Price match it with either walmart or bestbuy.

If you open the link to the ad with chrome on your mobile phone it should show it still as available.

A Co worker of mine used this to obtain 4 new 3ds xls. 2 were from walmart and 2 were from target. So don't give up if you get declined just go to another store.

Treyswaq - August 18, 2015, 6:32 pm

you can price match at target? any does anyone know the standards for price matching. Like if i just show them on my phone, they will believe it? or do they always search it?

Microsoft Agent #3180 - August 18, 2015, 6:51 pm

That's the thing. If they search it it probably won't work but the majority of the time when I price match I just show them my phone then reload the page in front of them and that's good enough. These ads come around quite frequently actually because obviously m.kmart is fake right?

I think the "m." Is what most websites use for the mobile versions of their websites. Even Facebook uses it

I'm going to try this next week!

Target will price match Amazon along with just about any other competitor. If they turn you down, just ask for a manager. 95% of the time you'll be able to do it, target is retarded af tbh (I work there). Tons of exploits in their policy to take advantage of :)

Bustabit - August 20, 2015, 10:01 pm

FUCK ARE YOU KIDDING

I paid $200 just now for a brand new pink 3ds no joke. NON XL! FUCK!

Thanks a lot.

Going to pick this up possibly next week if I have the funds.

Can anyone confirm? I'd like a new handheld device.

Microsoft Agent #3180 - August 21, 2015, 9:11 pm

Well I was able to take advantage of this yesterday personally. But as of today kmart removed the price off this so I'm gonna close this thread now.
