Thread: [\[APPLICATION\] Veezon's Mentorship Sessions - Apply to join a Skype group!](#)

Veezon - August 27, 2015, 3:17 am

Hi there, so the last time I did this, I did it without an application process, and as you can probably guess, it was a clusterfuck. Skype couldn't hold everyone so I bought a TS server that got DDoSed, we then went into a random TS to which the owner and his friends came in shit talking, we then went into another that was okay but by that time, I was getting tired and people had already left.

I've now decided to do this through an application process.

Keep the applications coming in, folks.

Ultimist - August 30, 2015, 12:19 pm

Applied. Got in.... Was asked to leave because I refused to share my screen.

One more edit: He refused to tell me why he needed to see my screen, which is why I refused. It was a very strange and inappropriate request.

Beware, you might just get asked to invest some $$$ in Bitcoin, which Veezon may or may not ask you to send to him at some point for "safekeeping."

He's got a real plan on how to make some serious Bitcoin profits by getting you to buy in. Wink, wink.

He may also ask you to share your screen because he is so paranoid, yet criticizes others when they want more detail on things.

He will encourage you that he can be trusted, not to worry.... Yet he won't trust you for a second.

Big red flag as far as I'm concerned.

You, my HF brothers, have been warned. Be careful.

Why do you think you should be chosen above the others: I'm a good learning person, I have some skills in coding(mostly vb.net/c#, a bit php). I'm always trying to give 100% and am open minded to new ideas. I used a few methods, but none of them were high rewarding enough to continue them. Currently I'm looking to make an own website and using GPT/CPM/AdSense(have to decide which) to monetize it. I'm bad at marketing, but I'll work twice as efficient(also I have a friend who's making the marketing for me). If you want any information, just hmu and I'll tell you more about myself :)

I asked you to share your fucking screen so I could show you what I'm talking about. I told you to take action by investing $200 into Bitcoin, I never mentioned sending it to me. You were too damn scared to turn your screen on so why the fuck should I help you?

As for Trever, you're just a lazy ass kid who sits there playing video games all day and can only answer questions with "yes" or "no".

You could have shared your screen with US to show us what you were talking about, if that were the case. Why do you need to see any of our personal details?

You are very distrusting, yet raise a big stink and cry like a little baby when anyone dares to question you or your motives.

I can't prove anything at this point, but you seem very shady and I wouldn't trust you as far as I could throw a 2-ton brick.

You didn't need to see my screen, girly. I told you that I had no information up that would be useful to you. The normal and appropriate response is "Ok then. No problem."

But you got your panties in a twist and started whining like a small child about to throw a temper tantrum. What's up with that?

In case you were raised by idiots, which i strongly suspect, it's inappropriate just to ask someone to share their screen out of the blue without even explaining why you would need to see it. How does seeing my screen help you any?

You claim to be able to sell anything to anyone.... lol, what a joke. That's why half of the people in the first meeting were questioning you and your honesty. Your response? To label them trolls and troublemakers.

I seriously doubt you could sell food to a starving person at this point. You have a very ineffective style that is EMPTY of any useful information. All talk and no real meat to any information you provide. "Be positive" and "Gotta get them within the first 4 seconds" is kindergarten material in the sales world, buddy. Did you read those off a er sticker somewhere? LOL.

Take some anger management classes or something, or get back on your meds. Either way, you're not sane.

I hope my posts can serve as a warning to anyone, to at least be VERY cautious around you.

If anyone sticks with this guy, be assured he WILL be trying to sell you something, get you to invest in some crazy scheme he thinks he has concocted, or get you to send him money/cryptocurrency directly. DON'T DO IT.

This guy is a poser, a pretender, and will only rob you in the end, in my opinion. The reason he is so pissed at me is that I didn't fall for his (terribly thin and transparent) line of BS.

You're really stupid. Really, dude. I asked you to share your screen and you go all defensive mode, almost like you were downloading child porn or something and didn't want me to see.

Ultimist - August 30, 2015, 4:58 pm

I had several skype chats going that I didn't want to close just for your nonsense. I had some other windows open with private information that you didn't need to see, as well as a Tor session I didn't want to close. I shouldn't have to close everything down just to give some buffoon my full attention.

It's your prerogative to think it was child porn, if you like. Personally I don't care what you think.

Besides, like I said, you didn't give an adequate explanation as to WHY you would need to see my screen. I don't go around sharing my screen with any douche bag off the street just for the hell of it.

You could have just told me what you needed me to do, and trust that I was doing it. You are very untrusting, yet badger and try to belittle others for not trusting you. That's called hypocrisy, sister.

I mean, who are you, really? You're NOBODY in the scheme of things. Why the hell would I want to share my screen with you? I don't know you.

Asking anyone to share their screen like that is INAPPROPRIATE. Don't you get that? Share your screen with me, loser.

I haven't lost a thing by not being privy to your useless information, and I've actually GAINED by not submitting myself to your scams and lies.

Why do you think you should be chosen above the others: Nice that you put at least one normal question into the mix to make this seem legit.

I've got your number, Jack... This MO is so transparent and obvious. Why don't you just come out and ask what you really want to ask... "How much money can I potentially scam you for?"
