AutoPin

[#] Autopin is one of my latest projects - it's a runescape pin logger & it basically captures the users pin code(s).

[#] Autopin is fully undetectable by all anti-viruses.

[#] Autopin adds itself to the users startup.

[#] Autopin has zero dependencies and will therefore work on any windows computer.

[#] Autopin uses image technology and will work on any runescape client, private server and browser.

[#] Autopin will also include the time and date so you know exactly when the user entered his pin.

[#] Autopin uploads the files in a organized manner, so you'll know which computer entered what pin code, at what time and date.

[#] Autopin uploads images of the users pin code in a customizable speed to a FTP server, or it can save them to the users computer.

[#] Virus scan: Spoiler (Click to View)

[#] $14: No support, no updates & no FTP server provided.

[#] $17: Teamviewer & skype support, lifetime updates, FTP server provided!

[#] Payment methods:

[#] I accept BITCOINS & Runescape coins.

Looks good, you should add how much RSGP you'd charge for this due to the price being different .23/.27 a mill RS3 and 07

Strayta - August 9, 2015, 2:39 pm

Any screenshots? Seems pretty cool to me

If someones interested they'll contact me and we'll discuss a reasonable rate, although it would probably be in your favour to purchase with bitcoins.

There isn't really a GUI to take a screenshot off ?

CYNTEX - August 9, 2015, 2:41 pm

Nice product :)
Vouch for Shaco ^^
GLWS Shaco ;)

DamienVC - August 9, 2015, 2:44 pm

Can you post a link to the virus scan sir?

May I ask how much CPU this uses as from what I'd imagine using an image based technology would show a small impact on lower spec computers?

It has close to 0 impact, in other words 17mb which is nothing.
It could run perfect on a 1GB machine, even though everyone has probably 4GB of RAM or more.

WOL??IE - August 9, 2015, 4:33 pm

Vouch for shaco, he is an awesome coder :)

itsMeCherry - August 9, 2015, 4:43 pm nice release, too bad i dont play rs anymore. glws mate.

Vobe - August 9, 2015, 4:45 pm

What can you do with the pin code(s).?

tweety - August 9, 2015, 4:45 pm

Runescape pin loggers are against HackForum rules.

We recommend you take the time to read the HF Help Documents section. The answer to your questions should be contained in there.

And yes, I did actually read it.

(Aug 9, 2015 04:45 PM)Mundo Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) What can you do with the pin code(s).?
These pin codes are used on runescape accounts to basically protect your bank. The sole purpose of the program is to capture the pin whenever the user types it in, so you hopefully don't forget it.

This seems very cool. Any corruptions when bound to a RAT/Keylogger?

I really doubt that there would be any problems.

Spoiler (Click to View) I do not endorse any blackhat activity.

Would be neat if you organized the account username:password -- bank pin on a nice little panel instead of ftp. GLWS.

Yes, it uploads to the ftp with organized folders!

You will know which computer it was, and what time and date.
