I was waiting for this haha, home internet or coming from a server? Most providers refuse to give that much up speed without you paying tons extra since they don't want the average home-owner starting a NOC.

CyberneticTitan - September 7, 2015, 2:12 pm

You ought to do a real-world file download. Comcast is likely to throttle your downloads and give unrestricted access to speed test servers for sheer bragging rights to advertise.
