

Forum: Hack Forums

Thread: [\[Official\] L'appel du Vide | The Black Lodge | Debate recruitment \(2 days\)](#)

Ventures - August 23, 2015, 8:50 pm

We are all born ignorant,
but one must work hard to remain stupid.

Basic information

Discuss plausible solutions to the overflow of plastic junk in the oceans.

What you have to do

Watch this video:

[Video: <http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=4wH878t78bw>]

Rules

- 1) Googled articles are not allowed and you will be black listed. Don't try me.
- 2) Dont be neither neither too long. Answers over 300 words with bullshit inside will be treated as above
- 3) Trollers will be blacklisted

Meow - August 23, 2015, 8:51 pm

Good luck everyone! ?

Cheeb - August 23, 2015, 8:53 pm

Good luck to everyone writing ?

Balding - August 23, 2015, 8:54 pm

Good luck everyone. Cant wait to see some of the responses.

scam. - August 23, 2015, 9:10 pm

Not applying but I am just saying that video is fucked. They should have taken that to a vet or some shit. Poor thing.

@NEGRO - August 23, 2015, 10:09 pm

This is an interesting application. I will take the time to answer this question to the best of my ability as it perked my interests.

Plastic waste has increased at least tenfold over the last 50 years. This is simply due to the fact that humans have become more and more reliant on plastic packaging. When humans use disposable modes of containers, they are more likely to not properly discard of them because it's easy to just litter and discard them. The problem with this is the pollution in the oceans, which not only affects the ocean ecosystem by suffocating and killing many species (since they consume the litter and end up dying), but the pollution in turn affects the global ecosystem because everything is inter related.

So how do we stop this ridiculous problem?

It would sound cliché to say reduce, reuse, and recycle, right? Well, no. It's just that the avenues to do these 3 things have higher opportunity costs for each individual - it is up to everyone to play their role to help contribute to saving the oceans. Reducing is the most important step - reduction of plastics. Finding an alternative, such as using glass and temper-ware, prevents the disposable aspect and saves a lot of resources and betters the environment. You have to realize that so much of industry is based around plastic and disposable packaging - why? because it's cheap. Really the issue stems from human laziness and unwillingness to take care of the planet they live in. Humans can barely take care of themselves properly - how can you expect them to care for the environment?

REKTED BY LOLI GODS - August 23, 2015, 10:44 pm

This will be my discussion on how to stop pollution there are several ways to stop pollutions in the ocean, and save the creatures that are in pain.

1. Prevent people from eating near the ocean and enforce new laws.
All people are required to clean up after their messes and eat in places like this and away from the oceans this also includes drinking near the ocean.

2. Another way to prevent pollution near the ocean is of course no dumping any type of oils near the oceans and make a organization to clean up trash near the ocean and help creatures that are exposed to something such as shown in that sad video.

3. Have police officers patrol the beach areas to prevent littering people are always afraid of police officers and will obey the law when it's being enforced. Also to help save our earth always recycle ? it will help out a lot in our environment and can also saves life's of Animals and sea life.

Also that video made me cry holy fuck that's so sad.

SIM-1472133 - August 23, 2015, 10:50 pm

I think that turtle hit the cocaine to hard. (pls no h8 m8)

REKTED BY LOLI GODS - August 23, 2015, 10:52 pm

(Aug 23, 2015 10:50 PM)ChromeProducts Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) I think that turtle hit the cocaine to hard. (pls no h8 m8)Your really fucked up that turtle was suffering badly do you not have a heart?

FilmGuy - August 23, 2015, 11:15 pm

The group is for sale now.. Just to let you all know applying.

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=4961504>

Hexicidal - August 23, 2015, 11:16 pm

Operations continue as usual until the group is officially out of my hands.

@NEGRO - August 24, 2015, 1:29 am hopefully i didn't just apply for nothing now that the group is being sold haha :(.

lenaos - August 24, 2015, 1:31 am

Good-luck to those who choose to participate.

REKTED BY LOLI GODS - August 24, 2015, 9:00 am

(Aug 23, 2015 11:16 PM)Hexicidal Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Operations continue as usual until the group is officially out of my hands.Sad to see such a amazing group being sold.

Ventures - August 24, 2015, 12:05 pm

About a day and a half left. Keep the applications coming!