If anything a Macbook, but I don't think I'll need a laptop for now, I'm fine just looking at them while they're in the store. Because sometimes the best things in life can only be looked at.

Are you taking taxes out on your income? If not, I'd be careful. I was making good money online, and if you don't put some away, you can really fuck yourself over.

I'm underaged, would it really matter if I didn't pay tax for my income or not?

I receive most payments in Bitcoin, then I cash them out using other payment processors, so the fee/tax or whatever is only around maximum 5%.
