Thread: << NEW >>SocialSpread >> NEVER BUY BOTS AGAIN \\\ Twitter+Facebook+Skype Spreader <<

Nex+ - August 10, 2015, 6:51 pm

SocialSpread is a new innovative automated spreading tool that will increase your infection rates by over 1000%. SocialSpread automatically mass messages all saved contacts on Skype, Facebook and Twitter - with a custom message - which will in turn result in more binary infections. SocialSpread is capable of being used to spread binaries so that you can end up with a decent botnet in no time! You will not have to purchase any bots or spreading eBooks anymore, since SocialSpread is here to automate the process of spreading!

Features include: Silent Session Hijacker, Password Recovery, Custom Login, Facebook Spreader, Twitter Spreader, Skype Spreader, UAC Bypass, Critical Process, Restart Process, Anti DLL Injection, Anti Debug Mode, Add to Startup, Melt File, and even more....!

To purchase with PerfectMoney, OMC or Amazon Gift Card, PM me or email ctOS@protonmail.ch

Official Product:

SocialSpread is brought forward by Divine, an official coders group which has been well known for its high quality products and programming and coding services. It has an in-built session hijacker and a password recovery tool which will initiate a silent session on the target PC and start the mass messaging.

SocialSpread Features:

- [+]AV Scanner - Inbuilt antivirus scanner that scans your stub with over 40+ antivirus engines
- [+]Account Info - Displays NetSeal Account info including username, expiry date, etc
- [+]Add to Startup -SocialSpread process also opens up on startup
- [+]Anti DLL Injection - Protects your process from DLL injection and ring3 packet hooks. This ensures that the process remains undisturbed
- [+]Anti Debug Option - Prevents your stub from being reverse engineered or debugged
- [+]Bypass UAC - Fully functional method that bypasses User Account Control prompt once executed.
- [+]Custom Login Info You can specify a custom login to be used instead of session hijacking or password recovery
- [+]Delay Execution - Delays the program execution time by a custom amount of seconds
- [+]Disable Firewall - Disables Windows Firewall so that it does not interfere with the spreading process
- [+]Facebook Spreader - Mass messages all contacts on Facebook

[+]Melt File - An advanced mechanism that melts the file after execution, and changes its location
[+]Password Recovery - SocialSpread also recovers password from browsers and opens a new silent session if any open session is not found.
[+]Protect Process - Sets your process state as critical and results in a BSoD if terminated
[+]Restart Process - Restarts the mass messaging process after a custom timeout
[+]Session Hijacker - SocialSpread uses client-side open sessions and hijacks them to perform the spreading process
[+]Skype Spreader - Mass messages all contacts on Skype
[+]Twitter Spreader - Performs a mass tweet which is then viewed by all followers.

It wasn't just us, it was our team of coders we had working on this project. We have been beta testing it and tweaking things for the past month to make sure everything is great and more functional to customers standards.

DamienVC - September 8, 2015, 11:40 pm

We were pre-testing this tool since a whole month so that it will be only high quality, and effectively do its job of automating the spreading process. We have been adjusting things alongside other coders and programmers as well as tuning up the program itself.

The program is 100% Scantime and Runtime FUD.

What was the results?

Theres no text spinning features in the message, wont the message/link get blocked really fast?

I doubt you did any large scale testing during beta.

I doubt you did any large scale testing during beta.

It was been under testing for 1 whole month, we have not had our site blacklisted yet.

The only thing that can get your messages blocked, that too as multiple same spam messages to one contact, is if you enable loop and put delay at like 0.1 seconds, which will obviously seem botted.

We have tested over 10k+ messages with a single link.

Just make sure your message doesn't contain anything in its blacklist (eg. ge.tt / adfl.y / etc)
You can use URL shorteners like bit.ly [WARNING: potentially infected] or goo.gl though but they wouldn't look legit.

You can input a custom message with a link to your website (for site promotion), or your binary link (you can also link it to your EK link, JDB setup, or an image link using the .htaccess exploit).

