Thread: Instagram Vector Logo

Neos07 - August 17, 2015, 6:21 am

I just made this vector logo, any opinions?

lenaos - August 19, 2015, 1:20 am

A Photoshop file that has rasterized shapes isn't a vector.

Looks nice this can be cleaned up though.

Yeah dude, I agree.

I knew it after I rasterized the shapes.

the finer details need to be worked on

- uneven
- lens
- rounded edges

i feel like you rushed it.

That's a very harsh response and no need for it.

This is a vector, if anybody knew anything about vectors you'd know.

"Vector graphics is the use of geometrical primitives such as points, lines, curves, and shapes or polygons—all of which are based on mathematical expressions—to represent images in computer graphics."

You can make vectors in any software, even paint, so don't bitch at him when he hasn't done anything wrong.

It definitely needs to be worked on it is very rough on the edges and most of the things don't line up correctly so I would fix all those.

this post gave me cancer

as others suggest, clean up those finer details.

Personally i like it :)

Think it looks better than the original logo.

seharexe - September 12, 2015, 12:59 pm

It looks good at a first glance, but when you look closer, you can see uneven lines etc which makes it look a little bit rushed.

Decent but needs abit of touching up.

Virtus_Graphics - May 4, 2016, 3:46 pm

The Instagram logo has a lot more details to it. Besides, since it's a famous network and their logo is used freely for refrence, I believe they may have high-quality images for public use. Or maybe not. It's not unusual for big companies to have something liek that.

xpmezo - May 5, 2016, 6:25 pm

it looks nice , but you need to sharpened the edges better
