Thread: Going to commit Suicide - Rep-fucked

reama - August 30, 2015, 12:44 pm

HackForums was my escape from the fucked up world we live in, now I realize that HF is also fucked up. I'm going to kill myself, I can't go on any longer, I feel like shit. Whoever rep-fucked me caused my death because I was wrongly rep-fucked, I didn't do shit.

I have nothing to live for anyway, I was on the verge of suicide anyway, and now this. I feel like shit because no one will explain to me what I have done.

This will probably be on the news in the UK.

So, fuck you life, fuck you HF! I'm going to kill myself very shortly, listening to a few songs, kick back a can of Coke and hang myself.

Goodbye.

Dude you will get a months ban.

What is a "Rep Fuck"?

A "rep fuck" is where an admin permanently removes all of a member's current positive reputation. Once a "rep fuck" has been given it is irreversible. Keep in mind that a "rep fuck" was given for a reason; any complaining will result in a one month ban.

Obviously there is nothing anyone can say to prevent you from doing so but if it means anything, everyone is put on this earth for a reason and obviously you are lost and have no idea what to-do with yourself and you see that suicide is the only way out. We don't really care. We don't care about him, he doesn't care about us. Simple as that.

If he's going to kill himself then he should just do it. Making this post and then not doing it makes him even lower in every day standards.

If you keep caring about anonymous people on the internet then you're going to be greatly disappointed more than once. Good luck with investing that 'care' you talk of.

Someone who posts about his suicide on a forum full of degenerates (myself included) doesn't deserve to be cared about. There are people suffering, and we have OP bitching over a statistic on a forum. GG.
