Nex+ - July 26, 2015, 7:01 pm

Athena IRC is now $50 until the end of the month, originally at $175. Athena HTTP is dropped to $100 until the end of the month, normally being $300. Get your discounts before the end of the month people.

I can vouch for AthenaIRC, I've seen it in the past and it's a wonderful product. For the time being Nex I'd suggest keeping it a clean text thread until you make the new thread design, I'm sure Understalker doesn't enjoy the people adding him on skype.

PLT ? - July 27, 2015, 7:10 pm

Any vouch from Stoner on you having the actual source and permission to sell this? If I can remember correctly he said he didn't give Understalker permission to sell nor did he have the source. I could be wrong, though.

Secondly, I was an old customer of Athena 2.3.5 like 2 years ago. Am I still eligible for a rebuild? Since it's the same bot I think that would be fair.

I have asked Finch to crypt the bin for me to test it out and he did, we ran a test of the file and nothing happens, it does not work and OP as not responded to any PM yet which is bad customer support.

And btw i bought Gorynch bin from Finch and he set all up for me and even crypted my bin with same crypter (Dark Eye) and it works perfectly and that guy as what i call a good customer support unlike this seller here, when you type him many messages he ignores you claiming your spamming him.

I have nothing but regrets because i lost $50 for this bin and $15 for the crypter that as error which is still unfixed for 5 days now, So bad investment guys, thats all i can say.

Same here, except that i bought the http version.

Going to open scam report later today.

If the customer service for this project was at all decent, Nex would be contacting this customer in particular due to the nature of their discussions.

It's obvious a lot of you guys on here lack basic business skills, and as far as Nex is concerned, both that and money.

Well considering Nex is only twice a day and that too for a limited amount of time, it isn't like we can provide BINs every second.

Furthermore, Nex was initially provided with a nonfunctional builder, which was fixed later on. This user specifically didn't receive the BIN after it was fixed, and its upto him to contact Nex.

Also the Terms of Service of both AthenaHTTP/IRC says that it is "upto the customer to contact us after purchase"

Once again this draws back to my previous comment about customer service. If I had a customer who was experiencing major problems with a product/service I provided, I'd be bending over backwards to correct the fault for them.

Yes i have to agree with you because it is true, This bot as bad execution rates and also i could easily kill it through task manager because it lacks persist-ency and this as bad execution rates with many crypters even Jana Dark.

So OP seems like there is alot of work to do on this bot before it becomes stable, So far for me i have stopped using this because of the issues above.

Also the main think that hurts your sales is 0 persistence. If somone can close the bot in taskmanager its really not worth.

I would be instreasted in buying the bot if
A: You are working to fix the bugs
B: You are adding the rootkit you say there is in the bot.
C: Everyone gets free rebuild to the updated/fixed version of the bot.

Note: I did decompiled the stub to get most of this information... against the rules... probably. All i have to say is i was unable to locate the EULA i agreed to.

First off the UI:

- Looks fine to me. works as it should... good job :)

The keylogging method:

- Uses SetWindowsHookEx with WH_KEYBOARD_LL which is a low level keyboard hook. I like that

AntiVM:

- Anti Virtualbox VMware and QEMU are all solid af, and preform multiple checks to determine if the process is in a vm

- WARNING -> there is NO anti wine... at all. The code is simply not there.

AntiSanboxie:

- Its there. It works. Good

P2P Spreader:

- Most likely wont work without admin as it just copies the current exe into a ton of locations the c:\Program Files\ which will require admin on XP and up

Hide Process:

- Tries to call RegisterServiceProcess from kernel32.dll

- Im not 100% sure on this, but that function is from like windows 9x its not gonna work from like

XP and above im guessing. Just a guess

Startup:

- Installs its HKCU Run. This should work like a charm and is fairly passive, so likely wont trigger AVs
- But then tries to copy itself into Program Files... so that's not gonna go well

Disable UAC:

- Sets the EnableLUA key in HKLM to 0. It will require admin, but works.

Usb Spreader:

- Old autorun.inf method. It will work on XP sp2 and below... i believe... maybe XP sp3

Skype Spreader:

- Drops a .vbs file inside of system32. Will require admin to work

MSN Spreader:

- Just wow. So... thats not gonna work on anything about XP
Code Dim text As String = "C:\Documents and Settings\" + Interaction.Environ("USERNAME") +
"\Local Settings\Application Data\Microsoft\Messenger\" - haha lol. creates a file called
"mypornpics.scr" love it :P

Disable Firewall:

- Just does command line "netsh.exe firewall set opmode disable" which i know for a fact that will need admin rights to work on anything above XP

Sending Data:

- From the looks of the code, but SMTP and FTP should work like a charm
- Encrypted With TripleDES :) Good

Killers:

- No joke, they dont exist... plain and simple. They are just there in the builder for looks. Wow. Unacceptable.

Stealers:

- They seem to be there. Its included in passwords.dll as a resource. The dll is null obfuscated.
- As i cant actually test it, see "running the logger in Vms", i have no clue if they actually work.
- EDIT: Upon further examination, the stealer checkboxes are just for show in the builder. Whether they are checked or not is not put into the stub.

Well, thats all the functions i looked into. Personally its looks like this was made for win9x users.. but i will continue onto the next part..

Does that mean you bought Athena HTTP just now?

Or did you buy it way back in 2014 when someone else was selling it?

Both answers would be a lie since you just came online and posted your reply while Nex is offline and only way to contact him to buy Athena HTTP is via PM. Unless he responded and set up your botnet in few minutes while being offline (Let's just not mention the 5 min transaction wait time) your full of lies.

