Go ahead. With the recent news of OMC staying on HF I feel it's time to spread the love!

Tell me why you like HF/What's your favourite thing and the 10 answers I like the most will win a OMC Award or 3P1C upgrade!

Contest will end on 10th of September.

Mr Robot. - August 30, 2015, 1:36 am

What I like about HackForums is the diversity of the members. Some members are full on trolls, and others are HQ members.

I like how everyday there is a wide range of new threads, where I can post and get replies from people.

The forum is very active and that is needed in a community for others to stay. The average thread gets 4 replies so you will never feel lonely :-)

While the members can be rude, there are a bunch of nice ones that make the new members feel welcome.

The reason I stayed and didn't leave on the first day was because I feel like this site is a challenge. I stayed because I feel like i learn a lot here, and I can teach others stuff that I know. While I haven't made any good tutorials yet, I plan on making some soon :p.

This place is good for people trying to make money as it has an active marketplace, and while I don't agree with all of the rules on the forum most are pretty good and beneficial to the members. This place is like a giant school. There's comedians, teachers and losers. Losers are scammers and stuff, teachers are those who teach and comedians are the members who cheer everyone up.

I'm not going to make a 40 paragraph speech, but good luck to everyone.

Strayta - August 30, 2015, 1:36 am

I like HF because it's a great community and a lot of different people with a wide variety of humour. To the classic trolls all the way to the serious people here. I love HF because it's a great way to make new friends and to also help each other, personal or hacking life.

Favourite thing would be the reputation giving and receiving. I love seeing some of the things people rep each other for. It's amazing!

Ramsey - August 30, 2015, 1:37 am

Hmm there's a lot to say, but I think that I'd go with something that I love the most about this place. Every time I log into this place, I feel a strong sense of hope and opportunity. This place alone can become a business for many people. The immense potential of business opportunity is what I love about Hackforums.

Thanks for this opportunity KillaMuvz.

Meow - August 30, 2015, 1:37 am

I like HF because of friendly & helpful community.

EagleScream - August 30, 2015, 1:38 am

I come to HF to communicate with people. Everyone here has a different background and an opinion. And I'm here to provoke them.

HACKED - August 30, 2015, 1:49 am

It's a great community with a large variety of members.

From newbies who promote their referrals/surveys and trolls, to serious members who have skills and generate a huge income online. I also like the marketplace where so many transactions happen every day.

problems.x - August 30, 2015, 2:10 am

It's an awesome community, I love how you can chat about various subjects to various members. It lets others gain knowledge, and ourselves gain knowledge. On HF the community is filled with great people and people who understand what you talk about regarding computers, programming, hacking so on. Like for example, I could go into school right now, sit down in front of my whole homeroom class and say "what is a botnet" not one person would reply, and I'd probably be called a nerd, as where I can come to hf and say the exact same thing, and get a detailed response to improve my understanding. Yes some members are trolls or people who think above members, but the majority are high quality people and help everybody out where it's giving away methods to help people out to expand further understandings upon computers and the internet. A lot of people come on HF to talk about personal problems, innuendo etc, and aren't ashamed to ask the HF community for help or advice regarding their personal matter (whether or not it is embarrassing), they still have trust to gain advice by sharing the personal matter. Members on HF end up having close relationships (friends etc, but possibly more?) Like I've met some of my closest friends that I speak to online from hf, we all share common interests. Even though the title is "Hackforums" the forums is not all about hacking, there is a lot more to it, upon various subjects we all talk to each other. Myself and sure loads of other members think of hf as an amazing community and love it. Although it's a virtual online forum, it's actually quite amazing and feels like it's more than just a "forum".

Sorry for shit grammar and mistakes, written on a phone.... got no laptop/pc atm.

r3tsquad - August 30, 2015, 2:12 am

I love how everybody here is just straight writing bullshit. I like HF because I have lots of spare time on my hands and it kills a good chunk of it. Favorite thing is probably finding new ways to make money online.

Billie Joe Armstrong - August 30, 2015, 2:32 am

I like Hackforums because of its HQ members. Some attempt to flame but the others are friendly. It doesn't mean you're UB3R, you're nice. You can determine someone as nice based on his/her attitude. HF is the place where I learn stuff and make great friends / have great conversation with other members.

If I win this, I want the 3PIC upgrade. Thank you, my great man.

zeroxi - August 30, 2015, 2:36 am

I myself like Hackforums because it have so much funny people and trolls and I love them just seeing threads about their lives and other stuff and also I really like their gaming section special league of legends and my favorite things here is the marketplace, lounge, and everybody. I just love getting along with people and my next goal atm is to get into a group but ya thank you for reading :)

Wires - August 30, 2015, 2:37 am

I like Hack Forums because it is a diverse, and exotic community. You simply cannot predict what will happen, and/or when it will happen. Here at Hack Forums you're greeted and helped by willing, meaningful people (I honestly don't believe in that HQ, LQ stuff), or you get trolled on. Either way, you can never really be bored if you're looking in the right places. I also like Hack Forums due to the expertises it carries. The fact of knowing more or less every section you go into, you'll be greeted and helped by someone experienced.

And that, is what I like about Hack Forums ?

eoNe - August 30, 2015, 5:02 am

I like HF beacuse of all hacking tutorials , all methods , all tricks for making money,all staff and beacuse of all much cheaper stuff sold here. Its also a waste of time sometimes when you dont have nothing to do.

Stixio - August 30, 2015, 5:03 am

Its a awesome forum because I've learned alot out of the site, and have earned thousands of bucks only because of this site, Hackforums is life, no doubt!

