Thread: Vintage dog from the mid 1980s paying \$30 for a finders fee. Still need it duckyshucky - August 6, 2015, 11:51 am

Hello,

I'm looking for a vintage stuffed animal that is a dog, mostly brown in color with some white on it. I've been told its a pound puppy but I can't find any pound puppy that matches the brown / white description, also in the pic below there isn't anything similar to a pound puppy that looks like this so I need help scouring the net to find out exactly what it is.

its the brown thing with the white strip in the middle of the screen. rough pic, I know

The only other information that I have is that it had a fuzzy face (pound puppy furries I thought) but still can't find one with brown / white like in the picture above.

I'm paying $30 to whoever can find it. I'm just looking for a maker/model/name/picture of the dog so that I can search and buy one.

Thanks so much,

Ducky

I'm still looking for the stuffed animal. Let me know.

Had a quick look around, only dog stuffed animals that show up when I focus on the 80's are tonka dogs, but they came in a huge variety of colors, so maybe your brown one is their somewhere o.o

I've been looking around there. Can't find it... although that's why I'm offering money, for someone else to find it :).

Both have santa hats on, the dog in my pic does not have a hat on. Thank you though.

Ya, its a present. I'm having a hard time finding it though. I've messaged several vintage sellers on ebay, posted on some vintage toy forums, posted on reddit, here, no dice :(.

I've tried exhausting my resources in tracking down this damn stuffed animal.

I don't know man, I don't want you to lose hope but this seems nearly impossible.

i think its this, judging by the point of the white thing its not the color of the dog but a white ribbon or collar

Still looking for this damn dog. You can see the top of his head in the picture. the view is from the top of the dog. The face is mostly white and the body is brown.
