Thread: Next weeks wages

UTRONEX - August 20, 2015, 7:15 pm

Just had next weeks wage come through.

And this doesn't include any bonus.

Life is good :)

Hey OP is this from a job that's not online? If so what is it you're doing, how did you get into it? Did you do lots of overtime this week/month?

UTRONEX - August 20, 2015, 7:21 pm

Paying £500 tax is NOT good I agree!

I work for Nissan doing various things. Hours are long and the work is fucking HARD but I love what I do and wouldn't want it any other way.

Failed all my exams at school and was given this job by pure trust of the man who got me it.

Hey man, yeah been doing quite a bit of overtime due to the release of a new car soon (can't say much, sorry!) as I said above I work for Nissan. Got into it by someone giving me the chance to make better of myself. When I was 18/19 I was getting into trouble and locked up in the cells every weekend. Sorted my life out big time since then and my job has a lot to do with that :)

Ah cool sounds interesting is that a mechanic as such or?

But that's a fairly good wage my friend keep it up!

Cheers dude it's only going to get better too :) getting a promotion in November which will be me then having my own team of people doing what I'm doing now.

We do a lot of work involving new models and releases. Everything from receiving the design to making sure the first one rolls off the production line. Pretty good feeling when you first jump behind the wheel knowing that even though there's a huge team behind the build, somewhere you've had your input and ideas to make a piece of paper into an actual car.

Yeah that's crazy man must feel satisfying mate! Where about is it you're based is it down in England i'm guessing because I like the online wage slips my work could be doing with something like that!

Not a fan of Nissan in general but the GTR is the daddy of all daddy's so to speak, unreal.

Oh yes the GTR is crazy! And the 350, not a big fan of the 370 think the looks were ruined a little.

Yeah I'm in the UK :)

The online wage systems great. Any new employees are on it straight away. At the moment we can sign up ourselves but it hasn't been made mandatory yet for everyone to. Think they will soon though, cut down on paper waste. Eco friendly and all that shit..

Don't get me wrong mate, I wish I would of stuck in at school and made the best of my time there but I didn't so I have to play the hand I was dealt.

I'm currently doing college level courses through Nissan to obtain skills I'm missing out on and will soon be moving onto a degree level over the next 2 years. Got a lot going on over the next 2/3 years so really looking forward to seeing what the future holds :)