Lynchings - August 30, 2015, 5:24 am

Why I like Hackforums: I've been a member of this site since 2012, so I'm not as old as a lot of members, but I see a lot more newer members than me. I've seen this site change and members come and go, and my favorite thing on HF is the community. Without the community the site wouldn't be what it is. I've learned lots that other members have kindly shared here, and I feel like I can't repay the community for how much I've learned and experienced.

If I win this I want the OMC award.

Elin - August 30, 2015, 5:25 am

I love HF because the community is so random, you can literally find any kind of person here and that is awesome. <3

Dean Winchester? - August 30, 2015, 5:26 am

I like HF because I have a bunch of friends on here

Tbh I don't really like HF but it's sort of like an escape from reality so that's why I'm still here

TBE ClockWork - August 30, 2015, 5:28 am

Honestly I don't post very much. I like to come on here to learn stuff that I knew little about, and I like trolling the trollers or helping people on the rare occasion that I can. I would like this award thank you very much.

Kill?Muvz - August 30, 2015, 5:52 am

Thanks for all the applications. Keep them coming lads!

ZeroOne - August 30, 2015, 6:03 am

I'm fairly new to HF but I already like it because of a few things that I have noticed.

1. After browsing HF for a short amount of time (1 Day, 1 Hour, 21 Minutes, 36 Seconds since the 18th to be precise) I have found a huge amount of information on this website. All the information I have read is helping me with my life, my studies and recently its starting to help me economically; eg: How to make money online.

2. Many of the users on HF are pretty smart and they like helping the community, a lot. I haven't personally had a chat with any of the members yet because I'm still just looking around.

3. Many members are always contributing to the community, whether it is by donating to the website to help keep it up and running or by helping other members with anything and everything.

4. I also like how members show a certain amount of respect to each other and don't flame or troll others

Overall HF is a great community that I plan on staying on for as long as I can and hopefully I'll start contributing and giving back to the community what it has given to me.

Thank you ?

PS; I'm not really looking to get the reward out of this just found the thread an opportunity to write down what I like about this community.

FGO57 - August 30, 2015, 6:53 am

I'm here since 2010. and never actually been active every day. I'm silent reader here most of the time, and I like this community very much. I like those members who always have an urge to troll someone or reply to the post like 'no one cares you weeboo cunt' when the thread is somelike serious matter. All kind of humorous members out here that daily made me laugh ? All of you are willing to help at any time, I think that I never saw more help-willing community than HF. I also like members urge to 'give back to community' like you OP are doing right now, I find interesting all thos contests and various awards given away. It's entertaining.

All in all, I like HF 'cause being what it is, funny and helpfull community. It's never boring here, and I think I should stay with you guys and probably make my name out here, 'cause I would like to also be helpful and a small part of community.

Thank you OP for this awesome giveaway ?

Good luck to everyone!! ?

Asentrix - August 30, 2015, 6:55 am

I like HF because I like reviewing things

Giving people an honest opinion about products makes me feel good, like I may have saved someone some money ?

Also like the marketplace , it's helped me out a lot and I like to think I've helped it out a bit too.

The main thing I like is the friends I've made , there's some really great people on here.

Thanks for the contest!

PLT ? - August 30, 2015, 6:56 am

Because it's a great learning resource for almost all aspects of computing and technology.

Most of the things I know were learned through HF.

That's it, really.

?Cyber - August 30, 2015, 6:59 am

Combustion - August 30, 2015, 7:01 am

I like HF because here we can share our acknowledges and try to understand better the world.

Cammy - August 30, 2015, 7:01 am

One of the many reasons I like HF because there's people like you in the community that keep the content HF offers alive.

Evanescence - August 30, 2015, 7:01 am

I like HackForums because people can share knowledge and help each other out. [sarcasm]Also, you can go to the "Science, Religion, Philosophy, and Politics" and have healthy, spirited debates.[/sarcasm] ?

The Supreme Leader - August 30, 2015, 7:05 am

I like hackforums because it is overall a great and helpful community. I like how active it is. There are a lot of people who spend a lot of their own time helping people with removing viruses and such. Members on here are really smart and highly talented in what they do. Wether it be coding, boosting in a game, graphics etc. there's someone you can message that can get it done for you with the right price, which I think is amazing. There are also a lot of funny people and goofballs who I get a chuckle out of when they post something funny. HF also has a great gaming community who help others out when they can. The main reason I signed up was because of the Counter Strike section. I also see a lot of members who are just awesome in general and that's what makes the site awesome, it's members. The community also does a lot of giveaways too which is very generous like yourself.

Overall, Hackforums is a really great community and I like how active it is. I only joined here last month but I plan to stay here as long as I can and help out the community.

Canonsx130 - August 30, 2015, 11:16 am

I like learning stuffs. I like education people. I like having discussions.

Zeeka - August 30, 2015, 11:19 am

I like HF because I learn something new everyday.

Silent Storm™ - August 30, 2015, 11:19 am

The fact that the atmosphere of hackforums is so unique to the outer world. You can't express how you feel about most topic here because it just doesn't fit right into what "normal" people talk about.

Here, you find all types of people that have similar interests than you, and you can share your experience with others through these topics, such as Graphics, Video Games, or Programming.

Overall, the environment feels unique like I said earlier, as you can't find it anywhere else.

