Thread: Insight RAT Helpdesk

Hinch - September 3, 2015, 6:15 am

In celebration of reaching a group milestone we are opening a rat helpdesk.
The use of this will be to assist all members with there ratting questions..
We will build up a FAQ. with all the questions asked, so a single question does not get repeated more than once hopefully.

Only listen to responce recieved by insight members for your own safety. I will inform you who the members are if i see a response was received from someone else. Current members who will definitely post here are Armada + Yakz.

All information recieved is for educational purposes and a rat is always intended to be used in legal situations.

Armada - September 3, 2015, 10:46 am

Posting here for official FAQ Portion.

- Will be built up soon enough. ?

Yakz - September 3, 2015, 12:21 pm

Don't hesitate to post your questions here. We will gladly answer all of them.

Hinch - September 4, 2015, 9:33 am

We have a full team of people waiting

What's the best free RAT for starters?

Zeeka - September 4, 2015, 10:49 am

Good luck with your help desk!

Balding - September 4, 2015, 10:50 am

I don't know shit about RATs but the other people in Insight have a lot of knowledge. Don't hesitate to ask.

camelCase - September 4, 2015, 10:54 am

What is there to it? Configure the output stub, port forward and spread? I don't see what's so damn difficult about it.

TheTurboEngineers - September 4, 2015, 10:57 am

Whats the best free VPN for using a RAT?
(Ports should be open)

Im thinking into steam stealing/mass spreading. I have lumonsity and it's laggy and some features are buggy and slow. So what you could suggest? is im3 my best bet?

Meow - September 4, 2015, 11:26 am

Should I use VPN when ratting?

Balding - September 4, 2015, 11:27 am

Yes. Make sure it's offshore or has no logs.

There is no best bet. All rats have there ups and downs i personally would use nanocore but then again nanocore and all the rats are designed for "Legal" use only and could get your account terminated with discussion of steam stealing. Your best overall bet is stick with what you have got and ask the creators for help fixing your issues

My crypter is 60/60 detected (by AV's)

Is that considered as FUD? Ty

I also have Windows 95

Is that good for ratting? I can't launch LL so I installed Virtualbox and I dual boot now win 7 & 95 with Mac as main PC

Am I good to rat? Also I have 50 mb ram idk if that is enough Absolutely not. You want your connection to be as direct as possible to reduce lag and packet loss and jitter.

Yeah and if anything happens your DNS/stub will directly point towards you and you can enjoy a 10 year sentence for unauthorized computer access

Agree a vpn should be used or a reverse tcp proxy

camelCase - September 4, 2015, 2:10 pm

thank you for the rep hinch :)

Anyone need help with something?

Yakz - September 6, 2015, 12:10 am

Currently available. If anyone needs help, don't hesitate to post here.

I am using RA4W VPN and when I open port it still says it's closed on CanYouSeeMe I get "Connection Timeout" and I have my firewall off and no other program is using the port except the Rat, I have the stub built and everything just needs some help getting the connection to connect and a few spreading tips or anything to get back into ratting.

What OS are you currently running?

Which RAT are you using?

Is the RAT Actively LISTENING on the port you have selected?

Have you tried a local loop back test? (Binary built with 127.0.0.1 for IP#)

In RA4WVPN settings, have you opened the port on the correct server you are connecting to?
(Every server you connect to will require that port opened)

I am using Windows 7.

Yes my rat is connected to the port

I am using Babylon, No I am going to try a local stub now yes I have selected the correct sever I have used heaps of different Ports, and on RA4W it sais the port is open but it isnt on C.Y.S.M. *
edit I made a new stub using localhost and it connected, but still doesn't say port is open on websites,
