Thread: Anime fan, where to watch for free?

Chair123 - August 3, 2015, 8:50 am

Hello all,

I recently got into Anime (Naruto), on Netflix. Then I found out that Netflix only has 3 seasons, but in the future I want to watch more, without spending money. Any websites where I can watch anime for free without spending money, and without annoying ads?

Thank you!

Just search Kissanime in google it is the best website you could ever find has everything even anime movies.

NetBreak - August 3, 2015, 9:53 am also you can try animeultima, I download / stream anime there.

kissanime is bestest, free 1080p, much faster in uploading new content than shittyroll.

And shitloads of anime + movies to watch, subbed or unsubbed, you choose.

Check out <http://www.masterani.me/>, great design no annoying ads.

moetube.com or kissanime.com

nyaa.eu is where most of the fansubbers upload their stuff too. Why settle for shitty third party uploads when you can get your anime straight from the subbers. Just get mpc-hc or VLC to watch it and download what you want.

Kissanime, Gogoanime, Moetube, Nyaa.se or just google "<Anime name> fansub" and you'll most likely end up on a fansub team website who's doing/has done the anime you're looking for.

I'm always on Kissanime. I go on MasterAni.me if I have an issue with a video on KA.

Try Moetube, it's what I personally use.

Can't deal with all the shit kissanime does of ads it literally makes the video lagg in the start on my windows 10 i7 computer with both the OS and web browser on a SSD, on a 75/75 connection (so it's not on my part). I know why they do it and all, they want ad revenue. But 50 fucking ads on every page WHEN IT'S NOT EVEN THEIR CONTENT is too much. Altho you can adblock it and bypass their anti-adblock stuff, fuck it. So I use masterani for streaming. Animebytes for dl (or just nyaa)

You could try Popcorn-Time or just download it by using Torrent?

Usually the best way to find ur anime is to just google it and find a hd copy if possible. Othevise just download it from a torrent site and watch it on 720/1080p.

I'll be uploading Naruto on MoeTube soon. Just sorting out serving kinks atm.

Expect the whole franchise to be uploaded by the end of the week or so.
