Thread: Strange mouse movement...

DannTodd - August 16, 2015, 5:18 pm

I don't have a clue what it could be but literally every 20 seconds or so my mouse will just suddenly move to the top left of my monitor... It's not a huge problem it just gets annoying af playing cs:go... Any Suggestions? ?

If you want me to I can help you removing part of the malware until some professional comes here :P

Likely not malware - usually dust and grime on the optical part of the mouse. Try getting a cheap laser mouse pad and cleaning it before forking out on a new one ?

I had this problem with my old mouse, it was fixed when i brought a new one... I have no clue what the make of the mouse was, but it was crap ?

Chair123 - August 17, 2015, 7:39 am

Don't think it's malware. Go and buy a better quality mouse.

If you're planning on getting a new mouse I would suggest the Logitech G502. :)

Thanks lads - OP Bought a new mouse, problem is fixed ?

Not a major problem? Dude if my mouse was jumping across the screen every 20 seconds the next place it jumped would be out the window. It's pissing me off just writing this and thinking about it! You must have very good patience haha :)
