Thread: Need some beta testers for new C++ keylogger \(more info inside\)

Kindfile - August 11, 2015, 4:13 pm

Hi guys,

I am looking for some beta testers who can test a keylogger on various Windows systems and provide feedback.

A little information on the keylogger: The keylogger is written in C++.

It uses FTP and HTTP delivery methods.

It uses an online panel to compile the actual keylogger (so you do not need to download a builder - see pictures below).

If you are interested, please PM me - once this project is in production - I will be able to compensate your time with some free access.

Remember please: only contact me if you are capable of testing on various machines and actually providing feedback - please don't see this as an opportunity to simply gain a free key logger!

Thanks

Well use FTP notifier if you want your FTP account to get hacked.

Hi Bad C0d3,

I am not sure I understand what you mean?

Kind regards

You want someone to run the .exe or What o.O

Well run the keylogger in your computers and then start sniffing packets with WireShark.

The next time your keylogger will send logs to your FTP server you will see in clear both your FTP user and pass.

Hi guys,

To clarify, you will have access to the online builder where you can compile YOUR own keylogger with the settings you provide.

If FTP sniffing is an issue, you can use the HTTP protocol. You do not have to run the keylogger you compile on your own system, feel free to use a virtual machine, analyse the file etc.

Kind regards

Looks a bit neat with its HTTP builder
Probably the first HF keylogger to have it.

First time someone actually makes something significant and new.

Looks really good man!

(Can't test it sadly)

varik89 - August 12, 2015, 7:34 am

I'd be willing to test it out and give you a honest review if you still need people.

mysblackroses2 - August 12, 2015, 8:19 am

Can I try?

My second name is Tester :D

Dahaxarereal - August 12, 2015, 10:38 am

i'd be happy to test for you :)