Fish - August 30, 2015, 11:23 am

Why i like HF/Whats my favorite thing/My HF Story

Well I first joined HackForums looking for some nice graphics and not thinking I was even going to comeback after, but I instantly fell in love with one of the nicest online communities I have ever came across. From the get go the user base of the site was very welcoming, and showed just diversity that it was nearly impossible to leave once I entered. HF has every aspect needed to create a good forum, including very sufficient staff, helpful mentors, and very nice members. HF has had such a big impact in my life as my every day intent on HF is to further educate myself in many aspects of the internet realm that I never had before, such as hacking, RAT's, money making, black hat activities and electronics. HackForums is such a great tight knit community, that is very open to newcomers such as I was, but I have developed greatly under the wings of many open armed users. Omniscient has done a wonderful job in bringing diversity to this forum, with people ranging in different expertise from topics from Anime all the way to Blackhat hacking. Some other very unique ideas he has had that made Hackforums a very memorable site to me were his advanced ideas such as usergroups, awards, and very good layout of subforums. I feel that the awards concept is also a very cool idea, as I'm sure it makes members feel just as proud as being in usergroups, and although it is just pixels, it really gives people a positive mentality when they do get an award. Also the layout and organization of the subforums on this site are absolutely impecable. There is such a fresh and clean layout, and it is so easy to navigate through the site, that even the newest of users should surely be able to find a section on the site that interests them and leads them to staying here. I'm sure with time all this site will do is keep growing and with Omni's amazing ideas will never stop. He has also done an great job at picking some very trustworthy staff, who even though I have never met them, I would surely trust each and ever staff member with everything I have. This well constructed team surely keeps everything in line, and is one of the biggest reasons that HackForums is such as pleasant experience for nearly every user on the site. I would just like to say HF has really made a detrimental impact on my life, and I would like to be apart of this family for as long as I possibly can, and my stay will last all the way till the end. One more section I would like to speak about which seems to bring a lot of really unique people together into one group is the Innuendo section. As many "12 inchers", "incest lovers", and other types of trolls who live in the deepest abyss of the Innuendo section, every once in a while there is someone who truly does need help, and it comes upon me a very good feeling when the users of the site show a bond and give eachother compassionate words and are able to express eachothers problems. It's actually pretty touching sometimes, especially when someone is in dire need whether it be relationship, crush, or just any type of personal problem, it always seems like there are multiple different dedicated members there to help out anyone in need. That's why as many trolls there are who lurk there, the Innuendo section of Hackforums would be a "must see" recommendation I would give to any new member to at least check out and see for them selves.

Contest will end on 10th of September.

It's a love/hate relationship, got scammed a few times, still learning how to avoid them.

Buy some stuff here eg. crypters/bot/etc.

It's like a daily routine now login into hf. Part of my daily life schedule.

Scarlett Johansson - August 30, 2015, 11:37 am

I like HF because it literally offers the opportunity for anyone to learn almost anything related to computers and then they can apply that knowledge and potentially make income doing it. I'm sure that HF has helped someone get out of poverty and back on their feet. And I think that's pretty amazing for an online community of strangers.

dopepizza - August 30, 2015, 12:25 pm

I like Hackforums because there is so much to do here, so much to learn.

When I contribute something on Hackforums I get all these kind comments.

I love it too get out of school and go on Hackforums and just read on Hackforums, or teach other members about something I am really good at, and I just love talking to people and that is why I keep logging back in to this website, this website is like my addiction.

I am on Hackforums for 5 months and my total online time is: "2 Weeks, 3 Days, 9 Hours, 44 Minutes", I just love spending time here, getting lost in this big archive. I came on Hackforums to become a coder and I've stayed since, I fell in love with the community.

First I was really depressed, I found out about Hackforums because I wanted to be around a community and code.

When I was on school, all I could think of was Hackforums and what I had missed and how the community was feeling.

Even though I had a big depression, Hackforums was like a life saver, it made me happy after a hard day.

Because of Hackforums I learned that the world isn't always so dark, and I started loving everything again.

First my days got darker, now they can only get brighter.

I have learned Python/xhtml/css/sql, just from here, and there is much more to learn, I love releasing my Python source codes and eWhore packs, it feels amazing helping everyone and getting helped.

I wanna learn visual basic/C/C#/C++/Java/php/javascript and more, I love coding, it is like a passion.

Further, I always lurked around graph designs and hacking tutorials, and enlarged my knowledge by a million.

My English improved rapidly too, I can think write and speak English fluently, all from this amazing place

I will never leave Hackforums.

Nice - August 30, 2015, 12:27 pm

I hate HackForums....Fuck this place

jk

Fallen Demon - August 30, 2015, 12:28 pm

I like HackForums because it's such a BIG community and you will always find people that are like you and like the same things you do. You will find people that can teach you something as well as people you can teach something. This kind of knowledge exchange easily makes this the biggest and the best forum on the internet at this moment. Even tho I'm really new here I hope to meet many friends and find great people.

[S][e][x]<sup>TM</sup> - August 30, 2015, 12:38 pm

Id like to enter, i like hackforums for a fact that its not that much of a "hacking" forum anymore, yes there are related sections, but the lounge, real life sections are much more alive, it feels more like a general talking community to me then a real hackforum. I also like the very in-dept market place, offering everything youd ever need from software, keyloggers, booters to ewore methodes " how to get grills" lmao.

Creative Cloud - August 30, 2015, 12:43 pm

I would love the chance to win the OMC award.

I like hackforums as it has a wide variety of communities over many different aspects - from gaming to computing to health and sports. It also has a very good and active marketplace, which I like to often browse.

Niko - August 30, 2015, 1:56 pm

That 3pic Upgrade would be nice!

I love HF because it is an amazing place to hang out and learn.

WRX - August 30, 2015, 1:57 pm

I love hackforums simply for the fact of the marketplace. You find a lot of fair trades here and prices for things are decently cheap.

