i gave out some copies to people who helped test the beta version

monksu - August 25, 2015, 1:25 pm

Got to beta test this beast and what can I say, it works flawlessly, works fast and I am really pleased.

I used this mainly for IG names, left a big list for it to work on and when it was done, automatically left a .txt with the unused names. A couple dozen of quality names I got from that. Was a huge time saver for me.

Bro the $5 version has a load name list button, and a run button. Its a very simple bot no need for anything flashy it run in the background.

Menacing - August 25, 2015, 10:55 pm

Bought the $24.99 one and wow, all I can say is that this is brilliant, leave it at home running and while you are at work just check your email occasionally and see what accounts are available so you can snatch them up as soon as possible! Vouch for this.

I've never used a checker before, bought this and it's extremely easy to use, click on "Instagram / Twitter / Reddit" whichever SM you want to check for, insert your wordlist, and it checks them. It checks each username in ~6 seconds.

Thanks for your purchase man ?

Squint - September 14, 2015, 6:00 pm

I bought the 5 dollar version and am confused, how do I know when a username is available? It just shows a white box on the right side and If I click it brings me to a page of that ig. So I don't know what igs are available till the list ends ? If so that's a bummer :/
