Can someone please explain?

Is there any quick-fix? Dont want to wait 1 year for steam support to answer with a auto-message

Try if you can send payments from your paypal directly.

I had this a couple of weeks ago, I just waited an hour and it worked again.

Hope you find a solution!

I had this issue 24/7 with my paypal too, what i did to fix it was send money to my friend, then my friend sent it back so it'd be 'on my paypal' as balance. Then purchases did work.. lol

Nothing seems to work actually

If you used a VPN or a bought account that has been previously logged in from a other country then your own, then you should login and wait for hours/day until currency/country has been set to yours.

You can use any other local or gift payment though, but Paypal and some other similar options check location etc and block the transaction if not matching ?

Buy a steam wallet card on g2a with paypal and add that to your account?

Stikman - August 3, 2015, 8:27 pm

Contact steam support, that's the only way