Hustla - August 30, 2015, 2:02 pm

Ily Hackforums. Ily so much because of the marketplace, it's the biggest money making site I've ever visited and without it I'd be broke as a joke. So let's all thank the marketplace one time. Shoutout to everyone contributing in that area, ya'll the real mvp. Ily Hackforums for all the times I've needed help in an area and there was always some niggas who could help my dumbass. Good ass giveaway & goodluck to all you members trying to snatch this bad boy award up. Hopefully I can win one so I can hit the dougie and start celebrating to the realness.

House M.D<sup>TM</sup> - August 30, 2015, 6:47 pm

i like hackforums because of how there is always a section for you to fit in (i personally fit in the "Health Wise") if people are coding for example and run into a bug/problem we have a community of people to help you and give advice, this is also a understanding community, alot of people come here to escape the "real world" and i contribute to hack forums by helping in the "Health Wise" with my medical knowledge (no not webmd) i am currently 1st year in my med school anyways everyones here for diffrent reasons

Eternal. - August 30, 2015, 6:51 pm

Awesome contest, good luck to all who enter.

Supreme??????? - August 30, 2015, 6:55 pm

I like HackForums because it's the people you meet here. Sure a lot of people come register to find out "how to be a l33t hax0r" or "hack a facebook account". However, a handful of people stay and chill around. It's like Facebook, if you will. That's where things start to get interesting. You find out more about each other and have fun. Some even do real life meetups, intentional or by accident. I've seen a couple of threads regarding this, too.

Aur3xis - August 30, 2015, 6:57 pm

I love HF caus it made me who i am and thanks to HF i know everything i know.
As simple as that.

I love to help the community expand and help others learn here.

Also im here for the marketplace and doing business.

Trust - August 30, 2015, 7:00 pm

Normally, I would write on and on and on about how much I love Hack Forums and why, but I'm not going to do that this time.

Instead, I'm just going to say that I'm still here. All of my friends are getting closed or leaving, but I still choose to stay.

Obviously, I care about the Hack Forums community as they have given so much to me and I haven't even begun to give as much back.

So why do I like Hack Forums?

So, so many reasons.

The relationships.

The community.

The contests.

Omni.

Similar interests.

Writ3rs.

Etc.

Etc.

Etc.

Everything.

I have the omnicoin award and 3p1c already, but since I am on the omnicoin team, would it be possible to get the emerald donator award instead if I win? I will enter anyway:

I like staying on HF because there are a lot of awesome members here, and I love getting involved with all the stuff going on so I can learn and give back to the community. That's why I like Omnicoin, groups, reading other's hacking tutorials and writing my own, etc.

Thanks for the contest and your support of OMC killa ?

I like HF because of the content here especially marketplace ( even tho most of them are scams ) but some of them are very useful for what i do

I was thinking to buy EP!C upgrade today but hope i win this contest and have that upgrade

Thank you

Sunlight - August 31, 2015, 4:34 am

I like HF for a few reasons. Mainly just because of all the active discussion and the cool faces you see around the place. I enjoy giving my advice in innuendo and having good chats with people you meet along the way. The community has its own personality and it's always great to be around. Most members are willing to help, up for a chat or just generally nice to be around. The forum offers a lot to help members out with a vast variety of things, which is always nice to see.

All in all, I think the forum is just an enjoyable family feel full of great people.

?pth?n - August 31, 2015, 4:50 am

I like HF because it's a place where everyone can find something he likes and find others to discuss about this.

On one hand, you can get some serious knowledge reading tutorials, threads and joining discussions. So it definitely benefits you if you want to learn something new. On the other hand, it's the perfect place to show off your knowledge so you can help others (who started the same way as everyone else).

Plus, there is always something to do and it can get quite addicting ?

Thank you for this giveaway! ?

Duyere - August 31, 2015, 5:41 am

Incoming wall of text.

Let me begin by saying that I love forums. I just love to read and post on user submitted material. I found HackForums by random search one day and joined the forum to seek computer related advice.

At first I only joined the community for advice, but I started posting and simply enjoying the community. I came to realize that HF was the kind of large-scale forum community that I was not completely dedicated to hacking and computers. I found it to be the kind of general forum that I was looking for.

I started my HF days by shitposting and doing horrible trolls. I was no different than a lot of regular members and made a bad name for myself doing so. Needless to say that I just loved to post because HF was the kind of large-scale community where all sorts of different people unite and post. I learned of all the different types of members there are on this forum and how everyone's opinions co-interact with each other.

I found my shitpostings gaining sympathy from like-minded posters while receiving hate from the opposite posters. I started getting more serious about the forum and started posting with more quality. I found myself transitioning from LQ to MQ-HQ posts by simply posting how I saw fit. You could say a lot of my posts were mainly opinion, which obviously formed mixed opinions in people's minds because of how diverse this forum is.

I kept posting more and more during the two years that I've been here. I tried not to spam but I tried to let my opinion and posts be known. I mainly kept my posts within The Lounge/Anime Adventures/Gaming sections. Some of my posts were known and I would end up having conversations/discussions/flame wars with members. I personally saw myself as a member who could be HQ one day and LQ the next. I managed to stay a regular member for two years until a member (fairly recently) decided to upgrade my account to l33t.

The member saw that I was an active poster and somewhat HQ. I saw this as an opportunity to turn myself around as a member. So I started by increasing my overall post quality. I found myself gaining more positive feedback from members now that I was upgraded and posting better, more-so than I ever did during my two years of being a regular member.

Sorry for sharing my life story about the forum but I figured that I would add a bit of my history.

