Had the Logitech G230's for a long time, they are amazing, comfortable and the mic is fairly decent. The G430's are just the big brother of mine, which I will be upgrading to once these ones break - if ever.

I also have them, but mic in this heapdphones isn't too good for me. If everybody will say that G430 are the best one, I will buy other (maybe mine mic is bad)

I'm assuming we're having to chose from the options in the title. I know that G430s don't have the best mic. Not sure about Cloud 2's and that qh90.

These headphones had pretty decent quality (summit used/uses these):
