Thread: TaiG Jailbreak

M?tt - July 23, 2015, 8:27 pm

So I want to jailbreak my old iPhone 4S. I'm primarily going to use it for entertainment purposes to toy around with on WiFi. I won't be activating this. I'm curious if TaiG is free whatsoever. I remember previously, we never paid for a jailbreak so I'm not sure if something has changed since and I figured I'd ask here.

Yes taig is free. However a 4S will be slow.

And what WiFi things? Only thing I know is fix WiFi range issues and see passwords you wrote.

Go to the official taig site on pc.

Find the latest download links, idk press changelog or something I couldn't find it at first lmao

Backup phone

Disable find my iPhone

Disable passcode

Disable auto lock

Restore device as NEW! OTHERWISE IT WON'T WORK

Now put phone in airplane mode

open taig as administrator.

Ur ready m8

You can extract what's needed from the backup or iCloud

Just a side note, NEVER EVER EVER EVER pay for a jailbreak, EVER. They will ALWAYS be free so no matter how good "We jailbreak and unlock any iOS device for just $99.99" DO NOT DO IT. However, you absolutely should consider donating to the legit releases.

It keeps asking for a registration code when I download it off their website That is why I was under the impression that I had to pay.

You could send me a message, I will walk you through, if you can't do it yourself.