The main reason why I like HF is simply because I love forums and that I love to post. I know I stated that before but just love seeing the different sides of people and the accumulated knowledge and information each member possesses. I love the overall diversity the forum offers and how it is not a forum dedicated specifically to one area/subject. Without the diverse large-scale community with unique members, well, I probably wouldn't be able to come back every day.

I could even go as far as to say that my fondness toward forums, posting, and the community has become an affectionate love-hate addiction now. So simply put that is the reason why I like HF nowadays.

That Poppy - August 31, 2015, 6:37 am

I love the crazy fuckers that are on HF in the lounge, I usually come here for a good laugh or information.

Innuendo section is amazing...I rarely post there I just lurk around and laugh xD

HACKED - September 1, 2015, 4:57 am

Just saw this post from OMNI.

Lithe - September 1, 2015, 9:09 am

Well I came to HF around a year ago to learn a few things. Almost immediately I made some great friends who have kept me here since. As a whole, the entire HF community is amazing! People are willingly looking to help out other members, creating high quality methods and services for the rest of the community, and all around just having a good time. Obviously there are going to be a few bad apples but the general population of HF seem like great people with a lot to offer. Nowadays I like to talk in the Science and philosophy section or the Lounge but I'm trying to make my way over to the monetization section as I end up earning more and more online.

Amazing Contest OP!

Tl;dr I like HF because the community as a whole rocks and everyone is extremely helpful.

Trenchguns - September 1, 2015, 7:27 pm

I love hf because sometimes awesome people liek you just throw money at me for simply posting on a forum :D

Also, some members of the community are prettty nice. Plus there's a ton of knowledgeable people, so... cool.

5-MEO-DMT - September 1, 2015, 7:34 pm

I think i love hf for the logic of e-books and skids, the e-book logic is here's a book on how to write a book to sell this book and make money off it :) and skids crack me up with their relentless questions on h0w 2 dd0s r00nthkape.

Captain Steve Rogers - September 1, 2015, 10:05 pm

I like HF cuz of you Killa ;)

scam. - September 1, 2015, 10:18 pm

I like HF because I can talk to me m8s in groups. Also the Linux section is pretty cool.

Suspense - September 2, 2015, 12:10 am

HF is one of the reasons I turn my PC on in the morning. It's a community I love getting involved with. The amount of things I've learnt in the last 9 months of being a member here is honestly mind blowing. I've learnt things that I never thought I would learn, and I've mastered new ways to make money. All thanks to the amazing community here.

The community is generally great. Of course, there's always the odd trolls, flamers, spammers, moaners, but I have to say I wouldn't change a thing.

Great discussions are made here at HF. It just keeps bringing me back.

-?MW- - September 2, 2015, 12:12 am

Everyones saying the same shit answer lol

I like it cause of the amount of bullshit fake stories people post. And the innuendo section is hilarious. Hackforums is basically my iFunny. I also like it cause i actually have met a couple cool people on here

??yp?? S??? - September 2, 2015, 12:13 am

I love HF because it's the only place where green and red pixels make a difference :)

DamienVC - September 2, 2015, 12:35 am

Well one of the reasons why I love HF is because of its community, and then it has a stable marketplace too. As you can see I've spent like 2 months online 1 year since I registered on HackForums. I've learnt a lot of things from partnerships and betrayals, and more about online monetization. I will be giving back to the site soon in the form of donations, but it's just a small wait till it is done. There has been a lot of cyberbullying on HackForums, used to take it seriously at one time but it's all the time when I learnt to ignore all the hate and look at the positive points. That's why I'm still here on the site. Contemplated quitting, but yeah, it is indeed nice and the members I've met here are awesome.

Walt Disney™ - September 2, 2015, 7:34 am

HF has taught me a lot over the years, and is a community always there for me. You can literally ask any question and get an answer, and learn from it. I just like it for the nice people. All the assholes can go suck it.

Vitani's Mate - September 2, 2015, 8:29 am

HF is fucking awesome and if it was a person, I would fuck the living motherfucker out of him/her. If Omni was single. I'd tap dat ass! <3

MrOrang - September 2, 2015, 9:14 am

Becuz of you ofc.

no but srs I like groups and coding :D

I love the community and the groups and bull with his horns

Maxi - September 2, 2015, 9:17 am

My favorite thing with Hackfourms is all the software. Oh god I love software.

Limit - September 2, 2015, 9:17 am

So like a lot of people posting here, I came here originally to learn how to hack. Surprisingly I learned a thing or two, never really got into it too much but I grasped a decent amount of knowledge from here. Just the aspect of discussing different topics here interests me. I enjoy discussing games, computer software and hardware, the latest news, hacking, you name it.

The community

Different sections introduce different kinds of members. Some sections contain trolls, others contain HQ members, and some contain both. It's amazing how diverse the community is here, and that's the reason why I come back everyday. To add to that, I enjoy helping others, whether it'd be with computer hardware, games, etc. I enjoy doing it. I also admire how helpful others are as well, you have tech gurus, hackers, gamers, marketers, coders, you name it and HF has got it.

Groups

Now I may not be a part of many groups in the past and present, but it's great to see these groups turn out the way they did. The way I look at groups may be a bit unique I suppose. Say HF is Earth, and a group is the moon. You're away from Earth but at the same time you're apart of it (hopefully that made sense). While you're not away from HF it feels like you are because only a limited amount of people get to discuss with you and others, and I like that.

Marketplace

I don't do too many deals in the marketplace, and for me to write a whole paragraph on it might seem odd at first glance. But I enjoy it seeing how the marketplace evolves. People who sell their products they've been working on for months on end, buying anything from IRL products, RATs, keyloggers, account crackers, game cheats, VPS and VPN services, everything. Just to see it develop the way it has is truly remarkable.

