Thread: WORKING crypter scantime AND runtime fud and stable with Luminosity!

Xsal_Ice - August 5, 2015, 1:59 am

Searching for a working crypter for my Luminosity.

Functions i need:

- GOOD EXECUTION RATE!
- Autostart functions
- FUD 0-35 RUNTIME AND SCANTIME!
- stable

I want to see my stub working before buying this. Till now everyone was only speaking but no crypter worked as intended. I dont want to crypt a file 10000000 times and then it MAYBE will work with a execution rate under 10% and still will be detected by behaviour analysis from AVs lol.

So does anyone have a real crypter here for sell?

Do you use dolphin protector with luminosity? If yes contact me for details pls.

On the paper they all work epic and have the best functions. Practically HF crypters are 98% bullshit.

Never bought LL, I use it with xRAT.

Yes, it works with LL though.

Its not bullshit, I know the owner and am completely independent from him. If its shit I'll tell hf its shit.

I've recommended a few other people to buy, all have been skeptic but have bought, not one complaint from them yet.

One guy even spent over $900 on crypters and bots that didn't work, he's happy now.

I dont know xRAT. I want to hear opinions from customers which use Dolphin Protector with Lumi pls.

can someone provide me a link to dolphin?

Contact Harelz about it, he uses LL.

I am a customer, yes, I use xRAT (its the best free, open source rat).

Sorry had a TV session with another crypter.

So im still searching, dont bought till now.

I want to see a working build of my Lumi stub. Working on a machine with AV activated and even working after restarts.