Nex also has something known as SKYPE for contact.

Stop whining since you just gave a wrong URL, your mistake

(Aug 24, 2015 03:03 PM)Hate™ Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Hello,

I bought Athena HTTP and after I received a txt file saying I need to contact ?Nex on the forums. I did that and he kept asking me for my gate.php url but he didn't give me any files yet.

After I added him on Skype and asked for the files, he send me it. I set it up with a few problems with importing to the database which he ignored. At the end I got it working myself and send him my gate.php url.

Then he send the .exe over Skype not the builder that I was expecting, my antivirus immediately deleted the file. I asked him if he could send it again. He told me he deleted it and it would cost me 15$ for a rebuild. I was able to restore the file.

Now I run the file on my virtual machine and the bot doesn't show up in my Athena Panel.

I asked him very kindly on Skype even said please if he could help me by telling me if it works on virtual machines.

(The whole conversation I was being very kind and asking with please)

From that point he ignored me, I will reinstall my laptop and test if the file works on none virtual environment.

I will update my comment when I am done testing if it works at all.

#EDIT

I run it on my laptop to see if it's working at all and it seems to be in the process list but not showing up in my Athena Panel

Note that I don't have antivirus or firewall installed on my laptop.

My conclusion is that he send me broken files, who knows maybe on purpose.

I was really excited about this and I am very upset it had to go this way.
sorry you didn't see my reply before you bought it

I clicked the url i send you on skype and guess what? It opens the gate.php page! Even shows me current connections from bots!

If you want proof I can post screenshots of url I send you via PM and Skype!
Maybe you don't know how to copy paste it the url?

I paid 100$ so I can have the latest working version! Give me my money back or give me what I paid for!

Nice try, but I provided him the correct url I even tested it with Cracked Athena Builder, manually clicked/visit the url and it works! Either you guys don't know how to copy paste or you send me a broken file.

When I actually attempted to use the commands, specifically botkill, and various DDOS commanding, not a single one functioned. I contacted Nex numerous times now, and one of his partners, and no response yet. It's been days now. And now, after my countless, still patient message via skype, I have yet to receive a response. And to make things even worse, I now can't even access my panel. I've seen messages about that as well, and still have received no response. Because that source has a 15% execution rate and is broken. Thats why.

According to the 2 of 42 people that bought it? They didn't know what a gate url was so I'm pretty sure they have no business in this field. Issue was on their end not mine.

Just asking, why this over a RAT like LuminosityLink?

I dont want to advertise/trash other products. BUT

RATs > Botnets

This has less features, but is able to hold a lot more bots.

Luminosity has a hell of a lot more features, but will struggle to hold more then 1000 bots.

VolkoffHttp - September 21, 2015, 4:33 pm

Nex got a lot of heat for his product not working so he didn't want to buy sticky on botnet section so he had to come to Rats.

Botnets are made for holding bots, and specific purposes such as mass password stealing, using it as a DDoS botnet, and so on.

Botnets can easily hold over 20k+ bots while RATs would lag at such numbers.

RATs -> for most features

Botnets -> for serious herding of bots

Sorry for being off topic but I just couldnt get over this.

RAT = remote administration tool --> it is used to infect a personal computers and control it

BOT(aka slave, zombie) = PC infected with rat

BOTNET = multiple bots connected on the same server that controls them.

When will you guys learn the difference. It doesnt matter what features are present.

The general purpose for Botnets is for DDoS attacks, sure they have other purposes but they're built for stability. RATs are usually built for messing with individuals. Sure at the base of the origin of both RATs and Botnets, the idea is the same, control over somebody else's computer.

i think u don't knew any thing about LL and how much of bots can work with i have online 700 online /3000 tot and LL had down with that LL can hold bots, but how about holding 20,000 bots? Obviously it would LAG.

LL has more functions though, yeah, but not a capacity.

A botnet is mainly for DDoSing, mass pw/file stealing, etc.

Let me know how it goes when you have 3000 online at once. It will eat your bandwidth and lag. Ive been using LL since it was launched.

Hi there,

You are judging based off the version _Stoner was selling. The version that Understalker was selling was better and then when Nex took over, the stub was completely recoded.

And as you can see, you're a multi with 3~ accounts already. Wouldnt be hard to know you're just causing drama.

Sabontile - September 26, 2015, 5:16 am

Ok here goes.

I bought (Athena HTTP + Hosting + (i requested if it was possible to have 500 bots included, no problem)) almost 2 weeks ago.

As of now, the only thing that works is the link to Athena HTTP (which i can also just download cracked and run on a server...), the included binary still does not work after asking Nex and his coder several times to fix this.

As for the bots, i got refunded almost immediately because he could not deliver. Appreciated.

The first week Nex replied to my questions almost instantly, or whenever he came online. Now it has been almost 2 days that i have heard of him. I have been a very patient person, but after almost 2 weeks still not having what i've payed for, kind of starts to piss me off.

Nex (kind) of agreed on fully refunding me, but obviously that also did not happen.

I can write so much about what he/we said the past 2 weeks but the important thing is that it just does not work and he cannot deliver.

So for those still doubting on buying. Don't. Definitely not at this moment.

I do hope that Nex gets his stuff working because he is, for the time that i have spoken with him, a very friendly person and helpful in the ways he can.

Greetings

I have spoken to him after i made the post.

But blaming it on someone else is not an option.
If you sell something, you and only you are responsible!

A scam report post will follow by the end of the week.
In other words, i gave this 3 weeks.