All-in-all HF is the reason why my computer gets turned on everyday. Conferring with other members is the sole reason why I'm active on this forum and not others related to it. Giving my opinion, sharing my knowledge, helping out, it's what I love to do. I do my best to stay HQ and mind my own business, and I'm sure that's the case with many others.

I've purchased the OMC Award and for some reason it hasn't been showing up so if I win could I get 3P1C?

Thanks for this giveaway!

Mad76e - September 2, 2015, 9:23 am

Ep1c upgrade!!

This is the way I relax, no joke!.. Beeing on HF and talking with friends always relaxes me down a bit. HF is also an marketplace, to earn money, trade services and have fun

FRANKIE - September 2, 2015, 9:23 am

Its been a while killah, I like HF because it is a breeding ground for people who share similar interests. Hmu sometime, I am back for a while iloominati - September 2, 2015, 9:29 am i like hf because it's a great community, it's fun to troll people, im addicted to rep and more

Prepubescent - September 2, 2015, 10:10 am

I have been a fan of Hackforums for a long time. I first found out about hackforums in 2010 I think and I was told by a friend but never made an account till last year because for a long time if I ever needed anything my friend would get it for me and show me what it was on teamviewer or something. I made my account because I knew it was a good community and I wanted something to do in my spare time and soon enough I made friends and after a year I got L33T and UB3R and made 1500+ rep in my first year and did over $2500 in btc sales and instagram crackings then I went through a repfuck and a few other things like being accused of multiaccounts but Factor8 vouched I didn't then they released the Profile Scan and they found out I wasn't a multiaccounter. I just all around love the community because I like meeting nice people and bad people it's just great fun!

Burakku Kenshi - September 3, 2015, 4:07 pm

I like HackForums because it gives me the chance to socialize with all sorts of people which due to recent problems in my life I barely leave the house. It's amazing that just by clicking a few buttons you could be talking to someone all the way on the other side of the world. There are so many different things you can do here. You can sell things, help people with all sorts of problems, and you can learn so much from the other members. I love hanging around in the coding sections although I rarely post there. I have learned a lot there already in my short time of being on HF. I plan on eventually getting Ub3r and I want to release all sorts of programs on here. I'm really looking forward to being upgraded because I feel like the more upgrades and awards I have the more trusted I will be. The more trusted I am the more people will want to download my programs and that would give me a lot of incentive to continue working on programs to the best of my ability. I know right now I don't know nearly as much as some people here but I plan on learning a lot and increasing my knowledge of coding languages.

Thanks for hosting this contest and giving me the chance to get upgraded. Good luck to everyone else!

In case I win I would like the Epic upgrade.

Why do I like HF? Honestly there is many things that turn me off from HF, but I love just sitting here in my garage and reading the endless amount of bullshit threads about how to make $6000000 a day.

Teemð - September 3, 2015, 4:10 pm

I do not like HackForums, I love it. It's one of the best forums I have been on so far. It beats LF by a long shot.

I like how we have two options of colors. Purple or blue. That's one of the main reasons why I stayed on HackForums. I guess the people are alright, too.

King Ragnar - September 3, 2015, 5:07 pm

I like HF since I have been here since 2009 and it changed my life completely, I searched for vengeance when I registered and now I have so much knowledge and have had a lot of fun through all the years here and I have met so much people and done a lot of stuff I will never forget. I love Hackforums in every possible way, I have been through a lot over the years and will never be forgotten. I have contributed a lot to the community and would be nice to get this award back as nice gesture and thank you for hosting this contest. Nice of you man!

Kebabs - September 3, 2015, 5:08 pm

I enjoy the existence of HF because it provides vast knowledge for various topics. Not only can you spread your knowledge but, you can gain knowledge from one of the many kind, friendly members.

I also enjoy HF because it is a way to escape the stress that life is. It allows you to relax and learn.

ReefyPuffs - September 4, 2015, 6:07 am

I like HF because I get bad rep for posting free stuff and helping people.

I also get scammed by pirates members in the pirates competition because I win sth. Imao.

TheNakedEmperor - September 4, 2015, 12:02 pm

I have actually learned A LOT since I registered.

At first I just wanted to open services to get cash from users but eventually I realized that I better just read and learn new stuff and only when I will have the required knowledge will I open a service

I learned about marketing and white/black hat hacking

I found out what a great community we have here, when I open a thread asking my hashes to get cracked it usually happens within an hour.

If I come across an issue I can't resolve myself I could always rely on the people here to know whats wrong and how to fix it

despite all the cynicals here, including myself, I think this is really a community worth putting effort in and nurturing

Thehackerguy1 - September 4, 2015, 12:03 pm

Slicker1 - September 5, 2015, 7:15 am

I love HF because of the community. I hope to become a very active member of the community and this would be a good start :)

Social Engineer - September 5, 2015, 7:29 am

I love HF because it's a community formed by people from all over the world from all different walks of life. No matter how rich they are or how poor they are, no matter how old or how young, it's a place for everyone to be able to come and be able to talk to others about their interests and learn new things whilst meeting new people.

NotUsingAnymore - September 5, 2015, 8:10 am

Why I like Hackforums:

It's quite simple, Hackforums got a wide variety of sections where you can discuss a lot of different things. Basically you have the possibility to discuss almost everything (Most legal also some things that are illegal, though I really don't care about the later).

It is a heavy tech related forum however you do have the opportunity to discuss other things which is cool. That means that basically the forum accept a wide amount of types of people.

