thanks for your opinion. ???

ItsSnow - August 10, 2015, 4:19 pm

Why do all these MyBB forums look the same. They all using the same theme. My god get original man. Every site that gets posted on here uses MyBB and all look similar, except one obviously. Anyways, I hope you make tons of money for not being original.

The forum is in beta stage and who cares what it looks like if it can gain a good community who can help each other make money online. Not trying to make money from this. Simply trying to help others and myself gain methods to earn money online. Thanks for your input though.

You need 2,500 posts or 1,250 threads on your forum to cash out $50 lol

Honestly the reason this forum looks unappealing to me is that you, as the Administrator/Owner, act really unprofessional. Bad grammar in all of your posts, even wrong capitalization and such.

Not trying to knock you down here I'm just helping you see why I (and most likely lots of other people) aren't registering. It seems like a forum run by young teenagers that don't honestly know the first thing about making money.

Like I said not just being a hater trying to give you some feedback, good luck with the forum!

Thanks for the honest feedback, I could really care less about my grammar ETC when I am speaking in sections such as the spam forum. I'm 21 years old in September, took college English composition and did great it in so I can type but if I'm using my phone (90% of the time I'm posting as I just started school again) Auto correct fucks me around.

And I can assure you I know much more than you will ever know about making money.

See man, this is what I mean by unprofessional haha. Never once did I claim to know more about "making money" than you did. E-whoring on BDSM sites isn't everything. But anyways.. ?

ROFL OMG - August 25, 2015, 7:51 pm

(Aug 25, 2015 07:33 PM)Nice Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) See man, this is what I mean by unprofessional haha. Never once did I claim to know more about "making money" than you did. E-whoring on BDSM sites isn't everything. But anyways.. ?

1. "It seems like a forum run by young teenagers that don't honestly know the first thing about making money."

--- incorrect so please don't make accusations about someone you have no clue about. Because I can assure you I have made much more money then you online. (yeah unprofessional to say that right)

2. I am not a teenager, I know how to make money online better then most but don't have the time to post all the threads on the forum myself that's why we are asking for members to contribute. Grammar is currently pretty bad due some of our issues with our textbox's that are being fixed, for example this is what it looks like when you try and respond to someones post

<https://gyazo.com/0ee1fde51a62fd322832ba13f997a526>

So please, I really respect the criticism because that helps me understand what I should be doing, but you also have to remember I am not the only owner of the forum, saint it. So please, next time you decide to hate and say negative things on our forum thread about our forum we are trying to build, maybe do a little background searching.

Nice - August 25, 2015, 7:58 pm

I said "it seems like" not "it is", and then went on to say that the reason for this is because of the grammar.

I was merely suggesting to fix your grammar. When everything is misspelled, punctuation and capitilization are missing, etc.. People tend to think lesser of you and that's why it "SEEMS" like it's a group of young teens who don't know much about the subject.

But whatever you say brotha-man good luck ?

ROFL OMG - September 18, 2015, 11:41 am
