior year of college. My major is Computer Science. Currently on Summer break, I have a lot of free time to pursue things I enjoy doing. I love to play guitar, monetize, and go fishing. I know, weird combination, right? On a serious note, I am a very laid back guy. Easy to talk to. I am also very dedicated, I never take anything lightly and I give my full and undivided attention to any task at hand.

What experience do you have?

I have taken the following courses at a college level: Entrepreneurship, Business Management, and Marketing. I excel in courses such as these because to me, marketing is common sense. As I stated earlier in this application, I grew up with a family of marketers. Whether it be search engine optimization, creating a visually appealing advertisement, or developing a way to explain the good or services being sold to a consumer, at a consumer level, I excel.

Why should you be accepted?

That is a good question. Why should I be accepted. Let's break it down. Not only do I have the formal marketing education required to fulfill a position such as this, but also a family tree of high quality businessmen and marketers alike. I have used my expertise in services I have created, and it has paid off in full. I am loyal. I never forget my roots or where I started. If given this opportunity to join Crypto, I would stay true, and do all that I could to better the groups image and it's members.

On a scale of 1-10 how knowledgeable are you in regards to cryptocurrency?

10. I daytrade BTC among various other cryptocurrencies, and even micro cryptocurrencies, on a daily basis. I am a firm believer of the blockchain protocol, and I believe it will eventually be the main method our world uses for exchanging goods and services. I also run an exchange service which involves Bitcoin.

Final Note

While I may have knowledge in the field of marketing, I do not know everything. I enjoy trial and error. Seeing what works and what doesn't. I enjoy taking constructive criticism. I hope to be accepted, so I can give and receive knowledge from various members of this fine group. Thank you for the opportunity to create an application and thank you for your consideration of acceptance into Crypto.

Anyone questioning why design is important for this application clearly does not have a strong understanding of marketing. I hope those of you who asked are coders!

Skill (Programming or Marketing): Marketer [img]http://i.ipixls.net/YtgkEcs.png[/img] Tell us about yourself: Here's an excerpt: I'm 17 years old currently living in Sydney where I attend my final year at school. I have been involved with successful marketing a variety of products within the marketplace where myself and the people I worked for were able to gain a successful amount of products. I know how to successfully market products through the use of design to the smallest things of the choice of colour. [img]http://i.ipixls.net/YtgkEcs.png[/img] What experience do you have?: as listed above, I have successfully ran a variety of stores on the marketplace. I use to run a VERY successful snapchat service, the first one of its kind where I was able to make a decent amount of profit. This thread is still on my account but how ever is no longer active. I have also successfully shops including LOL dispensers. [img]http://i.ipixls.net/YtgkEcs.png[/img] Why should you be accepted? (What do you have to offer?): I think that I should be accepted into the group as I am able Topeka fellow group members market there products or service they have for free. I will give honest and reliable feedback as long with valuable ideas on how they could make it more successful. I am a very friendly user, have a awesome sense of humour, and also one of the nicest and helpful users going around. You've misunderstood me. I was talking about "design" on application post, which on HF is nothing but copying group splash and divider images from OP and posting it again. A better way to do it would be showing a portfolio of previous work.

I don't see why that circlejerk is being enforced on all these recruitment threads.

I don't see why that circlejerk is being enforced on all these recruitment threads. The point of looking for well designed applications is to ensure that members who are accepted have the ability to create threads that are visually appealing, and effective at the same time. If your application looks good and makes me want to recruit you, then you successfully marketed yourself to me. If you can market yourself, you can most likely market a product.

Well when you put it like that it makes sense.

I don't see any great examples for it in this thread so far tho, haha.

Skill (Programming or Marketing):

My programming skills aren't that good yet.

i haven't learned enough yet so i am learning more every day.

my best languages are Swift and Python, and i want to learn c++ and Java, and more, programming languages like VB, and i want to learn every C language.

My marketing skills are good,

i know how to sell my product, i have a few techniques, and i could share them with the crypto community.