Generally since we have so many sub-forums we also have so many different type of members, which makes the community really good. Also some cases bad, but this thread is about what we like not dislike. The better people are the ones that doesn't act bigger than others just to gain some low life's respect. The nice people of here is the biggest reason why I am still here, it has made me stay for all those years, I haven't stayed this long on other forums.

I think one of the reasons why I like the community in general is because it's interesting with so many different types of people from all over the world. All the differences in cultures and general mindset, it's just makes the discussions more interesting. Also you can learn so much from just discussing with these people.

My favorite thing about Hackforums:

Gaming sub-forums, there are so many opportunities to meet new people that you may end up gaming with. The bad side of the gaming sub-forum is the fact that people are often closed minded. However a lot of times you may see some really great discussions and generally stuff like that.

I know this isn't the longest and most in depth reply. However these are my honest thoughts.

Senpie - September 5, 2015, 8:21 am

Why I like HF:

I personally like HF because there is just so much to discuss with the wide-variety of forums and the amount of knowledgeable people here. I have learned so much from HF, It's community, and the resource's shared here. It's pretty much the "source of all information".

My most favorite thing on HF:

This would probably have the be the amount of resources as it is very easy to gain knowledge from.

Banker - September 6, 2015, 9:25 am

I like HF because of the variety of people on here, I'm only 1 week old but I feel like i've learnt so much and already feel like I'm part of a big family. The community has helped me learn alot and I expect to help all new users to this site in the future.

Thanks for the amazing giveaway OP, if I happen to win I'll take any award.

U?para?ormal - September 6, 2015, 9:50 am

I enjoy hackforums because of the competition between social media service providers, Opinions of 13 year old boys in the Science, Religion, Philosophy, and Politics section and the cool cats of Vices section.

But in all honesty, I joined HF to learn to hack/code (when i was 15) but never got the passion to go with it. Now im here because of the users. I usually lurk in the dead sub-forums like Rust or Photography.

qExecute - September 6, 2015, 6:58 pm

I for some reason LOVE hack forums because it is a place to come on and almost always speak your mind. I can go onto the lounge and ask a question. I can attempt to sell my crappy (other peoples opinion) GFX. The community is also really nice and noob friendly! I hope that i can win this! Some people are toxic but then there's people like the guy that gave me rep to counter the prick that gave me neg rep for no reason! I would like a upgrade. To epic or l33t your choice. (sorry for my bad grammar its 2 late and I'm young)

Target™ - September 6, 2015, 7:27 pm

What i enjoy on Hackforums is about getting to learn something new so often.

I love and enjoy being around good people who i can learn so much. I've earned shitloads of money and i've gave back (small giveaways) and i enjoyed this site.

I feel like it's in the good way- school.

Shrooms - September 6, 2015, 7:33 pm

I like HF because of the nice, large community. I've learnt many things spending time on here, met many people and mostly enjoyed myself here.

Although sadly I'm having to build my rep up, slowly, due to me being repfucked. That kind of puts a downer on the experience, being gifted leet was great though! I try to contribute where ever I can on HF, and although I don't really post too often I'm here pretty much every single day.

There's no specific thing I like about HF, I enjoy reading the threads that make me laugh or the HQ threads that can teach me things I am interested in. I really enjoy helping people with knowledge I already have, and try wherever I can.

Good luck to everyone, and thanks for the giveaway OP!

Judicious? - September 6, 2015, 7:34 pm

I like this place because it has a diverse community of people. There are lots of skilled individuals here and it's a good spot to share ideas and help others. I've always been a fan of foruns sites but so far this is my favorite one!!

SIM-2502833 - September 6, 2015, 7:34 pm

I think the best thing about HF is the strange understanding of one another you'll never get on another forum. See my thread on people accidentally hacking other HF members.

MomoTH - September 7, 2015, 12:37 am

Hackforums have a lot of skilled people they can help you with everything also you can help others with your knowledge !!!

That's the best here

Tuxedo - September 7, 2015, 9:38 am

I like HF for it's receptivity from people around the world, all with common interests, be it hacking, tech, coding, gaming, graphics or just for fun. It's a place for people who are able to help, learn and teach other members without return, except improvement. Of course, HF isn't without its 'banter', and is generally just that or taken care of by the staff, creating a social and free environment for members to abide by the same ruling. I've become accustom to helping people on HF because of it's accepting community and mostly friendly members, it deserves it. And I ultimately believe HF will continue to grow and expand for many years to come.

MissChiff - September 7, 2015, 9:41 am

siur - September 8, 2015, 7:08 am

I actually hate hf. Only kids, trolls with hundreds of accounts and scammers. The only reason I still use it it's because of the 1% quality users and really useful threads that you might find maybe 3-4 times a week. Also I use hf because I have no friends and no life. Cheers.

'Ben - September 8, 2015, 7:23 am

I like coming to HackForums because there are so many personalities, topics and it's great for passing the time. All though a lot of the community is made up of 12 year olds who think their opinions are facts there are still a few good, quality members who give up their time to help others. I didn't know anything about Crypto-Currencies, Graphics

Coding, Web development or even that much about technology but that quickly changed. HackForums has become my go-to forum and I'm generally able to find what it is I'm looking for. From Graphic Gurus to Money making masters, it has it all and I'm happy to be apart of the community.

The Witness - September 8, 2015, 10:22 am

Favourite thing is to be able to talk to other members on the forum, gain friends, even hacking buddies, but also see what it has to offer such as, new tutorials, giveaways and even more, it's also good with life situations you can post not have to worry about a thing, no one can know who you are, and still yet receive support, and friendly advice. Another great think I like is all different groups you are able to join, this grabs me to post and stay active more.

