This actually looks like a good Instagram Bot. A video demonstration would top it off. GLWS~

Thanks.

We will add a video of the username scraper and other functions later on mate.

A few more features will be added later, such as scraping users by hashtag and etc. You can also request for extra features by posting in the thread.

Meanwhile, while the videos are not posted, anyone who wants proof of the bot power, please contact me by PM and I will share my join.me look for you to take a look.

Vouch for this user, I've seen his work in beta stages, nothing lacks and this blows other insta bots out of the water. Good luck with this.

Thanks! Since your test I've appended a few more functions, which provide the bot an even better performance. It's becoming a real beast!

I'm interested buying this

Do you plan to add filter for username/ID scrap? So it only gather active follower on target account

That's behind our control. However there might be a few workarounds, that I would like to hear your opinion about.

We can't be sure of who follows back and who doesn't. However we can add a manager that compares who is following you back after you make a following request.

If the account is public we can also add a parameter "Last Active" that displays the latest upload of the account and you'll decide to follow or not by that parameter.

You don't need to use proxy with this software, but yes I can implement it.

RD Kura is an old friend and he allowed me to test the software when it still lacked a few of it's current features... It worked great! Smooth, fast and efficiently! This is definitely the best instagram bot of 2015 as he announced ahah.

Great for building stats if you play it right!
