Thread: Looking for a paymentwall script MYSQL

Digitalx - August 14, 2015, 7:31 am

Hi there guys

I have saw a script that was released here for paymentwall on mysql
But that script is give an error and the pingback is give errors

so i hope one of u guys can help me out with a script that is working good

Greetings Daan

Probably because the thread you grave dug was nearly 3 years old... not surprising there were errors.

Also, this thread belongs in the "Service Requests" section of the marketplace.

As nosymbols said, my thread is quite old already. The api itselfes still may work tho' but there would be a BOM issue, anyways the new API version is way eassier to use.

If you would like, post it in the service request section and I am glad to help you further with exactly your needs.

I do have it customised up on sale, maybe when I am done with my forum software I will upload a tutorial on how to use it.

However for now, people can purchase my scripting service and get it how they exactly want it.
