Nice - August 14, 2015, 6:44 am

I literally just joined this site about 10 minutes ago and uploaded two random pictures, neither one of them is sexually suggestive or anything at all..just two face pics lmao..

These are just SOME of the people who have already messaged me. I haven't messaged a single person and within 10 minutes of signing up I have about 15 dudes hitting on me.

I know many people think it's "scamming", but on MeetMe I think it's okay because like you said a lot of these guys aren't interested in pics, but rather getting to know someone. They aren't going to be buying pics from anyone anyways, so it doesn't really matter if you don't give them what they want.

I've told a lot of guys that wanted to meet up for sex that they need to pay me "$10 upfront and $40 in person" for sex, that's basically what ALL those $10's are. Usually they do this because they're so excited at only having to pay $50 for sex with someone hot, but they will ask for proof pics so be ready with GIMP/PS. Also this is why I only search for local people on the site, and then make a new profile with a new name and different city/state to find people local to that area.

A lot of people there just want to pay for sex. So the key is making them see you're "real" and then asking for something small upfront to know that they're "serious". AND as a bonus, you don't feel bad about scamming them because they're scum who want to pay for sex anyways. Fuck em.

Nahh almost everyone already knew about it brother :)

Newer apps like Skout are becoming even better anyways.

100% the most important thing is looking real. It doesn't matter if 90% of the accounts on that site are e-Whores, as long as YOU make people believe that you're real and not an e-whore, you can always get them to pay you.

At least, that's how it's gone for me so far. Your proof pic game has to be ON POINT. It's the most important part of e-whoring by far.

Anyone can go online and look at extremely hot chicks nude for free. The reason people still pay e-whores even with all this porn out there is because of the chatting, the connection they built with you...They think they're actually talking to a real person, that's absolutely the only reason they're paying.

So IMHO saturation does not matter so long as you do a good job ;)

Griev?us - August 22, 2015, 9:21 pm

I'm laughing at everyone rushing to do sites.

There's tons of apps that were recently made and got big:

https://www.google.com/webhp?sourceid=chrome-instant&ion=1&espv=2&es_th=1&ie=UTF-8#q=top%2025%20dating%20apps&es_th=1

Do your research and it'll be profitable in the end. ?

They all work the same, it's just the idea of a dating site/app rather than a chatroom/sexting forum. They work better if you change your technique up :)

Of course they all work the same. ?

It just depends on how unsaturated they are.

Sites are the first to get saturated and will be saturated extremely quick.

Everyone says meetme is overly saturated but it makes me an easy $20/day alone ?

If you're making only $20 a day "easily" then that's saturated.

For around 1 hour of work? My balls! I haven't had one person tell me that they've 'seen this before' etc etc.

MeetMe honestly is not that saturated.

I use [BRAND NAME REMOVED]/Coffee Meets Bagel and make $50~$100 an hour. ?

There's several apps out there, meetme is saturated. All sites are saturated because they're the first thing people go to.