Hope I get picked, thanks.

Deauthenticate - September 8, 2015, 1:40 pm

Here's mine...

The community makes you either mature or pull you down to being more immature.

The way you can learn to differentiate yourself from those kids/immature adults who are always expecting something in return for the help you need.

The feeling of satisfaction when someone give you a simple "thanks" for lending them a hand.

Those moments when you were able to be on top of the situation by knowing when to or not to reply to thread/quotes that you know won't end in a good and healthy conversation.

When seeing how other members think they know everything just because the internet/some person/their idol/book says so. (Actually I just have one "intelligent user" in mind). Somewhat annoying to the point that I wanted to reply but then it would bring me to #4 of my list.

The ability to make others trust you despite the sketchy nature of the members in this community.

Last but not the least, the methods I learned to earn money online just to lose it back again to the digital world.

Vitani - September 8, 2015, 1:52 pm

I like HF because there are so many different kinds of people on this site.

For example, you have:

- people all about anime
- people all about gaming
- people all about hacking
- people all about coding

And those are just to name a few. I have been a pretty long time, and i haven't even been alot in most of the subforums yet, while i am sure alot of them are quite interesting to me. So in short, this community is overall one of the best communities i have come across on a forum so far. (9gag would be a cool community to but it's not really a forum, so this is definately the top1 for me)

My favorite thing is, and this is going to sound really lame, the "View new posts" button. Everytime i have a free moment, or if i am just bored, i can click on it and i open all the interesting topics, and i read, react, and just just in general having a good time on this forum.

Not sure if this was even remotely worthy of an award, or if i am even still in time to qualify for this, but it feels great telling people what i like about this forum. Cheers, and thanks for hosting this contest?

JohnTravolta3242 - September 8, 2015, 3:59 pm

My favourite thing on HF is the sheer randomness of the the lounge forums and the diverse list of members, its funny reading crazy threads that range from feeding bananas to cows ( I did that, check out my created threads lol ) to daily news opinions and viewpoints, would love my first reward, cheers ?

Short and simple.

I love HF like Kanye loves Kanye.

I joined in 2009 to learn how to hack different games online. Over the years I've realized that this forum has a lot to offer. We all here to help each other out. We all part of a squad. You know. You got my back, I got yours. I ain't gonna leave y'all like your dad did when you were 6.

For real though, HF as we see, covers a variety of subjects. If you're having life issues, you can ask for help in Innuendo and get replies from 12 year old virgins with autism who think watching Desperate Housewives teaches them about sex and relationships.

If you think your bae is cheating on you, and you got Trust Issues like Drake, you can post in the hacking section to hack her fb, and ask for help. Yes, you'll get serious replies, but then your thread will also get swamped with Indian kids who aint know English and are thirsty for feet. They hit you with "girl me luv stole slushie. hack fb plizzzzzz. want to see feet."

But I like the News Section. I don't even get my news anywhere else. It's great because the news here is current, and has sources, so it's real. I also see very helpful replies from obvious conspiracy theorists who wear aluminum hats, and hide in their washing machine because the government probably made the asteroid that's gonna hit the earth in the thread they posted on.

tl;dr - I love HF because it's entertaining and helpful.

Thx. .

I like hf, because it is where i find all the information i need, where i hang out with some new buddies. it is also where i learnt the most avout coding,hacking,ewhoring and etc. I also managed to know that i need to learn language to try to perform so hacks, and also! The key of everything: skills. This is what i managed to lesrn on HF. Hf is a like small start to the beginning of business! Hope i win thanks!

Here are my reasons why I spend so much time here & I like HF

I like it because I've learned a ton here, and I've taught a ton here, It's a nice community and it's run by a great set of staff, everyone for the most part seems to be cooperating well, even if we have potheads, and business men, priests + more, even polar opposite people get along here

Great community,
Basically, a forum which has every subject I need to discuss,
Great information,
We are a family,

Those would be the Four main reasons why I have stayed at HF and why I spend so much time on it. It's the only forum I am, and have been really active at to be honest as well.

I am pretty sure they would explode, i just realised what would happen if i gave them milk? Not saying i'm going to but ... ?

I think the thing I like most about HF is the diversity it brings with the members it has. You have the helpful members, the new guys, the OG's, the trolls, the weeaboos, and all that in between. It makes for an interesting site, because without all that, site would probably be pretty bland. All the drama, all the contests, the new content being posted, the groups, its the diversity that makes this site so great and has me signing in each day, and most likely will for some time to come.

Contest is now closed. I will review everyone's entries. Anyone that PMed me will be disqualified - I don't like ass kissing, intended or not.

Kill?Muvz - September 15, 2015, 8:53 am

Winners have been selected and will be posted on the first post. To those who won expect the award/upgrade in the next few days. Sorry for the delay.

Optimized - September 15, 2015, 8:55 am

I am only entering because its a pain in the ass to get crypto currency

I like the community and the members here. We can agree some users here are cunts but a majority of users here are HQ and fun members. the community is active and a lot of people get respect and for me I can feel comfortable expressing my opinion safely here.

It's not much but it's honest and I would also like an OMC award haha. Good luck guys.

MrOrang - September 15, 2015, 8:58 am

Omg I actually won something loool.

Ty killa :D

Thought I'd browse this thread and then saw my name at the top of the winners list ?

Glad I've been chosen among the winners, thanks OP. Was great to read why some people like HF also.

Mutes - September 17, 2015, 5:54 pm ayyyyy lmao. apparently I won.

thx dude.

LilHackers - September 17, 2015, 6:27 pm

Congrats to all the winners!
And thanks for the giveaway mate! :D
