Exactly my fucking point. And look at all the positive rep this kid is getting. He should be repfucked. He does not deserve any of it.

So? He is still offering something to the community that people are interested in. Why is that bad, he isn't saying it's private and he isn't making anything out of it apart from obviously the odd green pixel that's making you jelly bro. Gtfo.

I'm not Jelly about it at all. Look at what he said in his thread: I've seen some people selling these scripts I got this one for free and would like to share with you.

He got this one for free, but he doesn't say where he got it, how he got it, or who he got it from.

Craze - August 3, 2015, 6:01 pm

People have the choice to rep or not.

I hope you know that.

I understand that. But they are repping him because they think he is sharing something no one has in the community for free, when in reality the script was leaked and is known. If half of the people who repped him knew that it was leaked, I can guarantee you they wouldn't rep him.

He got this one for free, but he doesn't say where he got it, how he got it, or who he got it from. So? Would you ask where how or who someone got 100s of cracked Netflix/Minecraft/Whatever accounts if they offered you it for free? No.

Shut the fuck up and deal with it, if he was selling it I'd agree with you. Someone else's rep shouldn't bother you.

Actually, thats not it at all. I am complaining because he is getting praised for something thats not even his.

At least you are not being blamed for being a multi accounter in your reputation page!!!

Okay dipshit, go post this super leaked script public for the forum and specifically ask for no rep. Saves you bitching about it.

His rep doesn't bother me, its the principle of him getting praised for something that he didn't do. The script was already leaked. He is making it sound like this is a BIG deal.

Rep envy bro? who cares, let him do his fucking thing. Spend more time contributing to the community and less time complaining about a miniscule portion of it.

Again, no. The problem I have with this is he keeps getting praised by people who think he is giving away something special, when in reality he's not and its been leaked.

I never claimed it being 'my problem'. Its the people who thought what he was doing was something special's problem. He lied to them.
