Hey everyone, i come to you with a request for help of hacking of a forums website, (or the actual game if possible, but i believe forums will be easier).

So first things first...

It is hosted by Xenforo forums, (this may provide a problem, and make basic hacking methods useless here, however i am not sure... it may make it easy for some of you)

The main aim is to obtain information of some accounts, hopefully usernames and passwords (Yes.. it is a game website, to be specific a RSPS website and i'm sure this sounds very petty!, but hear me out!?) don't worry i won't cause too much havoc or do anything concerning real money etc, just pixels and the server eco ?

The reason i seek this help is because i was ddosed for a solid few days on my private wifi provider, which my family use for work...(not cool?) and also had some private information stolen and shared by a coder of this game, so its a way of getting back at him, more commonly known as revenge ? .

I have tried using a sql injection guide but to no avail (i am VERY new to hacking and have no clue how to actually do it, so following the tutorials got very confusing very fast, which probably means that it is possible to be done, but i just messed it up?????)

Therefore i seek more knowledgeable hacking help??,

The main problem is i don't really have money to spend on this due to going to university soon and needing to keep all of my savings (yes i'm entering a lifetime of uni debt-.-)

i understand this may seem too much of a task for no reward, however i am sure their could be someone here willing to help, either with teaching me or with doing it for me, however i'd actually rather learn while having someone to support me and make sure it is done correctly, or watch someone do it, maybe you could film it etc ?

so please, if you can help in any way, send me a pm (i can't reply through pm due to post count, so you might have to provide an email or something :/ don't worry i can't hack a fly so your email is more than safe ??? ?)

anyone who can help will be sent more information and more importantly the website link etc :)
Thank you ever so much for just reading this, hope you can help!