The beta phase took over 1 month of testing, which does mean it has been tested multiple times before release

Awesome you test it thorough before putting it in the market.

Just some math here.

You run the spreader on 1000 clients, 50% of them have fb session, they each have 100 friends average. That's 50k messages. Say 10% of them actually download and runs the link (assuming you're spreading the spreader), that's 5k new clients, another 250k messages sent.

Im guessing fb will block the message pretty fast no?

Rendering the build useless and you need to make a new one with a new url and message.

I know we already discussed this in skype, just hoping for a reply from the fb dev.

I know we already discussed this in skype, just hoping for a reply from the fb dev.I dont think the "FB Dev" might reply. They just blacklist links based on spam, furthermore, I dont think they'd blacklist a private domain just over it being kind of "viral" or "widespread" - Else tons of YouTube videos should already have been blacklisted.

What do you even mean by "results" screenshot?
Stub compilation? Stub scan results? Messages sent after execution?

ASMR - September 15, 2015, 10:02 am some result pictures (like a picture taken with few clients, and a couple days later, many more clients got with this application.) would be nice to see.

not just vouches, but some actual results got with this program.

also, to make it grab the message to post on facebook, twitter, skype, etc from some url would be nice, so it could be changed anytime by the user just incase the message would get blocked by one of the services.
steam and reddit spreaders would be pretty cool additions aswell.

anyways, seems interesting project and if someone posts good results got with this application, id be interested to buy.

Spreading a binary comes along with a lot more work, and these are usually used to spread exploits.

Testing some new methods, do you customers have anything specific eg. Steam/Outlook spreaders to suggest? Taking suggestions for the time being~

A steam spreader would be cool, and not too hard to do. You can use public source and modify it ;) ?

I believe that program is able to send a message to all your friends.

Another steam thing you could do it to post in all groups that the infected user is part of. gl ?

Another steam thing you could do it to post in all groups that the infected user is part of. gl ? Well thats based on Steam API, pretty easy if you ask me, just like Skype was.

Facebook/Twitter required HTTP scripts though.

Will be considering adding Steam in near future. First off, continuing onto more browsers on Password Recovery.

Nevertheless, thanks for your suggestion. ?

What did you do for the Facebook/Twitter? Intercept the HTTP request and modify it with your message or simply just recover their info from browsers then send their friends a message?

Intrigued.

It doesn't intercept any outgoing messages, it opens a silent new session and does the messaging. (based off recovered passwords or open sessions)

We aren't just using HTTP webrequests to perform the process. I guess we shouldn't reveal it all, mhm? ?

Kind of, even though an emulated browser session might generate too much load on the server.

Innovative products do come up on the marketplace at times.

@Damien & Nex something that would make this truly amazing, although I'm not sure if it's possible, would be to add a feature that gets tumblr and adds a specified iframe to the blogs. Now that would be some advanced shit... A tumblr worm that generates traffic.

If I was a badman hacker I would certainly buy that. This atm looks like a nice product though I'm interested to see any results users are getting.

I would consider the tumblr suggestion. I'm thinking to more modules (eg. silent session of Omegle with 4-5 specified messages / Tumblr / Steam / etc)

Its been only 2~ weeks since this has been in circulation, not much customers though, you can wait for future reviews though. ?

@DamienVC just bought the version of 15$ via paypal but i have some questions.

I have no idea how it works, on the description you say " SocialSpread also recovers password from browsers and opens a new silent session if any open session is not found."

and much more features but i don,t see nothing or i don,t have a clue how.

It,s only a software that make a .exe .. BUT what it do? When people open the exe what will hapen? How can i see statistics and a control of my victims?

Regards and waiting you on skype.

Literally just got scammed by this guy... Spent 10 minutes telling me how this Spreader loads up skype as a background process and spreads. After I bought it the file has a text file with this in it:

Currently we only have Chrome in this version, version 1.0.1 will have firefox, opera, and IE.
Stay tuned.

Skype spreader is disabled for the time being as it was causing crashing. Will be working on it.

Now he is ignoring me. Will be posting a scam report right now.
