I went on for a little bit but it didn't look like it had any sort of way to play YouTube videos or anything, sure it works for just talking and chatting but looks like its more based on using your mic and stuff whereas a lot of people prefer to just talk via text.

Alright to the person who just inboxed me with the new user link I can't respond to you it won't let me pm back until I've sent 25 messages or something like that just to clarify I'm not reading and not responding ha that'd be rude af. :) but anyways I doubt the answer to my question is in there it's a hack related question rather than a what's allowed on this site question. Shoulda been more specific.
