Thread: [\[Preview\] Early stage of my project](#)

ElementalTree - July 28, 2015, 7:57 am

Hey, started working on this 2 days ago and wanted to show my progress. It's yet another anime streamer ?

Spoiler \(Click to View\)

Haven't been posting much else than questions lately, wanted to post something different. Will be releasing this once it's finished with or without source (haven't decided)
Any suggestions about features and such that would be nice to have?

Thanks ?

Looks cool. Though you might want to think about that feature that allows you to search for items while you type. If you're loading items in from an external source then it might be really costly and slow for some computers. If all items have been loaded already before the search then it's fine looks like a run down version of Net Streamer... =z I mean if it works good then I'm looking forward to it... I wish someone would take over the Net Streamer project :(

They're loaded before the search begins so is cool.

Never knew it was discontinued, sad because it was a nice thing

Could've made it better if I knew where to find a stable movie grid, or even better, knew how to create one from scratch.

EDIT- and a listview aswell :<

This looks pretty cool GL. Although not a fan of how the program looks.

If you mean Nettro, I've already tried his and it didn't work out for me. He actually shared that one because of me aswell
