Thread: Omnicoins is no longer in the danger zone

Bittrex have removed the warning of removal, it looks like the trade volume is still high enough to keep them happy. With the plugin in play now too, hopefully Omnicoin will bounce back.

Unfortunately though, Omni's announcements really made the price drop because everyone wanted out. It might be a while before the price gets back up, but at least it is rising. At least the price is really cheap now if you are looking for an investment.

Awesome, wasn't it getting terminated like really soon? Hopefully it becomes more successful.

It was going to be removed today if the volume wasn't high enough, but we met the quota so Omnicoin stays.

A lot of people can buy it right now. Especially since the price is low and a lot of people are trying to sell.

Sad fact that the OMC award still remains unavailable.

That's purely up to Omni. Maybe if Omnicoin gets back on its feet, Omni might change his mind about the award.

Well probably the most activity within OMC was people wanting to buy 3P1C and Sales Tags, and they usually exchanged their PP/BTC to OMC for that.

Yeah, neither of which are currently supported :/

OmniCoin is done in my opinion.

I don't see it ever playing a part in HF again.

It might still have a chance

DamienVC - August 29, 2015, 12:03 am

I just think OMC has its head out of the water for the while. There was just like a 0.2~ BTC trade volume to be covered up for Bittrex not to delist it.

After this, I dont think OMC would pick up any activity.

No more groups being sold in OMC, no more OMC-exclusive sales tags or 3P1C upgrades.

Its done for.

Omnicoin is over with. It isn't going to rise at all.

Greg???????????????? - August 29, 2015, 5:59 am

I used to be a big omc supporter myself but without support from omni it's next to dead imo.

unopie - August 29, 2015, 6:29 am

I'll take you right into the Danger Zone guitar You can never tell what a volatile currency.

eightz - August 29, 2015, 6:35 am

Maybe because all the people that have supported Omnicoin never really "supported" it.

I plan to buy enough for the Omnicoin award if Omni allows it.

I might also add an Omnicoin-only store here. Sadly there's not much I can sell because accounts are easy to sell but I'm not Ub3r so it really limits my possibilities.

I'll probably sell my Xbox One for OMC lol.