Tell us about yourself:

My name is TheMostDopePizza, i am a person that observers and maybe even is kinda introvert, i love learning and help people learn and motivate them, when i am not on Hackforums or at school or programming, i am skateboarding, or chilling with the homies!

I love discovering a lot of new money making techniques, and share them with the community.

What experience do you have?:

Python and Swift, and social engineering.

I have worked for a few jobs when i was younger.

administrative, and stores.

Why should you be accepted? (What do you have to offer?):

help the community, trade currency's, and talk about crypto currency, i am a mature member, and i am a respected member of Hackforums,

English might be my second language, but you probably have noticed i control it very well!

From 1-10, how knowledgeable are you in regards to cryptocurrency?:

My knowledge of crypto currency is probably an 8,

i have used Bitcoin, Dogecoin, Litecoin, and Omnicoin.

I have used Bitcoin for the most, and have made a few trades and transactions.

and i am now looking into crypto currency mining!

Thanks for reading and i hope i will get accepted to this cool group, greets from TheMostDopePizza

What skills do I have to offer?:

If I were to be able to join the Cryptocurrency group, I would be able to continue running my currency exchange thread and allow more credibility within my thread. Currently the thread has multiple vouches and a few pages of deals complete, along with deals surpassing $200+! I love to graphic design on the side, and used to design for a professional UFC fighter as well. Other than that, I certainly know how to make a quick buck purely based off flipping items and re-selling products.

[img]http://i.ipixls.net/YtgkEcs.png[/img]

Who am I?:

I am a 17 year old member of Hackforums, who initially had many doubts in purchasing any upgrades towards this site. At some point I decided to cave in and purchase upgrades in order to be more active on the site and build a reputation. I happily live in the United States, and work a part-time job while attending my senior year of high school.

[img]http://i.ipixls.net/YtgkEcs.png[/img]

What experience do you have?:

I am very experienced in a few different areas, but my favorite being crypto currency. Although risky at times, that has to be my favorite and most reliable income currently.

[img]http://i.ipixls.net/YtgkEcs.png[/img]

Why should you accept me?:

I should be accepted because not only do I have multiple skills that could benefit your group as a whole, I really love to stay active on forums. I am on everyday, and generally will lurk around the general section as well as the marketplace. I sometimes throw my own personal opinion into some posts, but I like to remain neutral for many positions.

[img]http://i.ipixls.net/YtgkEcs.png[/img]

From 1-10, how much knowledge do I have regarding crypto currency?:

I would rank myself as a 7 in regards to my knowledge revolving around crypto currency.

[img]http://i.ipixls.net/VM9z3Kh.png[/img] Skill (Programming or Marketing): I would defiantly say my best skill is the ability to get people to buy a product. I feel like this stems from my jobs that I have had in real life. I manage 2 fruit stands right now, and to make a living depends on my ability to get people to buy things. I love talking to people, I can strike up a conversation with just about anyone and feel like I have known them for years. Virtually my whole life is taking calculated risks on how I should advertise my two businesses, keeping my customers happy and coming back; this is exactly the type of person you need in this campaign. That is not the only way I could help though; I would also say I am very talented not in the programming itself, but producing ideas. I also feel like this stems from my real life, I worked construction with my dad and had to think on my feet when you would start building a house; Coming up with ideas and shooting them at him. This is what I would say my skills are pertaining to this certain campaign.

