Alright so I ratted someone who was win8...at first it gave her a message about windows 8 smart filter or something like that and she clicked on run anyways and I had her as a slave for about 20 minutes or so then she disappeared(she may have turned her laptop off) will I receive her as a slave when she turns her computer on?

yes I did put stratup settings on crypter and I moved it on stratup folder on windows 8 also.. she is online on her computer but I cant see her as a slave..what could go wrong?
she didnt have an antivirus or something and my server was fud.

edit:btw when I had her as a slaved she disconnected every 30 secs or so so it may be a connection problem.

Often stub gets detected after reboot so be aware of that,

She might have turned off her PC or WinDefender detected your stub.

Smartscreen can pick up a lot of stuff, but if its crypted good, it should start-up with her computer fine as long as you ticked "add to start-up" in settings.
