Thread: Rolling in the cash right now

CanisMajoris - September 3, 2015, 2:19 pm

Ive never made a thread here before, but im just so happy today.

So about 6 months ago I had a method I was using to make spending money, but then college was coming up so I wasnt gonna have much time to do it anymore, so I figured I would write an ebook. Well in the past few days Ive started keeping my ebook thread alive again, and been making alot of sales. After all the positive feedback I got from buyers, I started doing my method again as well, and made another couple hundred in a few days. With that money Ive found a new method that Im giving a try this week, and if it works well itll potentially be a steady source of income for a while to come. Needless to say being in college and having this cash flow is really nice for the weekend! ?

Great to hear, but this sounds like you're advertising/promoting your sales thread.

Inkie - September 3, 2015, 2:21 pm

And you posted no proof lol aren't you a cool kid

Forezza - September 3, 2015, 2:24 pm

Not sure if promoting your e-book / a new e-book or actually serious. Post some pics of the earnings m8.

Thanks, sorry if it came across that way, but i defiantly wont be selling my new method I found, dont want it getting saturated if you know what i mean lol

Nice, a thread to promote your fake eBook with fake earnings. How nice. But don't worry, this whole section consists of it.

This is from the past few days, plus around another 80 is checks (one of my methods I cash out via check to avoid the paypal fees)

Anyway enjoyed a steak dinner last night, and have been experimenting with some higher end colognes, (btw does anyone know if we have a colgne thread here on HF?)

Ok, cool you made some sales, congratulations.

But how is your message valuable to anyone reading this thread?

At least share some details what the ebook is about, where we can read it, etc.

How can you be rolling in cash with those small baby ass payments? It looks like spare change lol. And this is seriously bad, when its a promotion for your ebook XD

I guess our definitions of good money are different, but for a college student making 100-200 a week without having to work is really nice for the weekend. And no this wasnt a intended to be a promotion for my ebook, the kind of people on the bragging rights section are not the people that buy ebooks on hack forums. This forum is meant to do exactly what I did, share success stories

Minus expenses such as food if you do pay for your own which should be like 20$-25$ a day to feed yourself . If you truly feed your self and not just eat one meal and couple little snacks

The kind of person you are OP, you are a worker, not a leader. Don't expect big money in life with your personality

Lol this made me laugh. I spend $50 a week on food max, and that's eat steak 2 nights a week, and other nice foods every other night. I guess I should tell those clubs I'm president of , and all the people under me that I'm not a leader, because right now they are completely fooled by my skills XD. Get a life kid

Just a little update too. The second method I mentioned in my OP, that I was trying out at the time turned out to be a success. In its most basic form, ill earn around $20 a day from it (only took 15 minutes to set up), and from the looks of things I could scale it up pretty easily to $50 a day average pretty easily. I can see why people always say that most of the time, if someones found a legit method they dont sale it, because this could be saturated really quickly even with like 20 people. Of course some methods can handle 1000's, sadly this one cant lol. But anyway I think im going to use this money to continue my investing venture :D