[img]http://i.ipixls.net/YtgkEcs.png[/img]

Tell us about yourself: Well let us start off with my name and where I am from. I am Dylan. I am college student at University of Missouri St. Louis (UMSL). I am a computer science and mathematics major. I am from a very small town in Jackson, MO. I was raised by two loving parents. My mom was a Pharmacist until I was born; then she decided to stay home with me. I had a modest living, I had an average home and a nice car. I feel like I am a very pleasing person, most people love to talk to me and love to hear my stories. I also love to talk to people; just to see how they think, what kind of person they are, and what they will be. I started getting into computers at the age of 10 when my older brother got his first laptop. I remember sneaking into his room and getting on the internet and just looking around. At the time I had no idea how vast the internet was. As I aged I got my own computer around 13 years old. I instantly went into the hardware side of computers. I wanted to see how they worked, how these tiny things CHANGED THE WORLD. It fascinated me. By the time I was 15 I was obsessed, every waking moment I would spend in front of my computer. Learning how to make paper airplanes all the way to learning how to set up a botnet. I started to get into the darker side of computers when I hit 16. I found this website and was a regular visitor. I would look at the RAT tutorials and just the thought of me having control over 100s of computers was just amazing. So I set off with my first RAT, Cerberus, I built my way up to about 150 clients. I held giveaways and had tutorials and help desks for people. But, I later grew out of that stage and got into bitcoins when I was 17/18. I had a miner and some money and I was off. I was making deals left and right and felt like a big kid. At the time, BTC were only worth like $10, so I had about 7 BTC and my computer was super slow, I decided I would erase my HDD and my wallet with it. No big deal right? it is only $70. I soon got a girlfriend after that and we had a 3 year relationship. I was not very active in the market. I checked back about 6 months later and say that my BTC that I basically threw away was worth around 3k !!! at 17 that is a lot of money. I got mad and vowed to never come back again. But then something happened. I used Coinbase, bought 50$ worth of BTC 1:1 and someone asked to buy it for $55. I thought to myself, I would be stupid not to do that. And thus my journey is still going on, I am now a full time trader with the help of my grandma, I usually do deals off site considering the risk here on HF, but I recently started dabbing in the exchange section here and have had lots of positive encounters here. Thus I plan on being a big deal here in the future. This is about all I can think of now about myself. If you would like to get to know me more personal, please feel free to send me a PM

[img]http://i.ipixls.net/YtgkEcs.png[/img]

What experience do you have?: I have 3 years of experience with crypto currency, I have trade on multiple site with a countless number of people. I have experience in marketing via my two jobs as mentioned above and also some programming skills. I feel like I would be a great asset for sales.

[img]http://i.ipixls.net/YtgkEcs.png[/img]

Why should you be accepted? (What do you have to offer?): I feel like I would be a huge asset for you and your campaign. Here is why;

1.) Reputation is everything - I will make sure the group is clean, I will not and have not ever scammed anyone. As soon as word gets out about a scammer in a group the groups reputation is ruined, and what is a group without reputation? Nothing. So if you recruit me, I will make sure to only bring positive feedback when I wear the badge.

2.) Sales are key to a business - This group you obviously want to grow, I can be one of your top sales men if given the chance. I feel like I am a very friendly guy and very convincing. If you would like your group to grow whether it be via, giveaways, products, or recruitment, I know I can help you advance.

3.) Interests - A group will surely crumble if most do not share the same interest. When you add me I will be the first to post on topics, I will debate my heart out and talk to anyone about BTC, LTC, or OMC.

These are the three things I can bring to the group that I feel are most important.

[img]<http://i.ipixls.net/YtgkEcs.png>[/img]

From 1-10, how knowledgeable are you in regards to cryptocurrency?: I would honestly say I am a 8. I am not going to say that I know everything there is to know about cryptos; because I don't, and I never will. But that is why I want to join so badly, so I can learn and better myself with other individuals who feel the same way. I would say that is why I am not a 10. I feel like I am an 8 because of my ~3 years of doing business via BTC and other cryptos. I read up on articles every day and if not one day then the next. It intrigues me and the conspiracy behind it all is amazing. I am and 8 because my grandma and grandpa are both full time investors and now have 3 homes they rent to people a home in my town and a vacation home in florida. Doing the same thing I am doing. They help me every step of the way and help me with any question I ask. This is why I consider myself an 8.

I really hope you enjoy my read to say the least. I hope you think of me as a candidate and I would be honored to be a part of your group.

Best regards,

Dylan
