Thread: An amazing user just bought me L33T :D

Burakku Kenshi - September 11, 2015, 9:38 pm

I have wanted to upgrade ever since I joined this forum but i'm not exactly doing so great with money so I have been entering a lot of contests and have been trying to win a L33T upgrade but I never win although I never really get my hopes up because a lot of people do enter those contests. Well I just out of the blue got a PM from someone telling me that they upgraded me and it just put the biggest smile on my face. It honestly made me so happy. The user that upgraded me is Velocity™. I honestly never thought that someone would just randomly upgraded me. It makes me really happy to know that there are amazing people like him on this site. I've said it quite a few times already but i'll say it again :P Thank You!

I'm hoping to get accepted for Ub3r, really want to have that blue name. I can see that upgraded members are usually much more trusted than regular members and I really want to make it to Ub3r and possibly get 3pic. I just want to be as trusted as possible so people don't hesitate to deal with me or use whatever software I happen to download.
