Thread: Guide | Earning Money/Virtual Items with Gaming, Unsaturated & Easy

HIGH PAID FELLA - September 10, 2015, 10:34 am

Hi.

Last Update: 10 September 2015

You're reading some wannabe e-whoring guide - based off an idea I had once in my mind. Caution, I'm not an "e-whore" so don't threat me as such.

F.A.Q.

Where is it about? Generally gaming, but the concept can be adapted to other things too, such as misleading your victim and tricking him/her into doing_example__.

What is the pay-out and potential of income?Virtual items - most likely.

Attention - for sure.

Money - rare, but depends on your audience.

A fun time - you're gaming, what did you expect?

Recruitements? Facebook account - good looking, many friends and regular posting/activity.

Picture pack - young and attractive girls. Asian is very recommended.

Fluent in the English language - capable of writing good English.

Extra'sMicrophone - requires good English and voice manipulation software.

Good looking game account - such as statistics, rank, level, etc.

Knowing "How to talk like a girl." and be one - virtually ofcourse.

On which games will this specific method work the best?League of Legends - gifts, Riot Points, potential elo-boosting, friends & fun.

RuneScape - virtual items, RS gold & a good time.

Any big game with in-game items with monetary value - I'm taking suggestions via posting a reply.

If you have setup everything above (or atleast most of it) you are ready to get started.

ExplanationGeneral

To join groups of __game_ and have a good audience.

No need to explain, but both targeted and global audience are very good.

Nobody wants to play with a girl that doesn't speak decent English.

Extra's

Great to manipulate people, makes you look both more serious and real overall.

Looks like you spend a lot of time to the game, and who wants to play with a noobie?

Refer to point 1.

In text-form

First you want to join some Facebook groups with a lot of members relating to the game you play. I'll be using the game League of Legends as example.

You want to make a post containing a greeting (using your group name is a good-to-go) your rank, what game mode you want to play, how many people you are looking for.

Here is a solid example:

Code Hi my fellow Porro's!

Gold V looking to play some norms with some of you guys, my IGN: yourusername hoping to have some fun time with you guys!

[include a picture of yourself]

- let's say "League of Porro's" is the groupname.

You want to create a seperate buddy-list in LoL including as much as people from those groups. Organization is key. Try to play with as many people as you can and chat with them, but do not look like a hoe - a big no-go. People should feel special when talking with you, and feel good. Targeted audience is very good with this, but the chance on wasting your time will be bigger.

What could be done (but not recommended) is scamming members from the group with a gift-for-gift exchange, or just try to leach money, skins or RP from them.

What is the most important thing? Well, it's that they know you are REAL, as in existant, not a catfish. Reffering him to Snapchat, KiK, etc. to convience him/her would be good too but will not be covered in this guide.

But how do I act like a girl? What I would say is analyzing a girl's behaviour, but would take some time, and since you don't talk a lot in the game itself I will give you a list of smilies, terms, etc. what girls mostly use.

- usage of perfect grammar and spelling is not recommended, keep the message short. Be very kind (do not flame others), attractive, funny and everything else that is elegant such as motivating your team.

Be active on general gaming communities and boards such as Reddit, even if you're a guest. It's a big + since you're up-to-date to updates, news, funny videos, and more.

I hope you enjoyed this guide, have fun and enjoy.

I'm in no way affiliated for your actions, this is a guide for educational purposes and shows the concept of this threat making it possible to protect yourself from it.

Thanks for sharing. This is a great method. You can also use this method to rat, botnet etc.

As I said, this method can be used in any possible way you would like.

103 views but no single post, yeah. Shouldn't of expected more from leechers.
