Considering it was released today (never been used before) I'd say it's not depending on how hard people have been using it.
The images could not be reverse image searched (at the time of release) but that might have changed depending on the above.

Sent you a message with the password. Enjoy it.

They're signs - she's holding paper (blank - templates to be edited) as for actions/poses, there are none.

Whenever I'm asked for actions like that, I just offer a sign. Always trumps poses and gives a sense of security to the customer.

Unfortunately there's a restriction for those under 25 posts, therefore until then you won't be able to.

I recommend just going to the lounge and posting on topics or in a section you're familiar with and can contribute more.
