Well, better than the first one as this tiny circumstance will already hold off a few people from solving right on the fly.

EDIT: I wen't the way via pure js, thanks.

Cheers, Gee.

you are right on that bro , they should throw in new challenges

ApertureSecurity - October 12, 2018, 2:55 am

I think they changed their website and this challenge is dead. Correct me if I am wrong.

Many of the challenges are still around. Not a big deal

Look at a lot of the ones that Phicat or Janus have put up from the years past.

Just posted this so that people would spend time on trying to hack their new site.

Same here actually... It seems a lot of the challenges have died out. I am not sure is this is because the internet is becoming more secure or if the site is dying.
